Pandora's Hope Essays On The Reality Of Science Studies:

Pandora's Hope Bruno Latour, 1999-06-30 A scientist friend asked Bruno Latour point blank Do you believe in reality Taken aback by this strange query Latour offers his meticulous response in Pandora's Hope It is a remarkable argument for understanding the reality of science in practical terms In this book Latour identified by Richard Rorty as the new b te noire of the science worshipers gives us his most philosophically informed book since Science in Action Through case studies of scientists in the Amazon analyzing soil and in Pasteur's lab studying the fermentation of lactic acid he shows us the myriad steps by which events in the material world are transformed into items of scientific knowledge Through many examples in the world of technology we see how the material and human worlds come together and are reciprocally transformed in this process Why Latour asks did the idea of an independent reality free of human interaction emerge in the first place His answer to this question harking back to the debates between Might and Right narrated by Plato points to the real stakes in the so called science wars the perplexed submission of ordinary people before the warring forces of claimants to the ultimate truth

Applying the Actor-Network Theory in Media Studies Spöhrer, Markus, Ochsner, Beate, 2016-08-24 Actor Network Theory ANT originally a social theory seeks to organize objects and non human entities into social networks Its most innovative claim approaches these networks outside the anthropocentric view including both humans and non human objects as active participants in a social context because of this the theory has applications in a myriad of domains not merely in the social sciences Applying the Actor Network Theory in Media Studies applies this novel approach to media studies This publication responds to the current trends in international media studies by presenting ANT as the new theoretical paradigm through which meaningful discussion and analysis of the media its production and its social and cultural effects Featuring both case studies and theoretical and methodical meditations this timely publication thoroughly considers the possibilities of these disparate yet divergent fields This book is intended for use by researchers students sociologists and media analysts concerned with contemporary media studies

Sensing Disaster Dr. Matthew Lauer, 2023-03-07 In 2007 a three story high tsunami slammed the small island of Simbo in the western Solomon Islands Drawing on over ten years of research Matthew Lauer provides a vivid and intimate account of this calamitous event and the tumultuous recovery process His stimulating analysis surveys the unpredictable entanglements of the powerful waves with colonization capitalism human animal communication spirit beings ancestral territory and technoscientific expertise that shaped the disaster's outcomes Although the Simbo people had never experienced another tsunami in their lifetimes nearly everyone fled to safety before the destructive waves hit To understand their astonishing response Lauer argues that we need to rethink popular and scholarly portrayals of Indigenous knowledge to avert epistemic imperialism and improve disaster preparedness strategies In an increasingly disaster prone era of ecological crises this provocative book brings new possibilities into view for understanding the causes and consequences of calamity the unintended effects of humanitarian recovery and mitigation efforts and the nature of local knowledge The Corporate Commonwealth Henry S. Turner, 2016-06-17 At a time when the standing and status of corporations is much in the news this study of the early modern history of the concept of the corporation is particularly timely Henry S Turner provides a new account of early modern political institutions and political concepts by turning to the history of the corporation as a type of notional person and as a way of organizing collective life Universities guilds towns and cities religious confraternities joint stock companies all were legal corporations and all enjoyed rights and freedoms that sometimes exceeded the authority of the State Drawing on the resources of economic and colonial history literary criticism law political philosophy and the history of science Turner reads works by Thomas More William Shakespeare Francis Bacon and Thomas Hobbes among many others to find the resources for a new account of corporations as fictional bodies and persons endowed with identities rights and the capacity for action Turner tackles a number of fascinating questions How did early modern writers make sense of the paradoxical essence of the corporational collectivity at once imaginary and material coherent but unbounded many and at the same time one And what can the history of the corporation tell us about the history of our own moment when public goods are increasingly privatized and citizens seek new models of association and meaningful political action His answers will be of compelling interest to historians political theorists literary scholars and others

Brainmedia Flora Lysen, 2022-07-28 Will we ever be able to see the brain at work Could it be possible to observe thinking and feeling as if watching a live broadcast from within the human head Brainmedia uncovers past and present examples of scientists and science educators who conceptualize and demonstrate the active human brain guided by new media technologies from exhibitions of giant illuminated brain models and staged projections of brainwave recordings to live televised brain broadcasts brains hooked up to computers and experiments with brain to brain synchronization Drawing on archival material Brainmedia outlines a new history of live brains arguing that practices of and ideas about mediation impacted the imagination of seeing the brain at work By combining accounts of scientists examining brains in laboratories with examples of public demonstrations and exhibitions of brain research Brainmedia casts new light on popularization practices placing them at the heart of scientific work

