Corr. and Improved William Scott (Teacher of Elocution.), 1804 Djuna Barnes' Consuming Fictions Diane Warren, 2017-11-28 Djuna Barnes 1892 1982 was a pioneering female journalist experimental novelist playwright and poet whose influence on literary modernism was profound and whose writings anticipated many of the preoccupations of poststructuralist and feminist thought In her new book the author argues that Barnes writings made significant contributions to gender and aesthetic debates in their immediate early twentieth century context and that they continue to contribute to present day debates on identity In particular Warren traces the works close engagement with the effects of cultural boundaries on the individual showing how the journalism Ryder Ladies Almanack and the early chapters of Nightwood energetically and playfully subvert such boundaries In this reading Nightwood is contextualised as a pivotal text which poses questions about the limits of subversion thereby positioning The Antiphon 1958 as an analysis of why such boundaries are sometimes necessary Djuna Barnes Consuming Fictions shows that from the irreverent and carnivalesque iconoclasm of Barnes early works to the bleak assessment that conflict lies at the root of culture seen from the close of Nightwood Barnes oeuvre offers a profound analysis of the relationship between culture the individual and textual expression Handel's Messiah Amanda Babington, 2024-06-07 The soundtrack of the Christmas season for many music lovers Messiah is performed annually by choral societies across the world And so perhaps unsurprisingly many aspects of it have been explored by scholars over the years The work is the subject of several listeners guides and there are a number of books and articles of various lengths that describe the biographical circumstances of the work s formation and details of its many performances many including lists of singers for each performance an area that has itself spawned a whole field of research There has been no extensive study of the creative process of Messiah however since 1969 This book seeks to redress this imbalance by providing a thorough investigation of the work s creative process Beginning with the creative process of the libretto it examines the earliest sketches Handel s use of pre existent material alterations made to the autograph score and the latest versions of movements Each stage of composition is examined via primary source material with particular reference to the autograph score and conducting score Each chapter is formed as a case study and contains related discussion points for use in teaching or study settings The Spectator, 1897 Selected Drawings & Verse Florence Vale, 1979 A Selection from the Works of Robert Browning Robert Browning, 1865 The Canadian Magazine of Politics, Science, Art and Literature, 1902
