New Indian Cinema in Post-Independence India Anuradha Needham, 2013-11-26 Shyam Benegal is an Indian director and screenwriter whose work is considered central to New Indian cinema By closely analysing several of Benegal s films this book provides an understanding of India s post independence history The book examines the filmmaker s focus on women by highlighting his subtle and critical engagement with a truism of Indian nationalism women's centrality to the nation state's negotiation with modernity It looks at the importance Benegal accords to history its little known contested or iconic events and figures in crafting national culture and identities and goes on to discuss the filmmaker's nuanced representation of the developmental agendas of the nation state The book presents an account of the relationship of historical film and fiction to official history and provides a fuller understanding of Indian cinema and how it is shaped by as well as itself shapes national imperatives Filling a gap in the literature the book offers an analysis of cinematic treatment of post independence narratives and gives important insights into the imagination of the time It is a useful contribution for students and scholars of Film Studies South Asian History and South Asian Culture Home

Truths: Fictions of the South Asian Diaspora in Britain Susheila Nasta, 2017-04-20 The figure of the diasporic or migrant writer has recently come to be seen as the Everyman of the late modern period a symbol of the global and the local a cultural traveller who can traverse the national political and ethnic boundaries of the new millennium Home Truths: Fictions of the South Asian Diaspora in Britain seeks not only to place the individual works of now world famous writers such as VS Naipaul Salman Rushdie Sam Selvon or Hanif Kureishi within a diverse tradition of immigrant writing that has evolved in Britain since the Second World War but also locates their work as well as many lesser known writers such as Attia Hosain GV Desani Aubrey Menen Ravinder Randhawa and Romesh Gunsekera within a historical cultural and aesthetic framework which has its roots prior to postwar migrations and derives from long established indigenous traditions as well as colonial and post colonial visions of home and abroad Close critical readings combine with a historical and theoretical overview in this first book to chart the crucial role played by writers of South Asian origin in the belated acceptance of a literary poetics of black and Asian writing in Britain today The Cambridge History of Twentieth-Century English Literature Laura

Marcus, Peter Nicholls, 2004 Publisher Description Tamil Cinema Selvaraj Velayutham, 2008-04-03 Hitherto the academic study of Indian cinema has focused primarily on Bollywood despite the fact that the Tamil film industry based in southern India has overtaken Bollywood in terms of annual output This book examines critically the cultural and cinematic representations in Tamil cinema It outlines its history and distinctive characteristics and proceeds to consider a number of important themes such as gender religion class caste fandom cinematic genre the politics of identity and diaspora Throughout the book cogently links the analysis to wider social political and cultural phenomena in Tamil and Indian society Overall it is an exciting and original contribution to an under studied field also facilitating a fresh consideration of the existing body of scholarship on Indian cinema Sport, Representation and Evolving Identities in Europe Philip

Dine, Seán Crosson, 2010 Sport annually mobilizes millions of people across Europe as practitioners in a wide variety of competitive educational or recreational contexts and as spectators who are physically present or following events through the mass media This book presents original research into modern sport funded by the Irish Research Council for the Humanities and Social Sciences Its aim is to examine the distinctive contribution made by this complex phenomenon to the construction of European identities Attention is focused on sport's social significance as a set of mass mediated practices and spectacles giving rise to a network of images symbols and discourses The book seeks to explore and ultimately to explain the processes of representation and mediation involved in the sporting construction and subsequent renegotiation of local national and increasingly global identities It offers a survey of key developments in sporting Europe from the mid nineteenth century to the present and from the Atlantic to the Urals presenting findings by acknowledged international experts and emerging scholars at the level of individuals communities regions nation states and Europe as a whole in both its geographical and political incarnations Its focus on representation offers a broadly conceived and consciously inclusive approach to issues of Europeaness in modern and contemporary sport Being Maori in the City Natacha

Gagné,2013-01-21 Indigenous peoples around the world have been involved in struggles for decolonization self determination and recognition of their rights and the M ori of Aotearoa New Zealand are no exception Now that nearly 85% of the M ori population have their main place of residence in urban centres cities have become important sites of affirmation and struggle Grounded in an ethnography of everyday life in the city of Auckland Being Maori in the City is an investigation of what being M ori means today One of the first ethnographic studies of M ori urbanization since the 1970s this book is based on almost two years of fieldwork living with M ori families and more than 250 hours of interviews In contrast with studies that have focused on indigenous elites and official groups and organizations Being M ori in the City shines a light on the lives of ordinary individuals and families Using this approach Natacha Gagné adroitly underlines how indigenous ways of being are maintained and even strengthened through change and openness to the larger society Pacifist Invasions Yasser

Elhariry,2017 Pacifist Invasions is about what happens to the contemporary French lyric in the translingual Arabic context Drawing on lyric theory comparative poetics and linguistics it reveals three generic modes of translating Arabic poetics into French in works by Habib Tengour Algeria Edmond Jabès Egypt Salah Stéti Lebanon Abdelwahab Meddeb Tunisia and Ryoko Sekiguchi Japan From language shift to language revitalization and sustainability Albert Bastardas-Boada,2019-11-25

This book aims to contribute to the overall integrated understanding of the processes of language contact and their evolution be they the result of political or economic dis integrations or migrations or for technological reasons Via an interdisciplinary holistic approach it also aims to support the theoretical grounding of a unified common sociolinguistic paradigm based on an ecological and complexity perspective This approach built on the fact that linguistic structures do not live in isolation from their social functions and must be situated in relation to the sub and supra systems that determine their existence if we are to understand their fortunes It is a useful contribution to understanding and promoting the processes of linguistic revitalization in the world combining at the same time the maintenance and development of diversity while ensuring the intercommunication of human species Out of Africa Pal Ahluwalia,2010-04-05 At the heart of this book is the argument that the fact that so many post structuralist French intellectuals have a strong colonial connection usually with Algeria cannot be a coincidence. The biographical fact that so many French intellectuals were born in or otherwise connected with French Algeria has often been noted but it has never been theorised. Ahluwalia makes a convincing case that post structuralism in fact has colonial and postcolonial roots. This is an important argument and one that connects two theoretical currents that continue to be of great interest: post structuralism and postcolonialism. The re-reading of what is now familiar material against the background of decolonial struggles demonstrates the extent to which it is this new condition that prompted theory to question long held assumptions inscribed in the European colonial enterprise. The wide ranging discussion ranging across authors as different as Foucault, Derrida, Fanon, Althusser, Cixous, Bourdieu and Lyotard enables the reader to make connections that have remained unnoticed or been neglected. It also brings back into view a history of struggles both political and theoretical that has shaped the landscape of critique in the social sciences and humanities. This clear and lucid discussion of important and often difficult thinkers will be widely read and widely debated by students and academics alike.