Truth Machine Michael Lynch, Simon A. Cole, Ruth McNally, Kathleen Jordan, 2010-02-15 DNA profiling commonly known as DNA fingerprinting is often heralded as unassailable criminal evidence a veritable truth machine that can overturn convictions based on eyewitness testimony confessions and other forms of forensic evidence But DNA evidence is far from infallible Truth Machine traces the controversial history of DNA fingerprinting by looking at court cases in the United States and United Kingdom beginning in the mid 1980s when the practice was invented and continuing until the present Ultimately Truth Machine presents compelling evidence of the obstacles and opportunities at the intersection of science technology sociology and law

Diary of a Detour Lesley Stern, 2020-08-10 Diary of a Detour is film scholar and author Lesley Stern's memoir of living with chronic lymphocytic leukemia She chronicles the fears and daily experience of coming to grips with an incurable form of cancer by describing the dramas and delving into the science Stern also nudges cancer off center stage by turning to alternative obsessions and pleasures In seductive writing she describes her life in the garden and kitchen the hospital and the library and her travels down the street to her meditation center across the border to Mexico and across the world to Australia Her immediate world is inhabited with books movies politics and medical reports that provoke essayistic reflections As her environment is shared with friends chickens a cat called Elvis mountain goats whales lions and microbes the book opens onto a larger than human world Intimate and meditative engrossing and singular Diary of a Detour offers new ideas about what it might mean to live and think with cancer and with chronic illness more broadly

Anthropocene Religion Michael Barnes Norton, 2025-02-28 Anthropocene Religion argues that addressing a future and present shaped by worldwide catastrophic climate change involves not only radically rethinking the ideas of nature and humanity's place within it inherited from Western modernity It also demands a reconceptualization of the nature and role of religion The advent of the Anthropocene simultaneously displaces the human from the centre of the world and erodes all sharp distinctions between the natural environment and the realm of human activity Similarly the Anthropocene renders untenable concepts of religion that rely on reference to realms beings or forces that wholly transcend nature It is however possible to understand both religion and its divine referents in worldly rather than transcendent terms just as it is possible to understand nature as dynamic and creative The Gaia hypothesis offers us a figure through which to approach these concepts in their interconnectedness

Biographies of Scientific Objects Lorraine Daston, 2000-06-15 Looks at how whole domains of phenomena come into being and sometimes pass away as objects of scientific study With examples from the natural and social sciences ranging from the 16th to the 20th centuries this book explores the ways in which scientific objects are both real and historical

What is Theory? Hervé Corvellec, 2013 There is no consensus in the social and cultural sciences on what theory is and that is as it should be A consensus would be outright dangerous for the diversity of intellectual life The perspectives represented in this volume show that theory can be understood as plot hope beholding doxa heritage a stalemate disappointment personal matter or family concept But even if theory can be defined in many ways it cannot be defined in any one way Beyond disciplinary and epistemological differences theory has the steadfast characteristic of being what academics work with More than an epistemological matter the book's title question is an entry into the dynamics of academic practice The book consists of a multidisciplinary collection of essays that are tied together by a common effort to tell what theory is These essays are also paired as dialogues between senior and junior researchers from the same or allied disciplines to add a trans generational dimension to the book's multidisciplinary approach What Is Theory has been designed for upper division and graduate students in the social sciences and the humanities but it will also be of interest to anyone who has felt that the question of what theory is can be more easily asked than answered Contents include Why Ask What Theory Is The History of the Concept of Theory History of Ideas at the End of Western Dominance Looking at Theory in Theory in Science Theory Has No Big Others in Science and Technology Studies What Social Science Theory Is and What It Is Not Theory as Hope Theory Crisis and the Necessity of Theory The Dilemmas of Sociology Theory as Disappointment Theory A Personal Matter Theory A Professional Matter Economic Theory A Critical Realist Perspective For Theoretical Pluralism in Economic Theory What Is Theory in Political Science For a New Vocabulary of Theory in Political Science Theorizing the Earth Spatial Theory as an Interdisciplinary Praxis This highly original lively and refreshing book is more than welcome it is needed the contributors insights passion and diversity fully restore the creative value of theorizing as a way to grasp understand and more importantly shape the world Franck Cochoy Professor of Sociology U of Toulouse

