Salvation and Suicide David Chidester, 2018-11-01 An ambitious and courageous examination of the Jonestown cult viewed through the lens of theology Journal of the American Academy of Religion Re issued in recognition of the 25th anniversary of the mass suicides at Jonestown this revised edition of David Chidester s groundbreaking book features a new prologue that considers the meaning of the tragedy for a post Waco post 9 11 world For Chidester the murder suicide of some 900 members of the Peoples Temple in Guyana recalls the American religious commitment to redemptive sacrifice which for Jim Jones meant saving his followers from the evils of capitalist society Jonestown is ancient history writes Chidester but it does provide us with an opportunity to reflect upon the strangeness of familiar promises of redemption through sacrifice His original conclusion that the Peoples Temple was a meaningful religious movement seems all the more prescient and astute today when fundamentalism has raised the troubling spectre of violence and suicide all over the world

Counseling Cross-Culturally David J. Hesselgrave, 2002-01-08 Christians are being called upon increasingly to care counsel and cure across cultural boundaries writes the author Of course foreign missionaries counsel people from other cultures but so do many pastors particularly those in urban settings Because Christian counseling theory presupposes that counselor and counselee share the same culture the insights of this discipline must be brought together meaningfully with the cross cultural perspectives of missiology Counseling Cross Culturally pioneers this new field After surveying approaches to counseling in the West and those in the non Western world the author develops a theory of Christian cross cultural counseling The final part consistent with the author s broad view of counseling discusses counseling concerned with the well being of people Christian conversion spiritual growth and development of a Christian life style and Christian service

Numerous case studies drawn from a variety of cultures provide realistic examples of the questions that counselors will encounter. A psychologist who trains Christian workers for cross cultural service describes this book as a helpful thoughtful study of complex issues surrounding counseling. It is extremely valuable to expose any missionary candidate to this type of book. It broadens awareness to cross cultural issues and touches on common problems of missionary counselors. Counseling Cross Culturally is an admirable attempt to integrate a conservative evangelical theology with the complexities of culture and life.

Korean Anthropology, 2003 Korean anthropology holds a unique position in the field of anthropology having first developed with native scholars studying native culture under the prevalent influence of cultural and social anthropology rather than with the past Western practice of studying the others. This volume Korean Anthropology Contemporary Korean Culture in Flux presents 30 original articles covering all aspects of Korean culture seen through the distinct viewpoints of various scholars. Intended to be an introductory yet comprehensive collection of readings on Korean culture it will stimulate War Magic Douglas Farrer, 2016-09-01 This compelling volume explores how war magic and warrior religion unleash the power of the gods, demons, ghosts, and the dead. Documenting war magic and warrior religion as they are performed in diverse cultures and across historical time periods, this volume foregrounds embodiment practice and performance in anthropological approaches to magic, sorcery, shamanism, and religion. The authors go beyond what magic represents to consider what magic does. From Chinese exorcists, Javanese spirit siblings, and black magic in Sumatra to Tamil Tiger suicide bombers, Chamorro spiritual re-enchantment, tantric Buddhist war magic, and Yanomami dark shamans, religion and magic are re-evaluated not just from the practitioner's perspective but through the victim's lived experience. These original investigations reveal a nuanced approach to understanding social action, innovation, and the revitalization of tradition in colonial and post-colonial societies undergoing rapid social transformation.
