The Book of Nature Barbara Mahany, 2023-03-21 We live inside a nautilus of prayer if only we open our senses and perceive what is infused all around Throughout millennia and across the monotheistic religions the natural was often revered as a sacred text By the Middle Ages this text was given a name The Book of Nature the first best entry point for encounter with the divine The very act of reading the world of focusing our attention on each twinkling star and unfurling blossom humbles us and draws us into sacred encounter As we grapple to make sense of today s tumultuous world one where nature is at once a damaged and damaging source of disaster as well as a place of refuge and retreat we are called again to examine how generously it awaits our attention and devotion standing ready to be read by all Weaving together the astonishments of science the profound wisdom and literary gems of thinkers poets and observers who have come before us and her own spiritual practice and gentle observation Barbara Mahany reintroduces us to The Book of Nature an experiential framework of the divine God s first revelation came to us through an ongoing creation one that through stillness and attentiveness to the rumblings of the heavens the seasonal eruptions of earth the invisible pull of migration of tide and of celestial shiftings draws us into sacred encounter We needn t look farther for the divine Inventory of Seeds and Plants Imported , 1975

Since the end of World War II we have witnessed countless artistic responses to the Holocaust yet we remain unable to adequately address the atrocities While Theodor Adorno later rescinded his comments on the barbaric nature of writing poetry after Auschwitz The Midrashic Impulse and the Contemporary Literary Response to Trauma begins with the possibility that he was right that his admonition against poetry warns against employing representational modes that transgress the boundaries of the ethical when it comes to the Holocaust There is a language other than the language of representation with which we might speak authentically about such atrocities This study explores what it means for the world of literature to renounce the language of representation and retain the language of witness Drawing on the work of Emmanuel Levinas Maurice Blanchot Geoffrey Hartman and others the book focuses on the increasing tendency of contemporary writers to rely on non representational approaches to storytelling in the context of trauma This tendency is named the midrashic impulse given its similarity to ancient rabbinic approaches to the silences of the Hebrew bible through the creation of Midrash

White,2013-11-09 The Handbook of Vegetation Science is growing After the first volumes under my editorship have appeared the interest of the scientific community has been revived and many new volume editors have started their work The present volume was jointly designed by Drs J White and W Beetsink Due to unforeseen developments Dr White signs now as the sole editor The development of this volume within the series had a special history as Dr White points out in his preface Adding to this I need only to state that I found it essential to include the topic of this volume into a Handbook of Vegetation Science It was included therefore in my first revised list of topics to be included in the Handbook when I took over from Dr T xen It is a great pleasure for me to see this volume appear Having read through the many contributions to this volume I can certainly congratulate Drs White and Beetsink for their success in generating so much interest in this volume among their colleagues The cooperation on this volume is for me the first sign that the new concept of the Handbook has been understood by the generation of scientists which I have to address The influence this volume will have on the field of plant population studies only time can tell It appears to me however that this volume will become a standard resource for some future Dr White asked me to have this volume dedicated to Dr Rabotnov
