Seeking Nontraditional Approaches To Collaborating And Partnering With Industry:

Seeking Nontraditional Approaches to Collaborating and Partnering with Industry, 2002 This report documents the findings of a study to help the Army understand how to better collaborate and partner with industry It expands on a briefing presented to the Assistant Secretary of the Army Acquisition Logistics and Technology ASA ALT in January 2000 describing nontraditional approaches for the Army to follow to collaborate and partner with industry using the concepts of public private partnerships venture capital funding and government corporations The research was sponsored by the Deputy ASA ALT for Plans Programs and Policy and was conducted within RAND Arroyo Center's Force Development and Technology Program The Arroyo Center is a federally funded research and development center sponsored by the United States Army The findings should be of interest to Army audiences concerned with collaborating and partnering with industry and interested in understanding the various means available to the Army to increase such collaborations and partnerships using nontraditional approaches

Seeking Nontraditional Approaches to Collaborating and Partnering with Industry Bruce Held, Kenneth P. Horn, Michael V. Hynes, Christopher Hanks, Jamison Jo Medby, Paul Steinberg, Christopher G. Pernin, 2002

The Army has a growing need to collaborate and partner with industry This document describes three nontraditional approaches to that goal namely 1 forming real estate public private partnerships PPPs 2 using Army venture capital mechanisms as a research and development funding and collaborating tool and 3 spinning off Army activities into federal government corporations FGCs The research shows that while the three concepts appear promising each requires resolution of key issues before it can be seriously considered for implementation

Competition, Choice, and Incentives in Government Programs Albert Morales, John M. Kamensky, 2006 Since the 1980s the language used around market based government has muddled its meaning and polarized its proponents and critics making the topic politicized and controversial Competition Choice and Incentives in Government Programs hopes to reframe competing views of market based government so it is seen not as an ideology but rather as a fact based set of approaches for managing government services and programs more efficiently and effectively

Advancing Public Goods Jean-Philippe Touffut, 2006-01-01 This is a timely and thought provoking book which brings the discussion of public goods to confront the contemporary world economy where such goods have often a global nature and require super national provision and control Giovanni Dosi St Anna School of Advanced Studies Pisa Italy In this wide ranging selection of papers distinguished economists public policy advisers and political theorists contribute to the debate on public goods The studies cover topics in the conceptualization classification and stratification of public goods Also examined are public institutional design global economic institutions and partnership typologies Individual papers address the financing regulatory organizational and legal aspects relating to services of general interest in Europe The dynamics of global public good production including monopolies patents scientific uncertainty and market failures are discussed Empirical research on the state profit and non profit sectors is presented Providing numerous examples of specific public goods the contributions also highlight the impact of macroeconomic policies on provision The book presents a broad diversity of new approaches to global public goods within the framework of mixed economies beyond the standard economic analysis of public services Academics researchers and policymakers in the area of global public goods and services will find this volume of great interest

America Inc.? Linda Weiss,2014-04-01 For more than half a century the United States has led the world in developing major technologies that drive the modern economy and underpin its prosperity In America Inc Linda Weiss attributes the U S capacity for transformative innovation to the strength of its national security state a complex of agencies programs and hybrid arrangements that has developed around the institution of permanent defense preparedness and the pursuit of technological supremacy She examines how that complex emerged and how it has evolved in response to changing geopolitical threats and domestic political constraints from the Cold War period to the post 9 11 era Weiss focuses on state funded venture capital funds new forms of technology procurement by defense and security related agencies and innovation in robotics nanotechnology and renewable energy since the 1980s Weiss argues that the national security state has been the crucible for breakthrough innovations a catalyst for entrepreneurship and the formation of new firms and a collaborative network coordinator for private sector initiatives Her book appraises persistent myths about the military commercial relationship at the core of the National Security State Weiss also discusses the implications for understanding U S capitalism the American state and the future of American primacy as financialized corporations curtail investment in manufacturing and innovation
