Northrop Frye's Writings on the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries Northrop Frye, 2005-01-01 Highlighting aspects of his scholarship seldom given sufficient emphasis this new volume of the Collected Works of Northrop Frye documents Frye's writings on the literature of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries apart from those on William Blake which are featured in other volumes The volume includes Frye's seminal 1956 essay Towards Defining an Age of Sensibility and the highly influential 1968 book A Study of English Romanticism With these pieces and the other published and unpublished works contained in the volume Frye changed the way the transition from the major Augustan figures to the Romantics was viewed These works are a central part of Frye's long and radical rethinking of the relation of romance and Romanticism and through them he emerges as a meticulous textual critic teasing out the fine brushstroke effects in writers as varied as Boswell and Beddoes Dickens and Dickinson Imre Salusinszky's introduction and annotation illuminates Frye's writing and guides the reader along the path of Frye's five decade development of thought on Romanticism This volume is an invaluable contribution to studies on Frye as well as to Romantic and Victorian literature Collected Works of Northrop Frye: Northrop Frye's writings on the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Northrop Frye, 1996 Collected Works of Northrop Frye: Northrop Frye's writings on the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Northrop Frye, 1996

Collected Works of Northrop Frye: Northrop Frye's writings on the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Northrop Frye, 1996 The Northrop Frye Quote Book Northrop Frye, 2014-02-24 Here is a specialized dictionary of quotations based on the thoughts and writings of a single person It is evidence that there is a Canadian writer of whom it may be said that we as his readers can grow up inside his work without ever being aware of a circumference Northrop Frye's Uncollected Prose Northrop Frye, 2015-05-07 Northrop Frye's Uncollected Prose which features twenty one pieces in the form of notes prefaces reviews and talks is the latest addition to the impressive body of writing by and about Frye Among the highlights of the collection are Frye's Notes on Romance written in preparation for the lectures that eventually became The Secular Scripture a newly discovered early notebook parts of which may date from his second year as an undergraduate at Victoria College and a pair of previously unavailable interviews Expertly introduced by Robert D Denham one of the leading editors of Frye's papers Northrop Frye's Uncollected Prose offers valuable insight into Frye's early life his research methodology and thought process and is further proof of the remarkable depth and range of his work The Reception of Northrop Frye, 2021-08-31 The widespread opinion is that Northrop Frye's influence reached its zenith in the 1960s and 1970s after which point he became obsolete his work buried in obscurity This almost universal opinion is summed up in Terry Eagleton's 1983 rhetorical question Who now reads Frye In The Reception of Northrop Frye Robert D Denham catalogues what has been written about Frye books articles translations dissertations and theses and reviews in order to demonstrate that the attention Frye's work has received from the beginning has progressed at a geomantic rate Denham also explores what we can discover once we have a fairly complete record of Frye's reception in front of us such as Hayden White's theory of emplotments applied to historical writing and Byron Alm's theory of musical narrative The sheer quantity of what has been written about Frye reveals that the only valid response to Eagleton's rhetorical question is a very large and growing number the growth being not incremental but exponential

Shakespeare and the World of "Slings & Arrows"

Gary Kuchar, 2024-10-15 Slings Arrows starring Susan Coyne Paul Gross Don McKellar and Mark McKinney as members of the New Burbage Theatre Festival was heralded by television critics as one of the best shows ever produced and one of the finest depictions of life in classical theatre Shakespeare scholars however have been ambivalent about the series at times even hostile In Shakespeare and the World of Slings Arrows Gary Kuchar situates the three season series in its cultural and intellectual contexts More than a roman clef about Canada's Stratford Festival he shows it is a privileged window onto major debates within Shakespeare studies and a drama that raises vital questions about the role of the arts in society Kuchar reads the television show ever fluctuating between faith and doubt in the power of drama as an allegory of Peter Brook's widely renowned account of modern theatre The Empty Space mirroring Brook's distinction between holy theatre a quasi sacred vocation and deadly theatre a momentary entertainment Combining contextualized interpretations of the series with subtle formalist readings Kuchar explains how Slings Arrows participates in a broader recuperation of humanist approaches to Shakespeare in contemporary scholarship The result is a demonstration of how and why Shakespeare continues to provide not just entertainment but equipment for living

Sonata Fragments

Andrew Davis, 2017-08-21 An effort to expand sonata theory more solidly into the nineteenth century repertoire Notes In Sonata Fragments Andrew Davis argues that the Romantic sonata is firmly rooted both formally and expressively in its Classical forebears using Classical conventions in order to convey a broad constellation of Romantic aesthetic values This claim runs contrary to conventional theories of the Romantic sonata that place this nineteenth century musical form squarely outside inherited Classical sonata procedures Building on Sonata Theory Davis examines moments of fracture and fragmentation that disrupt the cohesive and linear temporality in piano sonatas by Chopin Brahms and Schumann These disruptions in the sonata form are a narrative technique that signify temporal shifts during which we move from the outer action to the inner thoughts of a musical agent or we move from the story as it unfolds to a flashback or flash forward Through an interpretation of Romantic sonatas as temporally multi dimensional works in which portions of the music in any given piece can lie inside or outside of what Sonata Theory would define as the sonata space proper Davis reads into these ruptures a narrative of expressive features that mark these sonatas as uniquely Romantic A major achievement Michael L Klein author of Music and the Crises of the Modern Subject

