Not For Gold Alone The Memoirs Of A Prospector:

Not for Gold Alone Franc Renault Joubin, Delmar McCormack Smyth, 1986 Boom Town Blues Anne-Marie Mawhiney, Jane Pitblado, 1999-09 Boom Town Blues Collapse and Revival in a Single Industry Community tells of the Northern Ontario city of Elliot Lake once the uranium capital of the world which was devastated by the closing of the uranium mines operated by Denison and Rio Algom The closures and mass layoffs were first announced in 1990 with the layoffs occurring from then until June 1996 Throughout the period after the layoffs were announced several major research projects were undertaken One the Elliot Lake Tracking and Adjustment Study follows approximately 1 000 of the laid off miners and 530 of their spouses through their adjustment processes Another the Seniors Needs Assessment examines the human resource and service needs of the increasing numbers of seniors moving to Elliot Lake as part of the community s economic strategy In addition to these social scientific studies several land and environmental reclamation research projects have been undertaken Boom Town Blues Collapse and Revival in a Single Industry Community tells the reader about the results of these studies and gives a variety of community based perspectives on the Elliot Lake story The book highlights the struggles and successes of families and of the community as a whole Boom Town Blues is about one community s struggle to survive to shift its economic base from mining to one where retirement living for seniors mine decommissioning and a community based research facility would be among several economic survival strategies The book is of interest to readers throughout Northern Ontario and indeed wherever single industry towns are threatened by major shifting in their economic base and are struggling to survive The book also provides an excellent case study for teachers students policy makers and politicians Windfall Tim Falconer, 2025-02-18 The fascinating scandalous and true story of Viola MacMillan and the Windfall mining scandal Viola MacMillan had it all success money and respect Influence even But in 1964 after three decades in the mining industry one of the most fascinating women in Canadian business history was the central character in one of the country s most famous stock scandals MacMillan who started out as a prospector in the 30s had developed lucrative mines and put together big deals But she still wanted a major discovery Early in July 1964 shares in Windfall Oil and Mines a company she and her husband controlled traded for around 56 cents Then one day the stock took off In the absence of any information from the company about what it had found near Timmins on its claims rumors and greed pushed the share price to a high of 5 70 MacMillan stayed quiet Finally after three weeks Windfall admitted it had nothing So many small investors lost money when the stock crashed that the Ontario government appointed a royal commission to examine what had happened which led to changes at the Ontario Securities Commission and the Toronto Stock Exchange Although MacMillan spent a few weeks in prison she later received a pardon and the Order of Canada Colonial Extractions Paula Butler, 2015-01-01 Draws on colonial postcolonial and critical race theory to examine the racialized distribution of power that underpins Canadian mining in several African countries and reveal a colonialist mindset that legitimizes extraction through neo liberal legal frameworks and a national myth of a humane enlightened global actor From the Ground Up Viola MacMillan, 2001 Viola MacMillan was a mining dynamo a legend in the testosterone driven wheeling dealing venture that is Canadian mining In this rags to riches autobiography MacMillan offers a passionate account of her life in the bush her rise to fame and the setbacks she endured along the way To put the story in context Virginia Heffernan provides a snapshot of the Canadian mining industry during MacMillan s heyday including the events that led to her jail sentence and eventual pardon

Canadian Books in Print , 1999 The Canadian Who's who , 2000 Aid and Ebb Tide David R. Morrison, North-South Institute (Ottawa, Ont.), 1998-10-05 An examination of Canada s mixed foreign aid record since 1950 Morrison political studies Trent U In Peterborough looks at the more than 50 billion in capital and expertise that has been transferred to developing countries through the Canadian Official Development Assistance ODA program in the last 50 years Numerous tables provide economic and political information about Canadian donations and where and how they went where they went He calls for a renewed and reformed Canadian commitment to development cooperation at a time when the gap between the world s richest and poorest has been widening and millions are still being born into poverty Canadian card order no C97 932446 7 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR B C Studies , 1989 CIM Bulletin Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, Canadian Institute of Mining, Metallurgy and Petroleum, 1992 Canadian Periodical Index , 1965 Bibliography and Index of Geology , 1992 Portrait of a Prospector Edward Schieffelin, 2017-11-09 Edward Ed Schieffelin 1847 1897 was the epitome of the American frontiersman A former Indian scout he discovered what would become known as the legendary Tombstone Arizona silver lode in 1877 His search for wealth followed a path well trod by thousands who journeyed west in the mid to late nineteenth century to try their luck in mining country But unlike typical prospectors who spent decades futilely panning for gold Schieffelin led an epic life of wealth and adventure In Portrait of a Prospector historian R Bruce Craig pieces together the colorful memoirs and oral histories of this singular individual to tell Schieffelin s story in his own words Craig places the prospector s family background and times into context in an engaging introduction then opens Schieffelin's story with the frontiersman's accounts of his first prospecting attempts at ten years old his flight from home at twelve to search for gold and his initial wanderings in California Nevada and Utah In direct unsentimental prose Schieffelin describes his expedition into Arizona Territory where army scouts assured him that he would find no rock but his own tombstone Unlike many prospectors who simply panned for gold Schieffelin took on wealthy partners who invested the enormous funds needed for hard rock mining He and his co investors in the Tombstone claim became millionaires Restless in his newfound life of wealth and leisure Schieffelin soon returned to exploration Upon his early death in Oregon he left behind a new strike the location of which remains a mystery Collecting the words of an exceptional figure who embodied the western frontier Craig offers readers insight into the mentality of prospector adventurers during an age of discovery and of limitless potential Portrait of a Prospector is highly recommended for undergraduate western history survey courses Memoirs, with a Full Account of the Great Malaria Problem and Its Solution Sir Ronald Ross, 1923
