Saddam Hussein Chris Sheridan, Nicholas Owen, 1991 Middle East Leaders G. O. Zinaki, 2001 The Middle East remains a veritable powder keg after decades of peace processes wars accords discords agreements disagreements suicide bombings retaliatory attacks cease fires and resume fires Although the root causes of the flaming conflict are not new the leaders of the countries involved are a part and parcel of the current situation and its history This book presents citations to the literature on some of the key players who have shaped the history of this incendiary region of the world Bowker's Complete Video Directory , 2000 Visual Culture in the Modern Middle East Christiane Gruber, Sune Haugbolle, 2013-07-17 A collection of essays examining the role and power of images from a wide variety of media in today's Middle Eastern societies This timely book examines the power and role of the image in modern Middle Eastern societies The essays explore the role and function of image making to highlight the ways in which the images speak and what visual languages mean for the construction of Islamic subjectivities the distribution of power and the formation of identity and belonging Visual Culture in the Modern Middle East addresses aspects of the visual in the Islamic world including the presentation of Islam on television on the internet and other digital media in banners posters murals and graffiti and in the satirical press cartoons and children's books This volume takes a new approach to the subject and will be an important contribution to our knowledge in this area It is comprehensive and well structured with fascinating material and analysis Peter Chelkowski New York University An innovative volume analyzing and instantiating the visual culture of a variety of Muslim societies which constitutes a substantially new object of study in the regional literature and one that creates productive links with history anthropology political science art history media studies and urban studies as well as area studies and Islamic studies Walter Armbrust University of Oxford Catalog of Visual Media Suburban Library System (Burr Ridge, Ill.). Audio Visual Service, 1995 A Tale of Four Worlds David Ottaway, Marina Ottaway, 2019-08-01 Two highly regarded commentators scrutinise the separate trajectories of the Levant the Gulf Egypt and the Maghreb after the Arab Spring uprisings Icons of Dissent Jeremy Prestholdt, 2019 Author traces the development of shared global imagery and asks why the world has embraced these controversial figures Locating Renaissance Art Carol M. Richardson, 2007-01-01 Renaissance art history is traditionally identified with Italian centers of production and Florence in particular Instead this book explores the dynamic interchange between European artistic centers and artists and the trade in works of art It also considers the impact of differing locations on art and artists and some of the economic political and cultural factors crucial to the emergence of an artistic center During c 1420 1520 no city or court could succeed in isolation and so artists operated within a network of interests and local and international identities The case studies presented in this book portray the Renaissance as an exciting international phenomenon with cities and courts inextricably bound together in a web of economic and political interests Daitokuji Gregory P. A. Levine, 2005 The Zen Buddhist monastery Daitokuji in

Kyoto has long been revered as a cloistered meditation centre a repository of art treasures and a wellspring of the Zen aesthetic Gregory Levine's Daitokuji unsettles these conventional notions with groundbreaking inquiry into the significant and surprising visual and social identities of sculpture painting and calligraphy associated with this fourteenth century monastery and its enduring monastic and lay communities The book begins with a study of Zen portraiture at Daitokuji that reveals the precariousness of portrait likeness the face that gazes out from an abbot's painting or statue may not be who we expect it to be or submit quietly to interpretation By tracing the life of Daitokuji's famed statue of the chanoyu patriarch Sen no Rikyū 1522-91 which was all but destroyed by the ruler Toyotomi Hideyoshi 1537-98 but survived in Rashōmon like narratives and reconstituted sculptural forms Levine throws light upon the contested status of images and their mytho-poetic potential Levine then draws from the seventeenth century journal of Kōgetsu Sōgan Bokuseki no utsushi to explore practices of calligraphy connoisseurship at Daitokuji and the pivotal role played by the monastery's abbots within Kyoto art circles The book's final section explores Daitokuji's annual airings of temple treasures not merely as a practice geared toward preservation but also as a space in which different communities vie for authority over the artistic past An epilogue follows the peripatetic journey of the monastery's scrolls of the 500 Luohan from China to Japan to exhibition and partial sale in the West and back to Daitokuji Illuminating canonical and heretofore ignored works and mining a trove of documents diaries and modern writings Levine argues for the plurality of Daitokuji's visual arts and the breadth of social and ritual circumstances of art making and viewing within the monastery This diversity encourages reconsideration of stereotyped notions of Zen art and offers specialists and general readers alike opportunity to explore the fertile and sometimes volatile nexus of the visual arts and religious sites in Japan

we might think about the multiple ways in which comics are read and consumed Graphic Encounters moves beyond seeing the reading of comics as a debased or simplified word based literacy Dale Jacobs argues compellingly that we should consider comics as multimodal texts in which meaning is created through linguistic visual audio gestural and spatial realms in order to achieve effects and meanings that would not be possible in either a strictly print or strictly visual text Jacobs advances two key ideas one that reading comics involves a complex multimodal literacy and two that by studying how comics are used to sponsor multimodal literacy we can engage more deeply with the ways students encounter and use these and other multimodal texts Looking at the history of how comics have been used by churches schools and libraries among others will help us as literacy teachers best use that knowledge within our curricula even as we act as sponsors ourselves World War III!
