Affaires de Famille Marie-Claire Barnet, Edward Welch, 2007 What are families like in contemporary France And what begins to emerge when we consider them from the point of view of recent theoretical perspectives faulty cohesion fake coherence carefully planned or subversive deconstruction loss of love confidence or credibility or even utter chaos and alarming confusion Which media revamp old stereotypes generate alternative reinterpretations and imply more ambiguous answers Uneasy contradictions and ambiguities emerge in this bilingual collection of approaches and genre studies The family plot seems to thicken as family ties appear to loosen Has the family been lost from sight or is it being reinvented in our collective imaginary This book proposes a new series of perspectives and questions on an old and familiar topic exploring the state and status of the family in contemporary literature culture critical and psychoanalytic theory and sociology

Contemporary Mise en Scène Patrice Pavis, 2013-05-07 We have good reason to be wary of mise en scène but that is all the more reason to question this wariness it seems that images from a performance come back to haunt us as if to prolong and transform our experience as spectators as if to force us to rethink the event to return to our pleasure or our terror Patrice Pavis from the foreword Contemporary Mise en Scène is Patrice Pavis's masterful analysis of the role that staging has played in the creation and practice of theatre throughout history This stunningly ambitious study considers the staged reading at the frontiers of mise en scène scenography which sometimes replaces staging the reinterpretation of classical and contemporary works the development of intercultural theatre and ritual new technologies and their usage live on the stage the postmodern practice of deconstruction But it also applies sustained critical attention to the challenges of defining mise en scène of tracking its development and of exploring its possible futures Joel Anderson's powerful new translation lucidly realises Pavis's investigation of the changing possibilities for stagecraft in the context of performance art physical theatre and modern theory

French Theatre Today Edward Baron Turk, 2011-06-15 font face font family Times font face font family Palatino p MsoNormal li MsoNormal div MsoNormal margin 0in 0in 0 0001pt font size 12pt font family Times New Roman div Section1 page Section1 In 2005 literary and film critic Edward Turk immersed himself in New York City's ACT FRENCH festival a bold effort to enhance American contact with the contemporary French stage This dizzying crash course on numerous aspects of current French theatre paved the way for six months of theatregoing in Paris and a month's sojourn at the 2006 Avignon Festival In French Theatre Today he turns his yearlong involvement with this rich topic into an accessible intelligent and comprehensive overview of contemporary French theatre Situating many of the nearly 150 stage pieces he attended within contexts and timeframes that stretch backward and forward over a number of years he reveals French theatre during the first decade of the twenty first century to be remarkably vital inclined toward both innovation and concern for its audience and as open to international influence as it is respectful of national tradition French Theatre Today provides a seamless mix of critical analysis with lively description theoretical considerations with reflexive remarks by the

theatremakers themselves and matters of current French and American cultural politics In the first part New York Turk offers close ups of French theatre works singled out during the ACT FRENCH festival for their presumed attractiveness to American audiences and critics The second part Paris depicts a more expansive range of French theatre pieces as they play out on their own soil In the third part Avignon Turk captures the subject within a more fluid context that is most interestingly both eminently French and resolutely international The Paris and Avignon chapters contain valuable and well informed contextual and background information as well as descriptions of the milieus of the Avignon Festival and the various neighborhoods in Paris where he attended performances information that readers cannot find easily elsewhere Finally in the spirit of inclusiveness that characterizes so much new French theatre and to give a representative account of his own experiences as a spectator Turk rounds out his survey with observations on Paris s lively opera scene and France s wealth of circus entertainments both traditional and newly envisioned With his shrewd assessments of contemporary French theatre Turk conveys an excitement and an affection for his topic destined to arouse similar responses in his readers His book s freshness and openness will reward theatre enthusiasts who are curious about an aspect of French culture that is inadequately known in this country veteran scholars and students of contemporary world theatre and those American theatre professionals who have the ultimate authority and good fortune to determine which new French works will reach audie

Francophone Women Writers Eric Touya de Marenne, 2024-03-26 This anthology seeks to introduce women writers in the global Francophone world by investigating the place of feminist postcolonial and cross cultural theories in interpreting women francophone literature The book also allows the reader to examine the extent to which women writers reflect or negate the conventional archetypes of Francophone literature how they reinvent the political cultural and critical discourse of their time and place and create their own identity from objectification to subjectivity The ambition of this anthology is to explore these themes at a time when globalization is redefining the concepts of language identity space and history and transforming the rapport of each individual to the other While most research on the subject focus on specific countries or regions this volume offers a new critical introduction to Francophone women authors from a broad geographical range in North and West Africa the Near East the Pacific North America the Caribbean Islands and Europe Significantly this study assembles a broad and representative collection of texts written by women authors that will generate a fruitful and critical reflection among students and scholars The selected texts present critical issues that students and readers at large need to explore to further their knowledge of francophone literature and culture

Redefining the Real Margaret-Anne Hutton, 2009 What is the literary fantastic and how does it manifest itself in the texts of French and francophone women writers publishing at the close of the twentieth and start of the twenty first century What do we mean today when we talk of the real and realism These are just some of the questions addressed by the papers in this volume which derive from a conference entitled The Fantastic in Contemporary Women s Writing in French held in London in September 2007 This book sets out to refocus through a non realist lens on the works of high profile authors Darrieussecq Nothomb Germain Cixous and NDiaye and some of their less highly publicised contemporaries It analyses and mobilises a wide range of both gendered and non gendered practices and theories of the contemporary fantastic whilst critically interrogating both of the latter terms and their inter relation

