Nosebleeds From Washington Heights:

Nosebleeds from Washington Heights Gary Alexander Azerier, 2005-03-15 Nosebleeds from Washington Heights reveals a number of salient episodes that took place in Washington Heights between 1940 and 1958 Written as poignant short stories the tales are replete with what for many may be long forgotten people places and events For some it will be an unforgettable passport back into those lost years filled with the kind of detail and stuff of which memories are made which will jar and delight

Ten Golden Moments Gary Alexander Azerier, 2013-04 Ten Golden Moments chronicles the life of broadcast journalist Gary Alexander Azerier through the unique perspective of a series of extraordinary and unforgettable moments in his life Spanning the years from the 1940 s to 2012 these formidable episodes are not only replete with an up close view through a closed window of time but are recorded specifically to resonate with the reader culminating in the discovery of his or her own Golden Moments and passion for life

Shades Gary Alexander Azerier, 2016-12-30 Short story writer Gary Alexander Azerier has gathered this collection of tales and tidbits certain to delight and intrigue all the way from the chilling and uniquely spooky Shade and Cordovan to the gripping nostalgic tales of Bob Shepherd and the Little Man Stevens Window and Auld Acquaintance to the very funny but red alerts of Password and Security This singular anthology is for the discriminating reader who will also be privy to the authors exclusive Most Difficult Test in the World A must read Parting the Waters Taylor Branch, 2007-04-16 In Parting the Waters the first volume of his essential America in the King Years series Pulitzer Prize winner Taylor Branch gives a compelling masterfully told The Wall Street Journal account of Martin Luther King s early years and rise to greatness Hailed as the most masterful story ever told of the American Civil Rights Movement Parting the Waters is destined to endure for generations Moving from the fiery political baptism of Martin Luther King Jr to the corridors of Camelot where the Kennedy brothers weighed demands for justice against the deceptions of J Edgar Hoover here is a vivid tapestry of America torn and finally transformed by a revolutionary struggle unequalled since the Civil War Taylor Branch provides an unsurpassed portrait of King s rise to greatness and illuminates the stunning courage and private conflict the deals maneuvers betrayals and rivalries that determined history behind closed doors at boycotts and sit ins on bloody freedom rides and through siege and murder Epic in scope and impact Branch s chronicle definitively captures one of the nation s most crucial passages

Son of a Gun Randy Lordon, 2005-02 With no real clues to go on the police assume that the shooting was either completely random or the work of a criminal from Cannady s past looking for revenge But those theories get scrapped when Peggy receives a threatening call from a man claiming to be someone from her own past the now adult child she gave up for adoption after an unfortunate teen pregnancy His desire for revenge is terrifying even more so when he raises the stakes and targets her young daughter Lucy With only the thinnest of leads Sydney must somehow find a man about whom they know almost nothing and who has had a lifetime to cover what few tracks he might have left on any official records With one friend fighting for his life in the hospital another paralyzed by guilt and fear and her godchild at risk

Sydney's skills are put to their ultimate test BOOK JACKET LOOSE SCREWS Karen Templeton, 2012-08-15 In the space of a few hours thirty year old Ginger Petrocelli had gone from bride to be to bride who never was So here she sat alone in her cramped apartment wedding crinolines askew drowning her sorrows in a hundred dollar bottle of Veuve Cliquot when her doorbell rang And her trip to hell in a handbasket was about to escalate At the door Nick Ginger's first Only he's a police officer now and he wants to find out what she knows about her M I A congressman fiancé When was the last time she'd seen him She'd better not leave town And the spiral continues her cozy little subplot really she liked having her shower in the kitchen is about to be yanked away and the prestigious little design firm where she works is about to go belly up So what's a girl to do Her answer born of desperation move in with her crazy widowed mother who Ginger claims sucks the life force out of every creature within one city block of her and her grandmother who spends much of her day engaged in heated arguments with her dead husband Well it's a plan But bizarrely as the summer progresses her eccentric but lovable relatives give her the courage to make choices based on what she wants not what she wants to avoid New York Medical Journal, 1907 New York Medical Journal, and Philadelphia Medical Journal, 1907 International Record of Medicine and General Practice Clinics Frank Pierce Foster, 1907 Public Health Reports, 1966 Documents of the Assembly of the State of New York New York (State). The Curtain Call of Zeus Cary Briel, 2012 I began writing these poems as a distraction from the writing I've been doing in a longer book that's now twenty five years in the making But what began as a distraction soon became enjoyment and I found that I could hardly go a day without writing a poem Most of the poems I've included in this short book have allowed me to speak to a topic in the field of metaphysics without needing to explain which I've found to be wonderful considering that the longer book I've been writing attempts just the opposite Here however I leave it to you the reader to dissect my words if you will and hopefully find meaning in them that will relate in some way to your own meaningful and mystical experience in this life I sincerely hope that you enjoy the poems Becomings Johanna Kirk, 2024-06-04 This book explores postmodern choreographic engagements of pregnant bodies in the US over the last 70 years Johanna Kirk discusses how choreographers negotiate identification with the look of their pregnant bodies to maintain a sense of integrity as artists and to control representations of their gender and physical abilities while pregnant Across chapters the artists discussed include Anna Halprin Trisha Brown Twyla Tharp Sandy Jamrog Jane Comfort Jody Oberfelder Jawole Willa Jo Zollar Miguel Gutierrez Yanira Castro Noemie LaFrance and Meg Foley By presenting their bodies in performance these artists demonstrate how their experiences surrounding pregnancy intersect not only with their artform and its history but also with their personal experiences of race gender and sexual identification In these pages Johanna Kirk argues that choreography offers them tools that are alternative to medicine or other forms of social representation for understanding what how pregnant bodies do and feel and what they can mean for individuals and their communities The works within these chapters invite readers to see dancing bodies and pregnant bodies in new ways and for their potential to manifest new possibilities This study will be of great interest to students and scholars exploring dance theatre and performance race and gender
