Gordon, Ian Oxnevad, 2016-10-07 Middle East Politics for the New Millennium A Constructivist Approach looks at the politics of one of the world's most dynamic and challenging regions using the insights offered by constructivism By analyzing the role of ideas and repeated interaction the authors offer a refreshing long view analysis of the region s politics that differs from the crisis centric approach which is often utilized Covering the countries from the Persian Gulf to Turkey Egypt and across North Africa as well as the Israeli Palestinian conflict Middle East Politics for the New Millennium will aid students and analysts alike in understanding Middle East politics The Middle East ,1989 Religion and Politics in Comparative Perspective Ted Gerard Jelen, Clyde Wilcox, 2002-04 This book examines religion and politics in diverse countries or regions Islam Encountering Globalisation Ali Mohammadi, 2012-11-12 One of the greatest dilemmas facing Muslims today is the fact that Muslim culture is often seemingly incompatible with the culture of the modern Western world and the features associated with it technological progress consumerism and new electronic communication all of which have the potential for a homogenizing effect on any culture This book explores many key aspects of the globalisation process discussing how Muslim countries are coping with globalisation as well as considering how the West is responding to Islam Arab-Israeli Conflict Transformed Hemda Ben-Yehuda, Shmuel Sandler, 2012-02-01 The Middle East conflict be it between the state of Israel and Arab states or between Jews and Palestinians is a staple of international news Utilizing both theoretical approaches and empirical evidence Hemda Ben Yehuda and Shmuel Sandler argue that despite the recent upswing in violence particularly over the Palestinian issue conflict has gradually been giving way since the 1970s to a more orderly regime of conflict management By integrating ethnonational theoretical literature into their analysis the authors move beyond the current International Relations debate over the relative merits of realist neo realist approaches versus neo liberal institutional approaches Ethnic state disputes are the primary source for failing to terminate the Arab Israeli conflict United States And The Horn Of Africa Okbazghi Yohannes, 2019-06-26 The recent collapse of the bipolar world order has been accompanied by momentous changes dynamically setting the international system in motion toward an uncertain future Such a profound transformation of the international system mandates an evaluation of American foreign policy and the role of the United States in this radically changed world order In this insightful new book Okbazghi Yohannes examines the role of U S foreign policy with regard to the four countries that make up the Horn of Africa Eritrea Sudan Somalia and Ethiopia The book begins by analyzing the historical patterns and processes of American policy in relation to the African Horn during and after the Cold War offering a comprehensive description of the fundamental policy choices of the United States and the means chosen to achieve American objectives in the region Finally Yohannes considers the extent to which the American role in the African Horn aided or impeded the emergence of political democracy and the promotion of economic development within the region By juxtaposing this new method of examination with traditional approaches the book reveals a greater coherence in the structural relationship between U S policy and the politics of the African Horn Skillfully incorporating informative background material regarding the history politics and diplomacy of the countries covered by the study Yohannes addresses the interests of both the specialist and the general reader State Responses to Nuclear Proliferation Brian K. Chappell, 2021-01-07 Contemporary fears of rogue state nuclear proliferation and nuclear terrorism pose unique challenges for the global community This book offers a unique approach by examining why states that have the military capability to severely damage a proliferating state s nuclear program instead choose to pursue coercive diplomacy. The author argues cognitive psychological influences including the trauma derived from national tragedies like the September 11th attacks and the Holocaust and a history of armed conflict increase the threat perceptions of foreign policy decision makers when confronting a state perceived to be challenging the existing power structure by pursuing a nuclear weapon The powerful state s degree of perceived threat combined with its national security policies military power projection capabilities and public support then influence whether it will take no action use coercive diplomacy sanctions or employ military force to address the weaker state s nuclear ambitions The Making of Modern Turkey Ugur Ümit Üngör,2012-03-01 The eastern provinces of the Ottoman Empire used to be a multi ethnic region where Armenians Kurds Syriacs Turks and Arabs lived together in the same villages and cities The disintegration of the Ottoman Empire and rise of the nation state violently altered this situation Nationalist elites intervened in heterogeneous populations they identified as objects of knowledge management and change These often violent processes of state formation destroyed historical regions and emptied multicultural cities clearing the way for modern nation states The Making of Modern Turkey highlights how the Young Turk regime from 1913 to 1950 subjected Eastern Turkey to various forms of nationalist population policies aimed at ethnically homogenizing the region and incorporating it in the Turkish nation state It examines how the regime utilized technologies of social engineering such as physical destruction deportation spatial planning forced assimilation and memory politics to increase ethnic and cultural homogeneity within the nation state Drawing on secret files and unexamined records Ugur mit ng r demonstrates that concerns of state security ethnocultural identity and national purity were behind these policies The eastern provinces the heartland of Armenian and Kurdish life became an epicenter of Young Turk population policies and the theatre of unprecedented levels of mass violence The Kurds and US Foreign Policy