Women Mobilizing Memory Ayşe Gül Altınay, María José Contreras, Marianne Hirsch, Jean Howard, Banu Karaca, Alisa Solomon, 2019-08-06 Women Mobilizing Memory a transnational exploration of the intersection of feminism history and memory shows how the recollection of violent histories can generate possibilities for progressive futures Questioning the politics of memory making in relation to experiences of vulnerability and violence this wide ranging collection asks How can memories of violence and its afterlives be mobilized for change What strategies can disrupt and counter public forgetting What role do the arts play in addressing the erasure of past violence from current memory and in creating new visions for future generations Women Mobilizing Memory emerges from a multiyear feminist collaboration bringing together an interdisciplinary group of scholars artists and activists from Chile Turkey and the United States The essays in this book assemble and discuss a deep archive of works that activate memory across a variety of protest cultures ranging from seemingly minor acts of defiance to broader resistance movements The memory practices it highlights constitute acts of repair that demand justice but do not aim at restitution They invite the creation of alternative histories that can reconfigure painful pasts and presents Giving voice to silenced memories and reclaiming collective memories that have been misrepresented in official narratives Women Mobilizing Memory offers an alternative to more monumental commemorative practices It models a new direction for memory studies and testifies to a continuing hope for an alternative future

The Routledge Handbook of the New African Diasporic Literature Lokangaka Losambe, Tanure Ojaide, 2024-05-16 The Routledge Handbook of the New African Diasporic

Literature introduces world literature readers to the transnational multivocal writings of immigrant African authors. Covering works produced in Europe, North America and elsewhere in the world, this book investigates three major aesthetic paradigms in African diasporic literature: the Sankofan wave (late 1960s–early 1990s), the Janusian wave (1990s–2020s), and the Offshoots of the New Arrivants (those born and growing up outside Africa). Written by well-established and emerging scholars of African and diasporic literatures from across the world, the chapters in the book cover the works of well-known and not so well-known Anglophone, Francophone and Lusophone writers from different theoretical positionalities and critical approaches, pointing out the unique innovative artistic qualities of this major subgenre of African literature. The focus on the diasporic consciousness of the writers and their works sets this handbook apart from others that solely emphasize migration, which is more of a process than the community of settled African people involved in the dynamic acts of living reflected in diasporic writings. This book will appeal to researchers and students from across the fields of Literature, Diaspora Studies, African Studies, Migration Studies and Postcolonial Studies.

Contemporary European Playwrights Maria M. Delgado, Bryce Lease, Dan Rebellato, 2020-07-22. Contemporary European Playwrights presents and discusses a range of key writers that have radically reshaped European theatre by finding new ways to express the changing nature of the continent's society and culture and whose work is still in dialogue with Europe today. Traversing borders and languages, this volume offers a fresh approach to analyzing plays in production by some of the most widely performed European playwrights, assessing how their work has revealed new meanings and theatrical possibilities as they move across the continent, building an unprecedented picture of the contemporary European repertoire. With chapters by leading scholars and contributions by the writers themselves, the chapters bring playwrights together to examine their work as part of a network and genealogy of writing, examining how these plays embody and interrogate the nature of contemporary Europe. Written for students and scholars of European theatre and playwriting, this book will leave the reader with an understanding of the shifting relationships between the subsidized and commercial, the alternative and the mainstream stage, and the political stakes of playmaking in European theatre since 1989.

Transmissions Isabelle Frances McNeill, Bradley Stephens, 2007. As a concept, transmission is crucial to our understanding of how ideas circulate within and across cultures. It opens up a series of questions that link to key debates concerning the exchange of knowledge. Bringing together research from a broad range of areas in French studies, this volume investigates the workings of transmission in relation to canonical and contemporary figures alike, including Proust, Barthes, Derrida, Jean-Luc Godard and Claire Denis. The essays collected here offer a lively response to the themes of transmission, considering literature and philosophy from the medieval period onwards, as well as modern cinema and critical theory. The first section traces concepts of malign transmission that have informed medieval, early modern and finally contemporary representations of contagion. The second section addresses the impact of trauma along with its imperative to testify to or transmit painful experiences such as rape and the Holocaust. The final section considers transmission in terms of a signal that carries a message as well as the media that transport or encode that signal

Contemporary French Women's Writing Shirley Ann Jordan, 2004 In the 1990s the French literary arena was enlivened by the emergence of a new generation of women writers This book selects six of its most distinctive voices and addresses important questions about the very new in French women's writing What are young women choosing to write about What do they tell us about changing perceptions of feminine identities What does it mean to write and to read as women at the start of the new millennium An introductory chapter explores key issues such as the woman writer in the public imagination and continuity and change within French women's writing since the 1970s It also highlights thematic threads which recur across the work of the authors studied history and time wandering and exile self and other the body and sexuality and writing and telling The remaining chapters propose productive approaches to the fictional worlds of Marie Darrieussecq Virginie Despentes Marie Ndiaye Agnès Desarthe Lorette Nobcourt and Amélie Nothomb through close readings of their most challenging popular or telling texts They focus on perennial preoccupations in women's writing which are given new treatment by these writers and discuss important developments such as uses of the pornographic myth and fairy tale and parody and irony in new women's writing

Transcultural Aesthetics in the Plays of Gao Xingjian T. Coulter, 2014-05-02 Gao Xingjian has been lauded for his inventive use of Chinese culture in his paintings plays and cinema however he denies that his current work participates in any notion of Chinese This book traces the development of these forms and how they relate and interact in the French language plays of the Nobel Laureate
