Scottish Life And Society:

An Introduction To Scottish Ethnology Alexander Fenton, Margaret A. Mackay, 2013-08-06 The publication of An Introduction to Scottish Ethnology sees the completion of the fourteen volume Scottish Life and Society series originally conceived by the eminent ethnologist Professor Alexander Fenton The series explores the many elements in Scottish history language and culture which have shaped the identity of Scotland and Scots at local regional and national level placing these in an international context Each of the thirteen volumes already published focuses on a particular theme or institution within Scottish society This introduction provides an overview of the discipline of ethnology as it has developed in Scotland and more widely the sources and methods for its study and practical guidance on the means by which it can be examined within its constituent genres based on the experience of those currently working with ethnological materials Theory and practice are presented in an accessible fashion making it an ideal companion for the student the scholar and the interested amateur alike

Individual and Community Life John Beech, Mark Mulhern, 2005 This major project comprises fourteen thematically arranged volumes The aim of the Compendium is to examine the interlocking strands of history and traditional culture that go into the making of a national identity in an up to date synthesis of the current state of knowledge By bringing together information from a variety of sources the Compendium not only provides a digest of topics but also points towards areas for new investigation The Compendium concentrates upon the present and the historical period and does not generally deal with prehistory although for certain themes such as the development of agriculture and buildings early evidence is taken into account Where appropriate reference is made to foreign parallels and to the influence on Scotland of the cultures of neighbouring peoples Scottish influence on the world at large is also taken into account whether in relation to urban or rural maritime or land based topics Material and non material aspects of history and tradition are considered equally at all levels of society indeed oftentimes focusing on the interaction between people of differing social strata      Scottish Life and Society: Boats and fishing, coast and the sea ,2000
