Merchant Sailing Ships, 1850-1875 David Roy MacGregor, 1984 Merchant Sailing Ships, 1850-1875, 1988 The Life and Times of a Merchant Sailor Jason M. Burns, 2012-12-06 Historical archaeologists are in a unique position to analyze both historical documents and archaeological data in order to generate hypotheses and draw conclusions In this work the data not only provided the history of the ship Catharine but also the economic social and political environments in which the ship was built and employed This work focuses not only on the shipwreck and the wrecking event but on the history and archaeology of a single ship With this expanded view the research also delves into International shipbuilding The struggle for dominance in the ship trade in the 19th century This book will be of interest to underwater historical and cultural archaeologists social historians cultural heritage managers and archaeologists working in the southeastern United States

Seafaring Labour Eric W. Sager, 1996 Sager argues that sailors were not misfits or outcasts but were divorced from society only by virtue of their occupation The wooden ships were small communities at sea fragments of normal society where workers lived struggled and often died With the coming of the age of steam the sailor became part of a new division of labour and a new social hierarchy at sea Sager shows that the sailor was as integral to the transition to industrial capitalism as any land worker

Down East: An Illustrated History of Maritime Maine (2) Lincoln Paine, 2018-06-19 From the first explorers to the century of ships to our modern fisheries and diversification Maine s maritime story is told in engaging detail Lincoln Paine has laid down the framework for an understanding of Maine s maritime history by relating the population and landscape of today to their historic foundations This engaging overview of Maine s maritime history ranges from early Native American travel and fishing to pre Plymouth European settlements wars international trade shipbuilding boom and bust fisheries immigrant quarrymen quick lime production yachting and modern port facilities all unfolding against one of the most dramatic seascapes on the planet Down East can be read in an evening but will be referred to again and again When the first edition was published in 2000 Walter Cronkite a veteran Maine coastal sailor as well as The Most Trusted Man in America wrote that Paine s economy of phrase and clarity of purpose make this book a delight Paine went on to write his monumental opus The Sea and Civilization A Maritime History of the World PW starred review but now returns to his first and most abiding love the coast of Maine to revise and update this gem of a book The new edition is printed in a large full color format with a stunning complement of historical photos paintings charts and illustrations making this a truly visual journey along a storied coast

Maritime Archaeology Lawrence E. Babits, Hans Van Tilburg, 2013-11-11 This volume initiates a new series of books on maritime or underwater archaeology and as the editor of the series I welcome its appearance with great excitement It is appropriate that the first book of the series is a collection of articles intended for graduate or undergraduate courses in underwater archaeology since the growth in academic opportunities for students is an important sign of the vitality of this subdiscipline The layman will enjoy the book as well Academic and public interest in shipwrecks and other submerged archaeological sites is indicated by a number of factors Every year there are 80 to 90 research papers presented at the Society for Historical Archaeology's Conference on Historical and Underwater Archaeology and the Proceedings are published Public interest is shown by extensive press coverage of shipwreck investigations One of the most important advances in recent years has been the passage of the Abandoned Shipwreck Act of 1987 for the first time providing national level law concerning underwater archaeological sites The legislation has withstood a number of legal challenges by commercial treasure salvors a very hopeful sign for the long term preservation of this nonrenewable type of cultural resource The underwater archaeological discoveries of 1995 were particularly noteworthy The Texas Historical Commission discovered the Belle one of La Salle's ships and the CSS Hunley was found by a joint project of South Carolina and a private nonprofit organization called NUMA

Mediterranean Wooden Shipbuilding Apostolos Delis, 2015-10-27 In Mediterranean Wooden Shipbuilding Economy Technology and Institutions in Syros in the Nineteenth Century Apostolos Delis analyses the wooden shipbuilding industry of the port of Syros an important maritime and commercial crossroad in the nineteenth century eastern Mediterranean The main axes of analysis are the economic technical and institutional aspects of the industry in relation to the wider international context of shipping and trade Based on unpublished archival sources multi language secondary literature and the employment of interdisciplinary theoretical tools Apostolos Delis not only highlights the national and international significance of Syros shipbuilding industry but also contributes novel material to our knowledge of wooden shipbuilding in the Mediterranean

Yearning for the Land John W. Simpson,2009-09-09 A beautiful meditative memoir mixed with travel and history this unique book is the story of one American s search for a deeper connection to the land Drawn by a sense that he is missing a critical link to his home in suburban Ohio John W Simpson heads for rural Scotland where he encounters his own family history as well as estate owners and tenant farmers who have centuries long ties to their land As he travels he meditates on the legacy of the great 19th century conservationist John Muir who himself developed a complex love of the land when he immigrated from Scotland s North Sea coast to the fields and forests of Wisconsin As Simpson physically retraces Muir s journey he wonders what sense of belonging Muir found on the frontier that modern America with its strip malls and housing developments has forgotten A fascinating story of changing perceptions and values from the Old World to the New Yearning for the Land shows us just how much roots matter both in our own lives and in the many ways time and history landscape and community are tightly intertwined

Shipbuilding on Prince Edward Island Nicolas De Jong,Marven E. Moore,1994-01-01 This detailed examination of wooden shipbuilding on Prince Edward Island traces the industry s cycles of prosperity and decline and describes the types of vessels built production profiles and market orientation Accounts of shipbuilding at the community level reveal the local impact of financing and constructing vessels and document how the industry facilitated the distribution of timber and agricultural surpluses Published in English
