Beginnings of Russian Industrialization, 1800-1860 William L. Blackwell, 2015-12-08 Since Russian tradition and institutions resemble those of Asia and Africa as much if not more than the patterns of Western societies the pre 1917 industrial history of Russia as the last part of the tsarist regime provides one of the most important examples of early industrialization in world history In this broad ambitious reconstruction of the early stages of Russia s industrial development English Professor Blackwell shows that the period from 1800 to 1860 was one of necessary preparation for the rapid industrialization of the later 19th century The book is based upon a wide variety of primary and secondary sources in the Russian language Originally published in 1968 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Nineteenth Century A. I. U. Polunov, Thomas C. Owen, L. G. Zakharova, 2015-02-12 This is a comprehensive interpretive history of Russia from the defeat of Napoleon to the eve of World War I. It is the first such work by a post-Soviet Russian scholar to appear in English. Drawing on the latest Russian and Western historical scholarship, Alexander Polunov examines the decay of the two central institutions of tsarist Russia: serfdom and autocracy. Polunov explains how the major social groups—the gentry, merchants, petty townspeople, peasants, and ethnic minorities—reacted to the Great Reforms and why, despite the emergence of a civil society and capitalist institutions, a reformist evolutionary path did not become an alternative to the Revolution of 1917. He provides detailed portraits of many tsarist bureaucrats and political reformers, complete with quotations from their writings to explain how the principle of autocracy, although significantly weakened by the Great Reforms in mid-century, reasserted itself under the last two emperors. Polunov stresses the relevance for Russians in the post-Soviet period of issues that remained unresolved in the pre-Revolutionary period, such as the question of private property in land and the relationship between state regulation and private initiative in the economy.
