A Literary Anthology for Student Teachers Dhia Aljoubouri, Hisham AlShammari, 2013-04-17 Literature is arouse by the new learning which was the inspiration of great prose poetry and drama Many of the Elizabethans were fascinated by idealsthey wanted to know how to be perfect courtier or gentleman or governor Most Elizabethan poems picture nature and human beings in a graceful and idealized manner Surely the Elizabethan believed in perfection when Shakespeare could write that if he is mistaken in thinking that the true love is unchanging then I never writ nor no man ever loved The Englishmen of the Renaissance were in love with human beauty which they considered the outward sign of mans spirit striving for perfection For the English were not content to write about perfection they tried to achieve it in their lives Yet Sir Thomas Wyatt brought the sonnet from Italy and the Earl of Surry for the first time used blank verse which has been a standard English meter ever since Furthermore lyric or singing poetry was developed for England was becoming a nation of musician and singers The lighter side of literature and life in seventeenth century is reflected in the lyrics of the Cavalier poets In Blakes poetry we find the traits and attitudes that mark the change from classicism to romanticism These have already been pointed out briefly as

- 1 a study and plainly expressed belief in the brotherhood of man
- 2 a deep sympathy with humble lives human and animal alike
- 3 a sense of independent spirit of man and natural right to freedom

Such attitudes are evident on a grand scale in the American Revolution As a way of thinking and as an approach to literature Romanticism is associated with vitality powerful emotion limitless and dreamlike ideas The mood of Romanticism prepared the country for a literary outburst Wordsworth and Coleridge opened new subjects for poetry Byron Shelley and Keats produced poetry excelling in lyric beauty Following World War I some of the energy and inventiveness in modern drama seemed to leave England as it entered America

Gender, Sexuality, and Material Objects in English Renaissance Verse Pamela S. Hammons, 2016-12-05 An important contribution to recent critical discussions about gender sexuality and material culture in Renaissance England this study analyzes female and male authored lyrics to illuminate how gender and sexuality inflected sixteenth and seventeenth century poets conceptualization of relations among people and things human and non human subjects and objects Pamela S Hammons examines lyrics from both manuscript and print collections including the verse of authors ranging from Robert Herrick John Donne and Ben Jonson to Margaret Cavendish Lucy Hutchinson and Aemilia Lanyer and situates them in relation to legal theories autobiographies biographies plays and epics Her approach fills a crucial gap in the conversation which has focused upon drama and male authored works by foregrounding the significance of the lyric and women's writing Hammons exposes the poetic strategies sixteenth and seventeenth century English women used to assert themselves as subjects of property and economic agents in relation to material items ranging from personal property to real estate despite the dominant patriarchal ideology insisting they were ideally temporary passive vehicles for men's wealth. The study details how women imagined their multiple complex interactions with the material world; the author shows that how a woman poet represents herself in relation to material objects is a flexible fiction she can mobilize for diverse purposes. Because this book analyzes men's and women's poems together, it isolates important gendered differences in how the poets envision human subjects, use, control, possession, and ownership of things, and the influences, effects, and power of things over humans. It also adds to the increasing evidence for the pervasiveness of patriarchal anxieties associated with female economic agency in a culture in which women were often treated as objects.      The Norton Anthology of English Literature, 1975