Science At Century's End Martin Carrier, Laura Ruetsche, Gerald J. Massey, 2014-08-09 To most laypersons and scientists science and progress appear to go hand in hand yet philosophers and historians of science have long questioned the inevitability of this pairing As we take leave of a century acclaimed for scientific advances and progress Science at Century's End the eighth volume of the Pittsburgh Konstanz Series in the Philosophy and History of Science takes the reader to the heart of this important matter Subtitled Philosophical Questions on the Progress and Limits of Science this timely volume contains twenty penetrating essays by prominent philosophers and historians who explore and debate the limits of scientific inquiry and their presumed consequences for science in the 21st century

does the work of influential theorist Bruno Latour offer a fresh angle on the practices and purposes of the humanities In recent years defenses of the humanities have tended to argue along predictable lines the humanities foster empathy the humanities encourage critical thinking the humanities offer a counterweight to the cold calculations of the natural and social sciences The essays in Latour and the Humanities take a different approach Exploring the relevance of theorist Bruno Latour's work they argue for attachments and entanglements between the humanities and the sciences while looking closely at the interests institutions and intellectual projects that shape the humanities within and beyond the university The collection which is written by a group of highly distinguished scholars from around the world is divided into two sections In the first part authors engage in depth with Latour's work while also rethinking the ties between the humanities and the sciences Essays argue for greater attention to the nonhuman world the urgency of climate change and more nuanced views of universities as institutions The second half of the volume contains essays that reflect on Latour's influence on the practices of specific disciplines including art the digital humanities film studies and political theory Inspiring conversation about the relevance of actor network theory for research and teaching in the humanities Latour and the Humanities offers a substantial introduction to Latour's work while discussing the humanities without falling back on the genres of either the sermon or the jeremiad This volume will be of interest to all those searching for fresh perspectives on the value and importance of humanistic disciplines and thought Contributors David J Alworth Anders Blok Claudia Breger Dipesh Chakrabarty Yves Citton Steven Connor Gerard de Vries Simon During Rita Felski Francis Halsall Graham Harman Antoine Hennion Casper Bruun Jensen Bruno Latour Heather Love Patrice Maniglier Stephen Muecke Barbara Herrnstein Smith Nigel Thrift Michael Witmore

