and a fleeting display of political unity and federalism among the main Armenian Azerbaijani and Georgian political factions between 22 April 1918 when it declared its independence and 26 May 1918 when it was dissolved and replaced by the three nation states of Armenia Azerbaijan and Georgia Focusing on a crucial but poorly understood moment in the modern history of the Caucasus at the end of the First World War this book offers a systematic contextually rich and multi perspectival Armenian Azerbaijani Georgian Ottoman German British American Italian Bolshevik Ukrainian and North Caucasian account of the TDFR drawing on contributions with the new material from archives in Tbilisi Grozny Yerevan Baku Istanbul Berlin London Washington D C by a new generation of historians and scholars working on the region The book argues that despite its month long existence in this geopolitically volatile region the TDFR with and its federative nature and the various discussions about federalism and federation that it provoked continued to have an appeal for Georgians Azerbaijanis Armenians as well as for the Great Powers well beyond its dissolution Moreover the experience of the TDFR reifies federalism as a key political concept in the modern history of the Caucasus The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Caucasus Survey

Myth and Rhetoric of the Turkish Model Anita Sengupta, 2014-05-02 The volume discusses what the Turkish Model or Turkish Development Alternative was and why it was promoted in the Central Asian republics immediately following the dissolution of the Soviet Union It argues that the Turkish Model was a myth that transferred the ideal of a secular democratic liberal society as a model for the post Soviet Turkic world and in the process encouraged a Turkic rhetoric that emphasized connection between the two regions based on a common ancestry The volume begins with an understanding of the reality of the Model from a Turkish perspective and then goes on to examine whether the Turkic world as a cultural civilizational alternative makes sense both from a historical as well as contemporary perspective It concludes by looking at the re emergence of the Model in the wake of the events in West Asia in early 2011 and examines how in the light of a search for options the Turkish Model is once again projected as viable
