Secrets, Gossip, and Gods Paul Christopher Johnson, 2002-08-15 In this wide ranging book Paul Christopher Johnson explores the changing hidden face of the Afro Brazilian indigenous religion of Candomblé Despite its importance in Brazilian society Candomblé has received far less attention than its sister religions Vodou and Santería Johnson seeks to fill this void by offering a comprehensive look at the development beliefs and practices of Candomblé and exploring its transformation from a secret society of slaves hidden persecuted and marginalized to a public religion that is very much a part of Brazilian culture Johnson traces this historical shift and locates the turning point in the creation of Brazilian national identity and a public sphere in the first half of the twentieth century His major focus is on the ritual practice of secrecy in Candomblé Like Vodou and Santería and the African Yoruba religion from which they are descended Candomblé features a hierarchic series of initiations with increasing access to secret knowledge at each level As Johnson shows the nature and uses of secrecy evolved with the religion First secrecy was essential to a society that had to remain hidden from authorities Later when Candomblé became known and actively persecuted its secrecy became a form of resistance as well as an exotic hidden power desired by elites Finally as Candomblé became a public religion and a vital part of Brazilian culture the debate increasingly turned away from the secrets themselves and toward their possessors It is speech about secrets and not the content of those secrets that is now most important in building status legitimacy and power in Candomblé Offering many first hand accounts of the rites and rituals of contemporary Candomblé this book provides insight into this influential but little studied group while at the same time making a valuable contribution to our understanding of the relationship between religion and society Selected

Readings in the Anthropology of Religion Stephen D. Glazier, Charles A. Flowerday, 2003-12-30 Brings together in one volume a number of key theoretical and methodological advances in the anthropological study of religion Chapters cover important topics not ordinarily included in books dealing with the anthropology of religion e g bipedalism the study of alcohol film and video images notions of religious agency In addition this collection is intended to build bridges between anthropologists of religion and religious studies scholars Over the last four decades anthropologists have grappled with the dialectical relationship between the examination of cultures from the emic or insider perspective and the etic or outsider perspective Nowhere is this creative tension more evident than in the anthropological study of religion In this volume anthropologists and religious studies scholars come to terms not only with a landscape that has shifted fundamentally but a landscape that is still shifting Essays in this collection raise new and important issues for the anthropological study of religion in new and important ways In intensely personal essays a number of contributors address two fundamental concerns in the study of religion 1 how should anthropologists deal with the beliefs and practices of others and 2 how should anthropologists deal with their own religious backgrounds and beliefs as these may affect their understanding of the beliefs and practices of others A partial resolution to both questions is necessary before the anthropological study of religion can advance to a higher level

The Taste of Blood Jim Wafer, 2010-11-24 Enter the fascinating world of the Condomble regions of Brazil where interaction between spirits and human is considered an everyday occurrence Jim Wafer uncovers the social life rituals folklore and engaging personalities of the villagers of Jacari among whom trances sorcery and spirit possession demonstrate the coexistence of different kinds of reality This ethnography is intriguing not only because of the originality of its approach to the more enigmatic aspects of another culture but also because it uses insights gained from participation in that culture to reflect on the paradoxes inherent in the writer's own culture and in the human condition in general

The Dial Francis Fisher Browne, Waldo Ralph Browne, Scofield Thayer, 1897

A History of Twentieth-century African Literatures Oyekan Owomoyela, 1993-01-01 African literatures says volume editor Oyekan Owomoyela testify to the great and continuing impact of the colonizing project on the African universe African writers must struggle constantly to define for themselves and other just what Africa is and who they are in a continent constructed as a geographic and cultural entity largely by Europeans This study reflects the legacy of colonialism by devoting nine of its thirteen chapters to literature in Europhone languages English French and Portuguese Foremost among the Anglophone writers discussed are Nigerians Amos Tutuola Chinua Achebe and Wole Soyinka Writers from East Africa are also represented as are those from South Africa Contributors for this section include Jonathan A Peters Arlene A Elder John F Povey Thomas Knipp and J Ndukaku Amankulor In African Francophone literature we see both writers inspired by the French assimilationist system and those influenced by Negritude the African culture affirmation movement Contributors here include Servanne Woodward Edris Makward and Alain Ricard African literature in Portuguese reflecting the nature of one of the most oppressive colonizing projects in Africa is treated by Russell G Hamilton Robert Cancel discusses African language literatures while Oyekan Owomoyela treats the question of the language of African literatures Carole Boyce Davies and Elaine Savory Fido focus on the special problems of African women writers while Hans M Zell deals with the broader issues of publishing censorship resources and organization