Born Yesterday Stephanie Insley Hershinow, 2020-08-04 The early novel was not the coming of age story we know today eighteenth century adolescent protagonists remained in a constant state of arrested development never truly maturing Between the emergence of the realist novel in the early eighteenth century and the novel's subsequent alignment with self improvement a century later lies a significant moment when novelistic characters were unlikely to mature in any meaningful way That adolescent protagonists poised on the cusp of adulthood resisted a headlong tumble into maturity through the workings of plot reveals a curious literary and philosophical counter tradition in the history of the novel Stephanie Insley Hershinow's Born Yesterday shows how the archetype of the early realist novice reveals literary character tout court Through new readings of canonical novels by Samuel Richardson Henry Fielding Horace Walpole Ann Radcliffe Frances Burney and Jane Austen Hershinow severs the too easy tie between novelistic form and character formation a conflation she argues of Bild with Bildung A pop culture infused epilogue illustrates the influence of the eighteenth century novice as embodied by Austen's Emma in the 1995 film Clueless as well as in dystopian YA works like The Hunger Games Drawing on bold close readings Born Yesterday alters the landscape of literary historical eighteenth century studies and challenges some of novel theory's most well worn assumptions

Northrop Frye David Rampton, 2010-10-27 More than fifty years after the publication of Anatomy of Criticism Northrop Frye remains one of Canada's most influential intellectuals This reappraisal reasserts the relevance of his work to the study of literature and illuminates its fruitful intersection with a variety of other fields including film cultural studies linguistics and feminism Many of the contributors draw upon the early essays correspondence and diaries recently published as part of the Collected Works of Northrop Frye series in order to explore the development of his extraordinary intellectual range and the implications of his imaginative syntheses They refute postmodernist arguments that Frye's literary criticism is obsolete and propose his wide ranging and non linear ways of thinking as a model for twenty first century readers searching for innovative ways of understanding literature and its relevance to contiguous disciplines The volume provides an in depth examination of Frye's work on a range of literary questions periods and genres as well as a consideration of his contributions to literary theory philosophy and theology The portrait that emerges is that of a writer who still has much to offer those interested in literature and the ways it represents and transforms our world The book's overall argument is that Frye's case for the centrality of the imagination has never been more important where understanding history reconciling science and culture or reconceptualizing social change is concerned

Literary Community-Making Roger D. Sell, 2012-06-12 The writing and reading of so called literary texts can be seen as processes which are genuinely communicational They lead that is to say to the growth of communities within which individuals acknowledge not only each other's similarities but differences as well. In this new book Roger D. Sell and his colleagues apply the communicational perspective to the past four centuries of literary activity in English. Paying detailed attention to texts both canonical and non-canonical by Amelia Lanyer, Thomas Coryate, John Boyle, Pope, Coleridge, Arnold, Kipling, William Plomer, Auden, Walter Macken, Robert Kroetsch, Rudy Wiebe, and Lyn Hejinian, the book shows how the communicational issues of addressivity, commonality, dialogicality, and ethics have arisen in widely different historical contexts. At a metascholarly level, it suggests that the communicational criticism of literary texts has significant cultural, social, and political roles to play in the post-postmodern era of rampant globalization. Anteros Craig E. Stephenson, 2019-08-08 Anteros: A Forgotten Myth explores how the myth of Anteros disappears and reappears throughout the centuries from classical Athens to the present day and looks at how the myth challenges the work of Freud, Lacan, and Jung among others. It examines the successive cultural experiences that formed and inform the myth and also how the myth sheds light on individual human experience and the psychoanalytic process. Topics of discussion include Anteros in the Italian Renaissance, the French Enlightenment, and English Modernism; psychologizing Anteros; Freud, Lacan, Girard, and Jung; three anterototic moments in a consulting room. This book presents an important argument at the boundaries of the disciplines of analytical psychology, psychoanalysis, art history, and mythology. It will therefore be essential reading for all analytical psychologists and psychoanalysts as well as art historians and those with an interest in the meeting of psychoanalytic thought and mythology. Northrop Frye and Others Robert D. Denham, 2015-08-20 Eminent Northrop Frye scholar Robert D. Denham explores the connection between Frye and twelve writers who influenced his thinking but about whom he didn't write anything expansive. Denham draws especially on Frye's notebooks and other previously unpublished texts now available in the Collected Works of Frye. Such varied thinkers as Aristotle, Lewis Carroll, Søren Kierkegaard, and Paul Tillich emerge as important figures in defining Frye's cross-disciplinary interests. Eventually the twelve Others of the title come to represent a space occupied by writers whose interests paralleled Frye's and helped to establish his own critical universe. Sexuality and the Gothic Magic Lantern D. Jones, 2014-02-19 This fascinating study explores the multifarious erotic themes associated with the magic lantern, which proved the dominant visual medium of the West for 350 years, and analyses how the shows influenced the portrayals of sexuality in major works of Gothic fiction. Backgazing: Reverse Time in Modernist Culture Paul Giles, 2019-02-14 This volume traces ways in which time is represented in reverse forms throughout modernist culture from the beginning of the twentieth century until the decade after World War II. Though modernism is often associated with revolutionary or futurist directions, this book argues instead that a retrograde dimension is embedded within it. By juxtaposing the literature of Europe and North America with that of Australia and New Zealand, it suggests how this antipodean context serves to defamiliarize and reconceptualize normative modernist understandings of temporal progression. Backgazing thus moves beyond the treatment of a specific geographical periphery as another margin on the expanding field.

