Feminism & Autobiography Tess Coslett, Celia Lury, Penny Summerfield, 2002-01-04 Featuring essays by leading feminist scholars from a variety of disciplines this key text explores the latest developments in autobiographical studies The collection is structured around the inter linked concepts of genre inter subjectivity and memory Whilst exemplifying the very different levels of autobiographical activity going on in feminist studies the contributions chart a movement from autobiography as genre to autobiography as cultural practice and from the analysis of autobiographical texts to a preoccupation with autobiography as method Head and Heart Fraser Watts, Geoff Dumbreck, 2013-08-26 Theologians and religious figures often draw a distinction between religion of the head and religion of the heart but few stop to ask what the terms head and heart actually denote Many assume that this distinction has a scriptural basis and yet many Biblical authors used the word heart as a synonym for mind In fact there isn't a strict separation of the two concepts until the modern period as in Pascal's famous claim that the heart has its reasons that reason can not know Since then many other philosophers and theologians have made a similar distinction The fact that this distinction has been so persistent makes it an important area of study Head and Heart Perspectives from Religion and Psychology takes an interdisciplinary approach linking the thinking of theologians and philosophers with theory and research in present day psychology The tradition of using framing questions that have been developed in theology and philosophy can now be brought into dialogue with scientific approaches developed within cognitive psychology and neuroscience Though these scientific approaches have not generally used the terms head and heart they have arrived at a similar distinction in other ways There is a notable convergence upon the realization that humans have two modes of cognition at their disposal that correspond to head and heart The time is therefore ripe to bring the approaches of theology and science into dialogue an important dialogue that has been heretofore neglected Head and Heart draws on the unique expertise in relating theology and psychology of the University of Cambridge's Psychology and Religion Research Group PRRG In addition to providing historical and theoretical perspectives the contributors to this volume will also address practical issues arising from the group's applied work in deradicalisation and religious education Contributors include Geoff Dumbreck Nicholas J S Gibson Malcolm Guite Liz Gulliford Russell Re Manning Glendon L Moriarty Sally Myers Sara Savage Carissa A Sharp Fraser Watts Harris Wiseman and Bonnie Poon Zahl The World Is Charged Daniel Westover, William Wright, 2016-07-14 The World Is Charged Poetic Engagements with Gerard Manley Hopkins is the first book to demonstrate the centrality of Gerard Manley Hopkins as an influence among contemporary poets R. S. Thomas to Rowan Williams M. Wynn Thomas, 2022-11-15 This study places the internationally renowned poetry of two major figures R S Thomas and Rowan Williams in a new and illuminating context It demonstrates how theological convictions are embodied in the very form and texture of poems The book draws attention to a cultural phenomenon of European resonance because it runs counter to established secular practice in the UK in Western Europe and in the US A History of Twentieth-Century British Women's Poetry Jane Dowson, Alice Entwistle, 2005-05-19 Publisher Description Poetry, Geography, Gender Alice Entwistle, 2013-09-15 Poetry Geography Gender examines how questions of place identity and creative practice intersect in the work of some of Wales best known contemporary poets including Gillian Clarke Gwyneth Lewis Ruth Bidgood and Sheenagh Pugh Merging traditional literary criticism with cultural political and geographical analysis Alice Entwistle shows how writers different senses of relationship with Wales its languages history and imaginative as well as political geography feeds the form as well as the content of their poetry Her innovative critical study thus takes particular interest in the ways in which author text and territory help to inform and produce each other in the culturally complex and confident small nation that is twenty first century Wales

Beyond the Lyric Fiona Sampson, 2012-09-06 British poetry is enjoying a period of exceptional richness and variety This is exciting but it's also confusing and throws up the need for an enthusiastic guide that can explain and celebrate the many parallel poetry projects now underway Beyond the Lyric does just that This is a book of enthusiasms an intelligent and witty map of contemporary British poetry and a radical accessible guide to living British poets grouped for the first time according to the kind of poetry they write In a series of groundbreaking new classifications beginning with the bread and butter diction of the Plain Dealers and ending on the capacious generosity of the Exploded Lyric it examines the broad range of contemporary tendencies from the baroque swagger of the Dandies to the restrained elegance of the Oxford Elegists from the layered haunting verse of Mythopoesis to the inventive explorations of the New Formalists By probing the cultural context from which these groups emerge and shifting the critical focus back to the work itself Sampson's astute analysis illuminates and demystifies each of these terms and asks the big questions about what makes a poem The result is a celebration of poetry as a connected responsive and above all communitarian form Lively engaging and inviting this is the indispensable and authoritative guide for anyone who's ever wondered what's going on in British poetry today

Devolving Identities Lynne Pearce, 2017-03-02 There is no doubt that the political and cultural map of Europe is in the process of being radically redrawn Alongside the major upheavals in continental Europe the British Isles has undergone far reaching constitutional reform In Devolving Identities feminist scholars explore their personal negotiations of gender class ethnicity and national or regional identity through their readings of two literary and cultural texts The collection centres on the ontological experience of reading and writing as a feminist and combines the discussion of texts which are inscribed whether consciously or unconsciously with the academics own struggle to reconcile their roots with their current situations or identities This book's focus on the overlapping of gender and national or regional identity is a direct response to the devolution movements currently active in the British Isles The contributors are drawn from Scotland Wales Cornwall Ireland Northern Ireland and selected regions of England In its complex engagement of subject and text and its political insistence that we no longer consider key aspects of identity in isolation this volume presents a truly state of the art investigation of a what it means to be regionally defined and how the complexity of our positioning in terms of class gender and nation impacts upon our practice as literary and cultural critics