Making-Up People: Youth, Truth and Politics Judith Bessant, 2020-12-30 This book is about modern politics and young people Judith Bessant revises some long standing myths about children and young people's politics She highlights the huge gap between the many ways young people and politics are talked about and how they have long been politically active Bessant draws on a relational historical sociology to show how since the nineteenth century certain historical dynamics political interests and social imaginaries have enabled social scientists writers political leaders and policymakers to imagine and make up different kinds of young people Given these representations of childhood adolescence and youth everyone knows that young people are cognitively immature inexperienced morally under developed and lack good judgement For these reasons they cannot possibly be allowed to engage in the serious grown up business of politics Yet in just one of the many contradictions young people are criticised by many of their elders for being politically apathetic and disengaged from politics Many think recent global warming movements largely led by quite young people are a novel phenomenon Yet young people have been at the forefront of political movements of all kinds since the French Revolution Since the 1960s children and young people increasingly played a major if sometimes obscured role in civil rights anti war anti globalisation anti austerity and global warming movements This accessible book is rich in theoretical and historical insight that is sure to appeal to sociologists historians youth studies scholars and political scientists as well as to the general reader The Literature of Exclusion Andrew C. Wenaus, 2021-05-05 In the early twentieth century the Dadaists protested against art nationalism the individual subject and technologized war With their automatic anti art and cultural disruptiveness Dadaists sought to signify no thing Today data also operates autonomously However rather than dismantling tradition data organizes selects combines quantifies and simplifies the complexity of actuality Like Dada data also signifies nothing While Dadaists protest with purpose data proceeds without intention The individual in the early twentieth century agonizes over the alienation from daily life and the fear of being converted into a cog in a machine Today however the individual in twenty first century supermodernity merges not with large industrial machinery but with the processual and procedural logic of programming with innocuous ease Both exclude human agency from self narration but to differing degrees of abstraction Examining the work of B R Yeager Samuel Beckett Jeff Noon Kenji Siratori Mike Bonsall Allison Parrish and narratives written by artificial intelligence Wenaus considers the threshold of sensible narration and the effects that the shift from a culture of language to a culture of digital code has on lived experience While data offers a closed system Dadaist literature of exclusion he suggests promises a future of open hyper contingent unprescribed alternatives for self narration South Korean civil movement organisations Amy Levine, 2016-12-08 This is a unique ethnographic study of the practical theoretical methodological ethical and social dimensions of some key non governmental organisations NGOs non profit organisations NPOs and think tanks in Seoul during Roh Moo Hyun s tumultuous presidency 2003 8 Entering the New Theological Space Christopher Richard Baker, John Reader, 2009 This book presents theological reflections on the changing nature of church mission and Christian identity within a theology of blurred encounter a physical social political and spiritual space where once solid hierarchies and patterns are giving way to more fluid and in many ways unsettling exchanges The issues raised and dynamics explored apply to all socially produced space thus tending to blur that most fundamental of theological categories namely urban vs rural theology Engaging in a sharper way with some of the helpful but inevitably broad brush conclusions raised by recent church based reports Mission shaped Church Faithful Cities the authors examine some of the practical and theological implications of this research for the issue of effective management and therefore church leadership generally Speaking to practitioners in the field of practical theology as well as those engaged in theological and ministerial training key voices encompass dimensions of power and conflict and identify some of the present and future opportunities and challenges to church faith based engagement and leadership arising from blurred encounters Contributors practitioners and theorists cover a wide spectrum of interdisciplinary professional contexts and academic denominational interests Contributors include John Atherton John Reader Helen Cameron Martyn Percy Malcolm Brown Karen Lord Clare McBeath and Margaret Goodall Assembling Culture Tony Bennett, Chris Healy, 2013-10-31 If the social does not exist as a special domain but in Bruno Latour s words as a peculiar movement of re association and reassembling

what implications does this have for how the cultural might best be conceived What new ways of thinking the relations between culture the economy and the social might be developed by pursuing such lines of inquiry And what are the implications for the relations between culture and politics Contributors draw on a range of theoretical perspectives including those associated with Deleuze and Guattari Foucault Law and Haraway in order to focus on the roles of different forms of expertise and knowledge in producing cultural assemblages What expertise is necessary to produce indigenous citizens How does craniometry assemble the head What kinds of knowledge were required to create markets for life insurance These and other questions are pursued in this collection through a challenging array of papers concerned with cultural assemblages as diverse as brands and populations bottled water and mobile television

Philosophy of Technology Robert C. Scharff, Val Dusek, 2013-12-02 The new edition of this authoritative introduction to the philosophy of technology includes recent developments in the subject while retaining the range and depth of its selection of seminal contributions and its much admired editorial commentary Remains the most comprehensive anthology on the philosophy of technology available Includes editors insightful section introductions and critical summaries for each selection Revised and updated to reflect the latest developments in the field Combines difficult to find seminal essays with a judicious selection of contemporary material Examines the relationship between technology and the understanding of the nature of science that underlies technology studies

Finance, Innovation and Geography Felix C. Müller, 2019-04-24 The overarching aim of Finance Innovation and Geography Harnessing Knowledge Dynamics in German Biotechnology is to explore linkages between geographies of finance and relational geographies of innovation This is achieved by questioning how investment activities affect the unfolding of innovations and in turn are affected by it This book focuses on biotechnology innovation processes from the perspective of relational economic geography It reconstructs the unfolding in time and space of eight innovations in German biotechnology Each one is represented in a qualitative case study The analysis focuses on the relational work of building transforming ending and replacing of collaborative relationships and organizational arrangements surrounding emergent innovations including investment relations and relational work by investors In this way the contribution of investors to unfolding innovations is studied with sensitivity to context and situated interactions The geography of these dynamics is conceptualized by drawing on the recent literature on relational proximity and distance as well as ideas of materiality and space This book provides a unique perspective and shows that innovation paths are strongly interwoven with local and temporary opportunities as well as crises and that investment is embedded in these dynamics This is essential reading for students and academics of both economics and innovation
