Sacred Word And Sacred Text Scripture In World Religions:

Sacred Word and Sacred Text Harold G. Coward, 1988 This fascinating study of the world's sacred texts explain how the value of written scripture over the oral aural experience is characteristic on recent Western history Even today it is atypical of how most believers experience scripture Sacred Word and Sacred Text demonstrates how scripture historically has partaken of both the oral and the written traditions and argues that of the two it is the oral world which has the greater power to transform lives from the back cover Sacred Word and Sacred Text Harold Coward, 1992-06 Experiencing Scripture in World Religions Harold Coward, 2013-04-05 An inside view of how the scriptures of world religions illuminate the lives and experience of their devotees Sacred Texts of World Religions Edited by: Kisak, 2015-09-01 Religious texts also known as scripture scriptures holy writ or holy books are the texts which various religious traditions consider to be sacred or central to their religious tradition Many religions and spiritual movements believe that their sacred texts are divinely or supernaturally revealed or inspired Attitudes towards sacred texts differ widely between religions Some religions make written texts widely and freely available while others hold that sacred secrets must remain hidden from all but the loyal and the initiate Most religions promulgate policies defining the limits of the sacred texts and controlling or forbidding changes and additions Some religions view their sacred texts as the Word of God often contending that the texts are inspired by God and as such should never be altered Translations of texts may receive official sanction but an original sacred language often has defacto absolute or exclusive authority This book serves as a reference guide that lists the works that the corresponding religions are based upon The Twenty-first Century Confronts Its Gods David J. Hawkin, 2012-02-01 This book penetrates the assumptions of Western technological society and exposes the powers that govern it The contributors argue that it is a mistake to think that religion and belief have been relegated to the private sphere and are no longer important in the public and political domains They assert that the twenty first century has a set of new gods the powers of globalization technology the market and military might that reign alongside those of traditional religions These are the forces to which the modern era has granted ultimacy This book looks at how major religions such as Christianity Islam Judaism Hinduism and Buddhism play an important role in politics and society on both the global and local levels The new gods of technology globalization and war are shown to exacerbate the existing cultural divisions and religious strife that mark our time By understanding the importance of that which is held sacred whether traditional belief or modern practice not acknowledged as belief the contributors help us to comprehend our present situation and challenges Sacred Texts Interpreted Carl Olson, 2017-10-05 Covering the major monotheistic religions Christianity Judaism and Islam as well as selected Eastern religions and Bah Zoroastrianism and Mormonism this cross cultural book offers excerpts of sacred texts and interprets passages to enable a deeper understanding of these religious writings Sacred Texts Interpreted Religious Documents Explained gives readers the opportunity to examine directly the primary sources of different religions and to better understand these texts through expert commentary on selected passages The interpretative material investigates the nature of sacred texts along with the relationship between sacred scripture and canon and it explains why these sacred texts have enduring significance and influence The author provides suggestions on how to read a sacred text before turning to the textual selections from 13 religious traditions arranged alphabetically beginning with the Bah religion and ending with Zoroastrianism Each chapter is devoted to the primary textual sources of a particular religious tradition and is prefaced by an introduction to the literature that places it within its historical and cultural heritage The emphasis for each religion is on its foundational scriptures that are often considered sacred by its adherents Readers will gain a much greater appreciation of how powerful religious texts have always been across human culture and throughout millennia and of how religious thought and ideology have shaped daily life built civilizations inspired art and literature and incited wars and violence

Fifty Years of Religious Studies in Canada Harold Coward, 2014-11-07 In Canadian universities in the early 1960s no courses were offered on Hinduism Buddhism or Islam Only the study of Christianity was available usually in a theology program in a church college or seminary Today almost every university in North America has a religious studies department that offers courses on Western and Eastern religions as well as religion in general Harold Coward addresses this change in this memoir of his forty five year career in the development of religious studies as a new academic field in Canada He also addresses the shift from theology classes in seminaries to non sectarian religious studies faculties of arts and

Canonical Texts: Bearers of Absolute Authority - Bible, Koran, Veda, Tipiaka Rein Fernhout,2023-12-28 This book introduces a new approach to the comparative study of sacred texts here the Christian Bible the Islamic Koran the Hindu Veda and the Buddhist Tipiaka The author demonstrates that in spite of their great differences these works show a fundamental analogy Considered as canonical within their own religious context each text possesses absolute authority in comparison with other authoritative texts from their respective religious traditions This fundamental analogy allows one to describe the growth and history of these canons step by step as a process that takes place in analogous phases that are clearly distinguishable The author follows a strictly phenomenological method he tries to understand the development of these canons in terms of a potential that lies within the phenomena themselves i e the texts while refraining in any way from assessing their claim to absolute authority In part I the author describes the development from the revelation of the texts to a climax with respect to reflection on the canons This climax has been reached in all four cases Part II investigates the crisis that these canons are currently undergoing as a consequence of the modern intellectual climate Can we expect that this crisis will be overcome by the canons And if so will they be in a position of mutual exclusion or will they form a sort of unity such as for example the Old and New Testament in the Christian Bible Finally the author traces what the religions themselves have postulated about the future of their respective canons The result is surprising the current crisis is only faint reflection of what according to age old predictions awaits the canons in the future
