Rozendaal, 2008-10-30 This large scale anthology of early Scottish Literature now revised has been designed as a teaching text for use by school and university students Longer works are either presented complete e.g. James I King is Quair as long extracts with explanatory linking passages e.g. Urquhart The Jewel or by sections which sum up the main themes and concerns of the text e.g. Barbour's Bruce Book I There are full critical and linguistic introductions brief biographical and bibliographical introductions for each author or sub section the texts have all been re edited every difficult word is glossed and full explanatory notes appear at the foot of each page A substantial Appendix presents texts in Latin Scots English and Gaelic from the seventeenth century demonstrating the vitality and interaction of these voices within the Scottish tradition A noteworthy feature of the book is Professor Jack's Critical Introduction Where Stands Scottish Literature Now This challenges many widely held assumptions about Scottish literature In particular it seeks to explore the reasons behind the strange neglect of the writers of the seventeenth century Basing its argument on the texts of the Anthology as a whole it seeks to re define the accepted canon and suggests an alternative way of approaching Scottish literary history Edinburgh History of Scottish Literature: Enlightenment, Britain and Empire (1707-1918) Ian Brown, 2006-11-13 Between 1707 and 1918 Scotland underwent arguably the most dramatic upheavals in its political economic and social history The Union with England industrialisation and Scotland's subsequent defining contributions throughout the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries to the culture of Britain and Empire are reflected in the transformative energies of Scottish literature and literary institutions in the period New genres new concerns and whole new areas of interest opened under the creative scrutiny of sceptical minds This second volume of the History reveals the major contribution made by Scottish writers and Scottish writing to the shape of modernity in Britain Europe and the world The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 4, 1900-1950 George Watson,I. R. Willison,1972-12-07 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 4 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to re shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries Books in Scotland ,1989 The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 1, 600-1660 George Watson,Ian Roy Willison,1974-08-29 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 1 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to re shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries Cultural Repertoires G. J. Dorleijn,Herman L. J. Vanstiphout,2003 It is apparent that every linguistic and literary tradition will wish to distinguish broad periods in its historical evolution One way of demarcating such periods is by isolating and identifying dominant repertoires of texts styles or types which may be seen as preserving repositories of material promoting literary models privileging formal constraints or inspiring theoretical reflections or all of these The present collection of studies represents the results of a colloquium held at the University of Groningen in 2001 The contributions range widely in area time and theme from general theory of acceptance into the canon to particular case studies from overall descriptions of cultural repertoires to their very manufacture from Ancient Mesopotamia to the European avant garde taking in Homeric Greece the Arabic world the Middle Ages Renaissance Humanism and modern Dutch literature along the way
