Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 2006-04 The Football Pools and the British Working Class Keith Laybourn, 2022-07-22 This book is the first national study of the football pools in Britain which examines the politics and culture of the gambling on the football pools It charts the rise of the football pools focusing upon its rapid growth from the 1920s and its prolonged decline in British culture from the 1990s partly as a result of the National Lottery The book explores how this new gambling activity became a significant leisure opportunity for the working class a way to feel that the individual skill of the punter could lead to the winning of some life changing jackpot cheque being presented by a sporting personality of celebrity Dominated by Littlewoods and other large commercial companies the weekly filling in of the coupons was considered to be a safe form of investment guaranteed by the integrity of the pool companies rather than some seedy gambling operation The Football Pools and the British Working Class looks at different elements of the football pools from what attracted people to this form of gambling to how the industry developed and adjusted to the suspension of the football fixtures in 1936 and the bad winter of 1962 3 Above all it examines the deep hostility that surrounded the filling in of the football pools arising from the National Anti Gambling League religious groups the football authorities and MPs This book will appeal to all those interested in the history of British football and 20th century British working class culture Water and Art David Clarke, 2012-01-01 Restless protean fluid evanescent despite being a challenge to represent visually water has gained a striking significance in the art of the twentieth century This may be due to the fact that it allows for a range of metaphorical meanings many of which are particularly appropriate to the modern age Water is not merely a subject of contemporary art but also a material increasingly used in art making giving it a distinct dual presence Water and Art probes the ways in which water has gained an unprecedented prominence in modern Western art and seeks to draw connections to its depiction in earlier art forms David Clarke looks across cultures finding parallels within contemporary Chinese art which draws on a cultural tradition in which water has an essential presence and is used as both a subject and a medium The book features a wealth of images by artists from East and West including Fu Baoshi Shi Tao Wei Zixi Fang Rending Leonardo da Vinci Bernini Turner Gericault Klee Matisse Monet Picasso Mondrian and Kandinsky Fast paced accessible and comprehensive Water and Art will appeal to the specialist and the general reader alike offering fresh perspectives on familiar artists as well as an introduction to others who are less well known Hearings United States. DB2 buffer pools are still a key resource for ensuring good performance. This has become increasingly important as the difference between processor speed and disk response time for a random access I/O widens in each new generation of processor. An IBM System z processor can be configured with large amounts of storage which if used wisely can help compensate by using storage to avoid synchronous I/O. Several changes in buffer pool management have been provided by DB2 10 and DB2 11. The purpose of this IBM Redpaper™ is to cover the following topics:

- Describe the functions of the DB2 11 buffer pools
- Introduce a number of matrixes for read and write performance of a buffer pool
- Provide information about how to set up and monitor the DB2 buffer pools

The paper is intended to be read by DB2 system administrators but it might be of interest to any IBM z/OS performance specialist. It is assumed that the reader is familiar with DB2 and performance tuning. In this paper we also assume that you are familiar with DB2 11 for z/OS performance. See DB2 11 for z/OS Technical Overview SG24-8180 and DB2 11 for z/OS Performance Topics SG24-8222 for more information about DB2 11 functions and their performance.
