Silver Swords Historical No 27:

Silver, Sword, and Stone Marie Arana, 2020-08-18 Winner American Library Association Booklist's Top of the List 2019 Adult Nonfiction Acclaimed writer Marie Arana delivers a cultural history of Latin America and the three driving forces that have shaped the character of the region: exploitation, silver, violence, sword, and religion, stone. Meticulously researched, this book's greatest strengths are the power of its epic narrative, the beauty of its prose, and its rich portrayals of character. Marvelous, The Washington Post. Leonor Gonzales lives in a tiny community perched 18,000 feet above sea level in the Andean cordillera of Peru, the highest human habitation on earth. Like her late husband, she works the gold mines much as the Indians were forced to do at the time of the Spanish Conquest. Illiteracy, malnutrition, and disease reign as they did five hundred years ago. And now just as then, a miner's survival depends on a vast global market whose fluctuations are controlled in faraway places. Carlos Buergos is a Cuban who fought in the civil war in Angola and now lives in a quiet community outside New Orleans. He was among hundreds of criminals Cuba expelled to the US in 1980. His story echoes the violence that has coursed through the Americas since before Columbus to the crushing savagery of the Spanish Conquest and from 19th and 20th century wars and revolutions to the military crackdowns that convulse Latin America to this day. Xavier Albó is a Jesuit priest from Barcelona who emigrated to Bolivia where he works among the indigenous people. He considers himself an Indian in head and heart, and for this is well known in his adopted country. Although his aim is to learn rather than proselytize, he is an inheritor of a checkered past where priests marched alongside conquistadors converting the natives to Christianity, often forcibly, in the effort to win the New World. Ever since the Catholic Church has played a central role in the political life of Latin America, sometimes for good, sometimes not. In this timely and excellent volume, NPR Marie Arana seamlessly weaves these stories with the history of the past millennium to explain three enduring themes that have defined Latin America since pre-Columbian times: the foreign greed for its mineral riches, an ingrained propensity to violence, and the abiding power of religion. Silver, Sword, and Stone combines learned historical analysis with in-depth reporting and political commentary and an informed and authoritative voice, one that deserves a wide audience. The New York Times Book Review

History of Perquimans County Ellen Goode Rawlings Winslow, 1974 Here is a county history that is extraordinarily rich in primary source materials, including abstracts of deeds from 1681 through the Revolutionary War period, and moreover, petitions, divisions of estates, wills, and marriages found in the records of Perquimans and adjacent North Carolina counties. Numbering in the tens of thousands, the records provide the names of all principal parties and related family members, places of residence, and migration descriptions of real and personal property, dates, boundary surveys, names of executors, witnesses, and appraisers, and dates of recording. Altogether, the index contains references to about 35,000 persons. Researchers should note that Perquimans was one of the original North Carolina precincts with very close ties to the southeastern Virginia counties of Norfolk, Princess Anne, Nansemond, and Isle of Wight, and for many years had fluid boundaries with the North Carolina

French, 2021-10-12 Revealing the central yet intentionally obliterated role of Africa in the creation of modernity Born in Blackness vitally reframes our understanding of world history Traditional accounts of the making of the modern world afford a place of primacy to European history Some credit the fifteenth century Age of Discovery and the maritime connection it established between West and East others the accidental unearthing of the New World Still others point to the development of the scientific method or the spread of Judeo Christian beliefs and so on ad infinitum The history of Africa by contrast has long been relegated to the remote outskirts of our global story What if instead we put Africa and Africans at the very center of our thinking about the origins of modernity In a sweeping narrative spanning more than six centuries Howard W French does just that for Born in Blackness vitally reframes the story of medieval and emerging Africa demonstrating how the economic ascendancy of Europe the anchoring of democracy in the West and the fulfillment of so called Enlightenment ideals all grew out of Europe's dehumanizing engagement with the dark continent In fact French reveals the first impetus for the Age of Discovery was not as we are so often told even today Europe's yearning for ties with Asia but rather its centuries old desire to forge a trade in gold with legendarily rich Black societies sequestered away in the heart of West Africa Creating a historical narrative that begins with the commencement of commercial relations between Portugal and Africa in the fifteenth century and ends with the onset of World War II Born in Blackness interweaves precise historical detail with poignant personal reportage In so doing it dramatically retrieves the lives of major African historical figures from the unimaginably rich medieval emperors who traded with the Near East and beyond to the Kongo sovereigns who heroically battled seventeenth century European powers to the ex slaves who liberated Haitians from bondage and profoundly altered the course of American history While French cogently demonstrates the centrality of Africa to the rise of the modern world Born in Blackness becomes at the same time a far more significant narrative one that reveals a long concealed history of trivialization and more often elision in depictions of African history throughout the last five hundred years As French shows the achievements of sovereign African nations and their now far flung peoples have time and again been etiolated and deliberately erased from modern history As the West ascended their stories siloed and piecemeal were swept into secluded corners thus setting the stage for the hagiographic rise of the West theories that have endured to this day Capacious and compelling Laurent Dubois Born in Blackness is epic history on the grand scale In the lofty tradition of bold revisionist narratives it reframes the story of gold and tobacco sugar and cotton and of the greatest commodity of them all the twelve million people who were brought in chains from Africa to the New World whose reclaimed lives shed a harsh light on our present world

Unfolding the Deuteronomistic History Antony F. Campbell, Mark A. O'Brien, The Deuteronomistic History is the label used by scholars for the Old Testament books of Deuteronomy Joshua Judges Samuel and Kings as identified by Martin Noth Campbell and O'Brien provide the biblical text with detailed notations on how this work came together was modified and was passed down to us in its present form accounting for the shifts in Israel's and Judah's histories their storytelling practices and their ideological interests Identifying and explaining what accounts for these literary and social processes makes this volume a major step forward for the study of this major block of biblical texts
