Norwich Through the Ages James Wentworth Day, 1976 Norwich Elsie McCutcheon, 1989-12-01 , Global Design History Glenn Adamson, Giorgio Riello, Sarah Teasley, 2011-03-15 Globalism is often discussed using abstract terms such as networks or flows and usually in relation to recent history Global Design History moves us past this limited view of globalism broadening our sense of this key term in history and theory Individual chapters focus our attention on objects and the stories they can tell us about cultural interactions on a global scale They place these concrete things into contexts such as trade empire mediation and various forms of design practice Among the varied topics included are the global underpinnings of Renaissance material culture the trade of Indian cottons in the eighteenth century the Japanese tea ceremony as a case of import substitution German design in the context of empire handcrafted modernist furniture in Turkey Australian fashions employing ethnic motifs an experimental UK Ghanaian design partnership Chinese social networking websites the international circulation of contemporary architects Featuring work from leading design historians each chapter is paired with a response designed to expand the discussion and test the methodologies on offer An extensive bibliography and resource guide will also aid further research providing students with a user friendly model for approaches to global design Global Design History will be useful for upper level undergraduate and postgraduate students academics and researchers in design history and art history and related subjects such as anthropology craft studies and cultural geography

East Anglia's History Christopher Harper-Bill, Carole Rawcliffe, Richard George Wilson, 2002 East Anglia's political and economic importance in the middle ages is plain for all to see stemming initially from its crucial position on the eastern shores of the North Sea and its participation in the successive patterns of invasion and settlement of England Archaeological evidence abounds burial mounds castles great churches deriving from the wealth created by sheep yeoman farmhouses and market towns of eighteenth century elegance Behind these visible manifestations of the march of centuries lie particular histories and these seventeen studies from the region's best scholars reveal some of those jigsaw puzzles of time ranging from the Domesday herring industry by way of monasteries memorials wills Gainsborough and garden history to the growing passion for natural history and science in the mid nineteenth century They make a serious contribution to an understanding of the region and at the same time honour Norman Scarfe whose own studies have played a notable part in the interpretation of East Anglia's history Contributors JOHN BLATCHLY JAMES CAMPBELL CHRISTOPHER HARPER BILL CAROLE RAWCLIFFE DAVID DYMOND PETER NORTHEAST COLIN RICHMOND JUDITH MIDDLETON STEWART DIARMAID MacCULLOCH HASSELL SMITH TOM WILLIAMSON EDWARD MARTIN JONATHAN THEOBALD RICHARD WILSON HUGH BELSEY STEVEN PLUNKETT GEOFFREY MARTIN MICHAEL HOWARD Catalogue of English Literature, Poetic, Dramatic, Historic, Miscellaneous Bernard Quaritch, 1884 An Essay Towards a Topographical History of the County of Norfolk Francis Blomefield, 1769 History of Vermont Zadock Thompson, 1853 English Musicians in the Age of Exploration Ian Woodfield, 1995 When Drake set sail from Plymouth harbour on 15 November 1577 at the start of his epic circumnavigation of the world he had with him on board the Pelican four professional musicians and at least one trumpeter from the Introduction The three epoch making voyages of Columbus 1492 Vasco da Gama 1497 and Magellan 1519 inaugurated the Age of Exploration the most intensive era of discovery in the history of the world This book seeks to ascertain what part musicians played in the patterns of settlement which still determine many of the cultural and linguistic boundaries of the present day world The focus is on Englishmen but account will be taken of musicians representing the other leading colonial nations of Europe France Spain Portugal and Holland This study deals with the hundreds of musicians who left their native country to serve on long distance ships in the years between the accession of Elizabeth I and the end of the 17th century Among the many subjects covered are musical duties at sea musicians as ambassadors on land musical trinkets for barter musicians of the East India Company musical instruments presented by the trading companies trumpeters drum and fife players amateur musicians musicians in the colonization of North America and much more

Old Age in English History Pat Thane, 2000-05-11 At the end of the twentieth century more people are living into their seventies eighties nineties and beyond a process expected to continue well into the next millennium The twentieth century has achieved what people in other centuries only dreamed of many can now expect to survive to old age in reasonably good health and can remain active and independent to the end in contrast to the high death rate ill health and destitution which affected all ages in the past Yet this change is generally greeted not with triumph but with alarm It is assumed that the longer people live the longer they are ill and dependent thus burdening a shrinking younger generation with the cost of pensions and health care It is also widely believed that the past saw few survivors into old age and these could be supported by their families without involving the taxpayer In this first survey of old age throughout English history these assumptions are challenged Vivid pictures are given of the ways in which very large numbers of older people lived often vigorous and independent lives over many centuries The book argues that old people have always been highly visible in English communities and concludes that as people live longer due to the benefits of the rise in living standards far from being burdens they can be valuable contributors to their family and friends

History of Prominent Mercantile and Manufacturing Firms in the United States David Bigelow, 1857 Identity and Insurgency in the Late Middle Ages Linda Clark, 2006 The most crucial issues in current research are debated in the latest volume in the series The essays collected here provide fresh insight into a range of important topics across the period They discuss religion both orthodox as revealed by the lives of anchoresses living in Norwich and heretical as practised by lollards living in Coventry politics exploring the motivations of individuals seeking election to parliament and how the way Cade's Rebellion was recorded by contemporaries affected its subsequent perception law whether it may be deduced from manorial court rolls that lawyers were employed by peasants and an examination of the process of peace making in feuds on the Scottish border national ethnic and political identity in the British Isles social
