Russian Area Reader:

Circular, 1930 The Russian Reading Revolution S. Lovell, 2000-02-24 Of all of Soviet cultural myths none was more resilient than the belief that the USSR had the world's greatest readers This book explains how the Russian reading myth took hold in the 1920s and 1930s how it was supported by a monopolistic and homogenizing system of book production and distribution and how it was challenged in the post Stalin era first by the latent expansion and differentiation of the reading public and then more dramatically by the economic and cultural changes of the 1990s Russian Area Reader, 1962 Reading Russian Sources George Gilbert, 2020-01-20 Reading Russian Sources is an accessible and comprehensive guide that introduces students to the wide range of sources that can be used to engage with Russian history from the early medieval to the late Soviet periods Divided into two parts the book begins by considering approaches that can be taken towards the study of Russian history using primary sources It then moves on to assess both textual and visual sources including memoirs autobiographies journals newspapers art maps film and TV enabling the reader to engage with and make sense of the burgeoning number of different sources and the ways they are used Contributors illuminate key issues in the study of different areas of Russia's history through their analysis of source materials exploring some of the major issues in using different source types and reflecting recent discoveries that are changing the field In so doing the book orientates students within the broader methodological and conceptual debates that are defining the field and shaping the way Russian history is studied Chronologically wide ranging and supported by further reading along with suggestions to help students guide their own enquiries Reading Russian Sources is the ideal resource for any student undertaking research on Russian history The Mapping of a Russian War: The Atlas of the Principality of Polatsk by Stanisław Pacholowiecki (1580) Jakub Niedźwiedź, Karol Łopatecki, Grzegorz Franczak, 2024-12-02 This volume is a comprehensive analysis of the Atlas of the Principality of Polatsk 1580 one of the oldest cartographic representations of the military conflict between Russia Muscovy and the Western world Its author the Polish royal cartographer Stanisław Pacholowiecki drew the maps at the beginning of the Livonian War 1579-1582 when the Polish-Lithuanian army liberated the Lithuanian and Livonian lands from Muscovian occupation The Mapping of a Russian War focuses on the military aspects of the maps their political and propaganda use and the Early Modern construction of the past through maps The authors present an innovative approach to these maps rarely examined by the international research community National Security Seminar: Outlines and Reading Lists Joint Chiefs of Staff, The New International Encyclopædia: Supplement (Municipal government-Zweig) and Courses of Reading and Study, 1925 Reading Russian Fortunes Faith Wigzell, 1998-05-28 Reading Russian Fortunes examines the huge popularity and cultural impact of fortune telling among urban and literate Russians from the eighteenth century to the present Based partly on a study of the numerous editions of little fortune telling books especially those devoted to dream interpretation it documents and analyses the social history of fortune telling in terms of class and gender at the same time considering the function of both amateur and professional fortune telling in a literate modernizing society Chapters are devoted to professional fortune tellers and their clients and to the publishers of the books An analysis of the relationship between urban fortune telling and traditional oral culture where divination played a very significant role leads on to a discussion of the underlying reasons for the persistence of fortune telling in modern