Race, Nation, and Religion in the Americas Henry Goldschmidt, Elizabeth McAlister, 2004-08-12 This collection of all new essays will explore the complex and unstable articulations of race and religion that have helped to produce Black White Creole Indian Asian and other racialized identities and communities in the Americas Drawing on original research in a range of disciplines the authors will investigate 1 how the intertwined categories of race and religion have defined and been defined by global relations of power and inequality 2 how racial and religious identities shape the everyday lives of individuals and communities and 3 how racialized and marginalized communities use religion and religious discourses to contest the persistent power of racism in societies structured by inequality Taken together these essays will define a new standard of critical conversation on race and religion throughout the Americas

Transforming Kafka Patrick O'Neill, 2014-11-21 Lyrical mysterious and laden with symbolism Franz Kafka's novels and stories have been translated into more than forty languages ranging from Icelandic to Japanese In Transforming Kafka Patrick O'Neill approaches these texts through the method he pioneered in Polyglot Joyce and Impossible Joyce considering the many translations of each work as a single multilingual macrotext Examining three novels The Trial The Castle and America and two short stories The Judgment and The Metamorphosis O'Neill offers comparative readings that consider both intertextual and intratextual themes His innovative approach shows how comparing translations extends and expands the potential meanings of the text and reveals the subtle differences among the hundreds of translations of Kafka's work A sophisticated analysis of the ways in which translation shapes rearranges and expands our understanding of literary works Transforming Kafka is a unique approach to reading the works of a literary giant World Encyclopedia of Contemporary Theatre Arthur Holmberg, Carlos Solorzano, 2014-06-03 The second volume of the World Encyclopedia of Contemporary Theatre covers the Americas from Canada to Argentina including the United States Entries on twenty six countries are preceded by specialist introductions on Theatre in Post Colonial Latin America Theatres of North America Puppet Theatre Theatre for Young Audiences Music Theatre and Dance Theatre The essays follow the series format allowing for cross referring across subjects both within the volume and between volumes Each country entry is written by specialists in the particular country and the volume has its own teams of regional editors overseen by the main editorial team based at the University of York in Canada headed by Don Rubin Each entry covers all aspects of theatre genres practitioners writers critics and styles with bibliographies over 200 black in conjunction with the other volumes in this series it forms a reference resource of unparalleled value Appletons' Annual Cyclopedia and Register of Important Events, 1898 Narratives in Motion Luís Trindade, 2016-06-01 Interwar Portugal was in many ways a microcosm of Europe's encounter with modernity reshaped by industrialization urban growth and the antagonism between liberalism and authoritarianism it also witnessed new forms of media and mass culture that transformed daily life This fascinating study of newspapers in 1920s Portugal explores how the new modernist reportage embodied the spirit of the era while mediating some of its most spectacular episodes from political upheavals to lurid crimes of passion In the process Lu's Trindade illuminates the twofold nature of that journalism both historical account and material object it epitomized a distinctly modern entanglement of narrative and event Routledge Handbook of Afro-Latin American Studies Bernd Reiter, John Antón Sánchez, 2022-11-08 This Handbook provides a comprehensive roadmap to the burgeoning area of Afro Latin American Studies Afro Latins as a civilization developed during the period of slavery obtaining cultural contributions from Indigenous and European worlds while today they are enriched by new social configurations derived from contemporary migrations from Africa The essays collected in this volume speak to scientific production that has been promoted in the region from the humanities and social sciences with the aim of understanding the phenomenon of the African diaspora as a specific civilizing element With contributions from world leading figures in their fields overseen by an eminent international editorial board this Handbook features original authoritative articles organized in four coherent parts Disciplinary Studies Problem Focused Fields Regional and Country Approaches Pioneers of Afro Latin American Studies The Routledge Handbook of Afro Latin American Studies will not only serve as the major reference text in the area of Afro Latin American Studies but will also provide the agenda for future new research Bridging the Island Ori Preuss, 2011 Explores the interplay between Brazilian interpretations of the national Self and the Spanish American Other during the critical years spanning the demise of slavery and monarchy Crescendo Rumor à Estatura de Cristo Eliezer
