Crossroad Discourses between Christianity and Culture, 2010-01-01 Christianity exists in relation to and interacts with its cultural environment in a number of ways In this volume authors from a wide variety of backgrounds explore various facets of the relationship and interaction of Christianity with its cultural environment politics society esthetics religion and spirituality and with itself Divided into three main sections Crossroad Discourses between Christianity and Culture looks at the interaction of Christianity with culture in the first section with other religions and spiritualities in the second and finally with itself in the third The contributions engage in a critical examination of not only the culture in which Christianity finds itself but also in a critical examination of Christianity itself and its interaction with that culture The editors hope that teachers students and readers in general will profit greatly from the critical articles contained in this book Religion and Extremism Douglas Pratt, 2017-12-14 Focusing on the three monotheistic religions of Judaism Christianity and Islam Douglas Pratt argues that despite a popular focus on Islam extremist Jews and Christians can also enact terror and destruction Religion and Extremism stresses that the ideological rejection of diversity underlies religious extremism resulting in violent behaviours and increasingly in hardening social and religious attitudes and responses An analysis of religiously driven terrorism reveals the presence of a distinctive and rigid form of exclusivity found in these religions In this regard the contemporary resurgence in totalising claims of fundamentalist ideologues is cause for particular concern Pratt reasons that however expressed the motif of the Absolute is central to all but how that absolute is and has been received interpreted and responded to is a matter of great diversity The author asserts that theological Absolutism displays an underlying dynamic whereby these three religions may be led into extremism Religion and Extremism also explores contemporary issues of Islamophobia and mutual extremism identified as reactive co radicalization and concludes by reflecting on how extremism today might be countered Ecumenism and Interreligious Dialogue Edward Idris Cassidy, 2005 This initial volume in the Rediscovering Vatican II series looks at the relationship between the Catholic Church and other Christian churches Unitatis Redintegratio Restoring Christian Unity and between the Catholic Church and other great religions Nostra Aetate the Declaration on Interreligious Dialogue BOOK JACKET Not Without My Neighbour S. Wesley Ariarajah, 1999 Meeting people of other faiths is an everyday experience not only for minority Christian communities in Asia and the Middle East but increasingly for Christians elsewhere Yet although interfaith dialogue has established itself as a key concern for the churches and the ecumenical movement it continues to raise spiritual social political practical and theological concerns in many quarters The insights in this book draw on the author's wide range of personal experiences as a child student and Methodist pastor in Sri Lanka as a participant in the controversial discussion of interfaith dialogue at the World Council of Churches fifth assembly Nairobi 1975 as a student of Hinduism and especially as a longtime staff member and director of the WCC's dialogue programme Weaving together accounts from daily life ecumenical texts and discussions and theological reflection this book offers a clear and challenging introduction to key issues that arise again and again when Christians and churches enter into conversation with their neighbours of other faiths among them interfaith prayer interfaith marriage religion and conflict and dialogue and mission      The Church and Other Faiths Douglas Pratt,2010 This book investigates the coming to be principal features and theological outcomes of interreligious dialogue as an activity of the World Council of Churches WCC and the Roman Catholic Church Vatican The embrace of dialogical engagement represents a dramatic departure from almost two millennia of hostile Christian regard toward other faiths The development of this phenomenon is outlined and explored with research focussed on the work of relevant offices of the WCC and the Vatican during the final four decades of the 20th century A principal task has been to construct a comparative narrative that provides the basis for a close analysis and assessment of policy and practice together with theological reflection and critique A hypothesis of three dimensions or theological moments that constitute a theology of dialogue has both informed and been tested by the undergirding research The conclusion suggests that the more inclusive term interfaith engagement today better encapsulates the ongoing field of concern action and theological reflection with respect to Christian relations to other religions and that a model of transcendental dialogue is now requisite for the future of this engagement      Faith and Philosophy of Christianity Maya George,2009      Fragrant Rivers of Wisdom A.
