Reclaiming Authorship Susan S. Williams,2013-06-15 There was in the nineteenth century a distinction made between writers and authors Susan S Williams notes the former defined as those who composed primarily from mere experience or observation rather than from the unique genius or imagination of the latter If women were more often cast as writers than authors by the literary establishment there also emerged in magazines advice books fictional accounts and letters a specific model of female authorship one that valorized natural feminine traits such as observation and emphasis on detail while also representing the distance between amateur writing and professional authorship Attending to biographical and cultural contexts and offering fresh readings of literary works Reclaiming Authorship focuses on the complex ways writers such as Maria S Cummins Louisa May Alcott Elizabeth Keckley Mary Abigail Dodge Elizabeth Stuart Phelps and Constance Fenimore Woolson put this model of female authorship into practice Williams shows how it sometimes intersected with prevailing notions of male authorship and sometimes diverged from them and how it is often precisely those moments of divergence when authorship was reclaimed by women The current trend to examine women writers rather than authors marks a full rotation of the circle and writers can indeed be the more capacious term embracing producers of everything from letters and diaries to published books Yet certain nineteenth century women made particular efforts to claim the title author Williams demonstrates and we miss something of significance by ignoring their efforts Edith Wharton in Context Laura Rattray,2012-10-08 This collection of essays examines the various social cultural and historical contexts surrounding Edith Wharton s popular and prolific literary career Research Guide to American Literature Benjamín Franklin,2010 Presents American literature from the beginnings to the Revolutionary War including essays narratives and more Literature and Psychology Önder Çakırtaş,2018-12-07 This volume provides a thorough study of how psychological messages are portrayed and interpreted via the written word It explores the interactions between text and reader as well as affiliations within the text with particular emphasis on emotion and affect Featuring relevant coverage on topics such as literary production psychology in literature identity self and the other and trauma studies the book offers an in depth analysis that is suitable for academicians students professionals and researchers interested in discovering more about the relationship between psychology and literature American Literature's Aesthetic Dimensions Cindy Weinstein,Christopher Looby,2012 These diverse essays recast the place of aesthetics in production consumption of American literature Contributors showcase the interpretive possibilities available to those who bring politics culture ideology conceptions of identity into their critiques combining close readings of individual works authors with theoretical discussions Age of Shōjo Hiromi Tsuchiya

Dollase,2019-04-16 Hiromi Tsuchiya Dollase examines the role that magazines have played in the creation and development of the concept of sh jo the modern cultural identity of adolescent Japanese girls Cloaking their ideas in the pages of girls magazines writers could effectively express their desires for freedom from and resistance against oppressive cultural conventions and their sh jo characters immature qualities and social marginality gave them the power to express their thoughts without worrying about the reaction of authorities Dollase details the transformation of Japanese girls fiction from the 1900s to the 1980s by discussing the adaptation of Western stories including Louisa May Alcott s Little Women in the Meiji period the emergence of young female writers in the 1910s and the flourishing girls fiction era of the 1920s and 1930s the changes wrought by state interference during the war and the new era of empowered postwar fiction The book highlights seminal author Yoshiya Nobuko s dreamy fantasies and Kitagawa Chiyo s social realism Morita Tama s autobiographical feminism the contributions of Nobel Prize winning author Kawabata Yasunari and the humorous modern fiction of Himuro Saeko and Tanabe Seiko Using girls perspectives these authors addressed social topics such as education same sex love feminism and socialism The age of sh jo which began at the turn of the twentieth century continues to nurture new generations of writers and entice audiences beyond age gender and nationality Industry and the Creative Mind

Sandra Tomc,2012-06-19 Industry and the Creative Mind takes a radically new look at the figure of the eccentric alienated writer in American literature and entertainment from 1790 to 1860 Traditional scholarship takes for granted that the eccentric writer modeled by such Romantic beings as Lord Byron and brought to life for American audiences by the gloomy person of Edgar Allan Poe was a figure of rebellion against the excesses of modern commercial culture and industrial life By contrast Industry and the Creative Mind argues that in the United States myths of writerly moodiness alienation and irresponsibility predated the development of a commercial arts and entertainment industry and instead of forming a site of rebellion from this industry formed a bedrock for its development Looking at the careers of a number of early American writers Joseph Dennie Nathaniel Parker Willis Edgar Allan Poe Fanny Fern as well as a host of now forgotten souls who peopled the twilight worlds of hack fiction and industrial literature this book traces the way in which early nineteenth century American arts and entertainment systems incorporated writerly eccentricity in their logical economic workings placing the mad rebellious writer at the center of the industry s productivity and success WOMEN'S WRITINGS IN THE NINETEENTH AND TWENTIETH CENTURIES TAISHA ABRAHAM,2013-03-11 Intended as a text for undergraduate students of English for their course on Women s Writings in the Nineteenth and Twentieth centuries this compact and well organized book provides both the history of the development of the short story in America and Britain and a comprehensive introduction to the modes on critical practices based on feminist thinking It takes into account the strategies used by women writers and discusses the politics of reception and production keeping especially the gender issue in mind The text is divided into three parts Part I Introduction containing two chapters that deal with the development of the American short story and the resurgence of radical feminism in America These provide the historical and the feminist frame within which the short stories by the Anglo American Women s Writers should be read Part II gives four short stories Kate Chopin The Story of An Hour Charlotte Perkins Gilman The Yellow Wallpaper Willa Cather Coming Aphrodite and Katherine Mansfield Bliss Each short story is preceded by a critical introduction detailed references for further reading and a biographical time line Part III comprises three critical essays which provide sharp insights into the period in which the four women writers were writing This book will be treasured not only by students but also by those who wish to study critically the feminist writings of the period In addition it will enrich readers understanding of American and British literary history and culture The critical introduction to each short story traces the development of the form from its origins both historically and in terms of female literary contributions to its development The chapter on Radical Feminism is mapped in the context of social political and cultural development The book provides historical literary and biographical contexts of the writers and their short stories