of New Modernist Studies Instead it offers a systematic investigation of the transformative effect of retrograde dimensions on our understanding of canonical modernist texts The title backgazing is taken from Australian poet Robert G Fitzgerald's 1938 poem Essay on Memory and it epitomizes how the cultural history of modernism can be restructured according to a radically different discursive map Backgazing intellectually reconfigures US and European modernism within a planetary orbit in which the literature of Australia and the Southern Hemisphere far from being merely an annexed margin can be seen substantively to change the directional compass of modernism more generally By reading canonical modernists such as James Joyce and T S Eliot alongside marginalized writers such as Nancy Cunard and others and relatively neglected authors from Australia and New Zealand this book offers a revisionist cultural history of modernist time one framed by a recognition of how its measurement is modulated across geographical space

The Palgrave Handbook of Holocaust Literature and Culture Victoria Aarons, Phyllis Lassner, 2020-01-24 The Palgrave Handbook of Holocaust Literature and Culture reflects current approaches to Holocaust literature that open up future thinking on Holocaust representation The chapters consider diverse generational perspectives survivor writing second and third generation and genres memoirs poetry novels graphic narratives films video testimonies and other forms of literary and cultural expression In turn these perspectives create interactions among generations genres temporalities and cultural contexts The volume also participates in the ongoing project of responding to and talking through moments of rupture and incompleteness that represent an opportunity to contribute to the making of meaning through the continuation of narratives of the past As such the chapters in this volume pose options for reading Holocaust texts offering openings for further discussion and exploration The inquiring body of interpretive scholarship responding to the Shoah becomes itself a story a narrative that materially extends our inquiry into that history

The Productions of Time Michael Dolzani, 2021-02-18 Myth criticism flourished in the mid twentieth century under the powerful influence of Canadian thinker Northrop Frye It asserted the need to identify common unifying patterns in literature arts and religion Although it was eclipsed by postmodern theories that asserted difference and conflict those theories proved incapable of inspiring solidarity or guiding social action The Productions of Time argues for a return to myth criticism in order to refine and extend its vision With the aim of rehabilitating myth criticism for our time Michael Dolzani sketches an anatomy of the imagination as demonstrated in the total body of its productions including literature mythology the arts popular culture and religious and political texts Dolzani situates a vast panoply of images character types plot structures themes and genres to better understand their purposes their recurrences across broad spans of history and their interrelations Illustrating the relationship between mythology and history The Productions of Time proposes a symbolic language as a way of enabling dialogue across ideological and individual differences Arguing for the ethical and intellectual necessity of conceiving a unifying pattern that transcends differences The Productions of Time demonstrates that imagination is part of the human inheritance common to all not just to poets and mystics

On Psychological and Visionary Art C. G.

Jung, 2025-07-22 The first English translation of Jung's landmark lecture on Nerval's hallucinatory memoir In 1945 at the end of the Second World War and after a long illness C G Jung delivered a lecture in Zurich on the French Romantic poet Gérard de Nerval. The lecture focused on Nerval's visionary memoir Aurélia which the poet wrote in an ambivalent attempt to emerge from madness. Published here for the first time Jung's lecture is both a cautionary psychological tale and a validation of Nerval's visionary experience as a genuine encounter. Nerval explored the irrational with lucidity and exquisite craft. He privileged the subjective imagination as a way of fathoming the divine to reconnect with what the Romantics called the life principle. During the years of his greatest creativity he suffered from madness and was institutionalized eight times. Contrasting an orthodox psychoanalytic interpretation with his own synthetic approach to the unconscious Jung explains why Nerval was unable to make use of his visionary experiences in his own life. At the same time Jung emphasizes the validity of Nerval's visions differentiating the psychology of a work of art from the psychology of the artist. The lecture suggests how Jung's own experiments with active imagination influenced his reading of Nerval's Aurélia as a parallel text to his own Red Book. With Craig Stephenson's authoritative introduction Richard Sieburth's award winning translation of Aurélia and Alfred Kubin's haunting illustrations to the text and featuring Jung's reading marginalia preliminary notes and revisions to a 1942 lecture On Psychological and Visionary Art documents the stages of Jung's creative process as he responds to an essential Romantic text.
