Politicians For The People:

In Defense of Politicians Stephen K. Medvic, 2013 Politicians are reviled From jokes on late night TV talk shows to radio show rants and from public opinion polls to ubiquitous conventional wisdom politicians are among the most despised professional class in modern society Drawing on seminal work in political science Stephen K Medvic convincingly argues to the masses that this blanket condemnation of politicians is both unfair and unwarranted While some individual politicians certainly deserve scorn for misjudgments moral failings or even criminal acts the assumption that all of them should be cast in a similar light is unjustified More importantly that deeply cynical assumption is dangerous to the legitimacy of a democratic system of government Politicians as a class deserve respect not out of blind obedience to authority but because democratic deliberation requires it Medvic explains how cognitive biases in the way people reason often lead us to draw unjustified conclusions of politicians in general based on the malfeasance of some Scandals involving politicians are likely to be remembered and to serve as evidence of the belief that they all do it Most politicians in fact care deeply about their cities states and nation But they face a trap of unrealistic and contradictory expectations from the public about how politicians should behave Medvic in turn demonstrates the necessity of ambition the utility of politics for resolving conflicts peacefully and the value of ideology in framing political choices In the end citizens must learn to tolerate the inherent messiness of politics as the only viable alternative to violent conflict In the process we must embrace our role in the political system as well

Politicians Gaslighting Americans Dennis Gravelle, Jack Young, 2023-10-25 About the Book Across this country we seem to have elite politicians and big corporations telling us they should be trusted and that We the People should be little sheep and remain quiet so a new world order can be created They don t need our input since they already know what we want Mainstream media programs always want to get the experts advice so they get high profile politicians to talk down to Americans It is sad because most of America has become brainwashed That includes Democrat and Republican constituents Several of us see through the lies and are becoming more vocal This is a book where you the citizens of this great country tell everyone how we really feel about where this country is heading Politicians should read this and understand that we are fed up with the lack of action from them This book is easy to read the chapters are not long enough to bore you This book is dedicated to all those individuals who took the time to answer the questions I asked over several months This book covers current hot topics in America that are sure to affect our future Basically this book is by the people for the people and shares the opinions of the Soldiers that I interviewed I am sure that Jack and I will be criticized by some for these topics We don t care we must wake people up before we lose our basic rights and freedoms These fed up citizens who kindly agreed to be interviewed are Patriots and without them we could not have completed this book Jack and I are just the conduit everyone who shared their stories made writing this book for all people an amazing and rewarding experience About the Author Dennis Gravelle and Jack Young are forming a minor political party in South Carolina called the Independent Constitutional

Party They feel you must be the one to stand out in front and be a leader in politics rather than sit and complain Gravelle loves to golf go on walks going to the beach or watching a local band with a great friend Madeline Trying different restaurants for dinner is also a great way to meet people especially here in Myrtle Beach SC As a veteran he s a local member of the VFW Gravelle has a Bachelor of Science in Public Safety and Emergency Management and a Master of Science in Leadership with an emphasis in Homeland Security and Emergency Management After 9 11 he rejoined the military in the NY Army National Guard as a photojournalist service one year in Iraq writing stories about the amazing men and women Soldiers serving in a war zone

Politics for People Forrest David Mathews,1999 This volume points out that many Americans making no secret of their anger at being shut out of the political system are looking for ways to take that system back Because of their low opinion of politics as usual the author contends that some people are trying to create a politics relevant to their everyday lives He describes how people become politically engaged how they build civic communities and how they generate political energy or public will He argues that political discussion is the doorway into politics and he makes a case for infusing partisan debate with more public dialog He then explains what a democratic citizenry must do if representative government is to perform effectively and he shows how officials might work with and not just for the public The author integrates an examination of the dilemma of inaccessible politics with practical examples of ways in which ordinary citizens can manage influence and even capture the future of their own communities

How Politicians Polarize Mia Costa,2025-03-26 A fresh examination of political representation in an era of negative partisanship What does representation look like when politicians focus on othering the opposing party rather than the policy interests of their constituents How do voters react to negative partisan rhetoric And is policy responsiveness still the cornerstone of American representative democracy In How Politicians Polarize Mia Costa draws on survey experiments analysis of congressional newsletters and tweets and data on fundraising and media coverage to examine how and why politicians rely so often on negative partisan attacks Costa shows that most Americans do not like negative rhetoric and politicians know this Nonetheless these kinds of attacks can reap powerful rewards from national media donors and party elites Costa s findings challenge the popular notion that Americans are motivated more by their partisan identities than by policy representation Her research illuminates how the political ecosystem rewards negative representation and how this affects the quality of American democracy

Tatar, 2022-02-16 How do post communist citizens engage in the new democracies of Eastern Europe after decades of repressive control exerted by the communist regimes Are people's involvement in post communist politics influenced by generic socioeconomic and attitudinal traits or is it primarily driven by selective mobilization opportunities provided by social networks and organizations Democracy without Engagement Understanding Political Participation in Post Communist Romania presents a broad framework for conceptualizing and measuring citizen participation and applies it to Romania as a typical post communist democracy illustrating the low rates of political activism in the region Separate chapters examine post communist citizens participation in elections attempts to influence authorities beyond voting cognitive engagement in politics and direct involvement in local decision making Using large N statistical analyses the author argues that individuals socioeconomic and attitudinal characteristics have relatively weak influences on citizen participation in the post communist context Instead various organizations and social networks act as politically recruiting and mobilizing agents driving citizen participation into political actions that can challenge or strengthen democracy In the absence of a well developed participatory political culture that would enable citizens to act autonomously in the political sphere the persistence of post communist democracies largely depends on the goals and methods pursued by these mobilizing agents      The Political Thought of the Conservative