Marianna Charountaki, 2010-10-18 This book provides a detailed survey and analysis of US Kurdish relations and their interaction with domestic regional and global politics Using the Kurdish issue to explore the nature of the engagement between international powers and weaker non state entities the author analyses the existence of an interactive US relationship with the Kurds of Iraq Drawing on governmental archives and interviews with political figures both in Northern Iraq and the United States the author places the case study within a broader International Relations context The conceptual framework centres on the inter relations between actors both state and non state and structures of material and ideational kinds while the detailed survey and analysis of US Kurdish relations in their interaction with domestic regional and global politics forms the empirical core of the study Stressing the intertwining of domestic and foreign policy as part of the same set of dynamics the case study explains the emergence of the interactive and institutionalized US relationship with the Kurds of Iraq that has brought about the formation within an Iraqi framework of an undeclared US official Kurdish policy in the post Saddam era Filling a gap in the literature on US Kurdish relations as well as the broader topic of International Relations this book will be of great interest to those in the areas of International Relations Middle Eastern and Kurdish Politics The Middle East and South Asia

2012 Malcolm Russell, 2012-08-09 This volume is designed to place in context the passionate controversies and emotional attachments of the two billion people who live study work love and die in the Middle East and South Asia Understanding these regions means more than annually updated details of the governments politics cultures and economies of the 24 nations and assorted territories Special chapters address significant issues of continuing international importance including access to water the role of oil and the 2011 Arab spring Both regions after all contain types of people misunderstood and often intensely disliked by others Where religion intrudes on politics the Afghan Taliban oppose educating girls Hindu fanatics rampage in India Iranian militiamen shoot demonstrators Islamic extremists impose shari a law and Jewish Ultra Orthodox send women to the back of the bus Readers bombarded with superficial news bites and slanted reporting might never sense the other accomplishments of these same societies Islamic charities and societies bring relief to the impoverished Israel's scholars win Nobel prizes and most Indians cherish long standing religious toleration The author of this volume attempts to let the reader draw conclusions from the evidence America's War against Global Jihad William R. Nester, 2018-03-06 A specter haunts America the specter of Global Jihad Islamic Holy War This specter was never more horrific than on September 11 2001 when nineteen fanatics hijacked four jetliners and used them as guided missiles to destroy the twin World Trade Towers damage the Pentagon murder nearly 3 000 people and cause as much as several hundred billion dollars worth of direct and indirect damage to New York City and the national economy But Jihadists have periodically attacked Americans ever since November 1979 when mobs shouting death to America overran the American embassy in Tehran and held 52 officials hostage for 444 days President George W Bush responded to the September 11 atrocities by declaring a global war on terror Now in its second decade that war has cost the United States thousands of lives and trillions of dollars Americans are haunted by horrific televised images from across a swath of the Muslim world of bomb blasted cities hundreds of slaughtered bodies thousands of refugees huddled in squalid camps and American journalists in orange jump suits kneeling in the desert before the black robed and masked men who will behead them Americans increasingly question whether the global war on terror has been worth those costs for their own nation and the lands where it is fought This book analyzes America's crusade against Jihadism The key related questions it addresses are these Looking back what were the successes and failures of Washington's counter Jihadist strategy before and after September 11 Looking ahead should Americans stay the course or cut their losses in Iraq Afghanistan and elsewhere Was the catastrophic September 11 attack a one time event or could its equivalent or worse in death and destruction happen again Renowned Harvard professor Samuel Huntington asserted that The underlying problem for the West is not Islamic fundamentalism it is Islam a different civilization whose people are convinced of the superiority of their culture and are obsessed with the inferiority of their power Is that true Just what of Muhammad s words and deeds if any justifies the barbarism of al Qaeda Islamic State and other Jihadists Finally just how corporeal is that specter of global Jihad to the United States A startling surprise awaits the reader in the final chapter as acclaimed expert William Nester weighs the specter of global Jihad against an array of other national security threats In the Mirror of the Third World Sandra Halperin, 2018-09-05 In Marx s familiar dictum the more developed country shows the less developed an image of its own future Turning this idea upside down In the Mirror of the Third World looks to the contemporary Third World for a reflection of European history The resulting view challenges standard accounts of European social economic and political development Sandra Halperin s analysis of the European experience begins where studies of Third World development often start considering the legacies of colonial domination Europe also had a colonial past she reminds us and the states of Europe like those of today s Third World were the product of colonialism and imperialism From this starting point Halperin traces features characteristic of Third World development through the history of European capitalism enclave economies oriented to foreign markets weak middle classes alliances among the state traditional landowning elites and new industrial classes unstable and partial democracy sharp inequalities and increasing poverty all as much a part of European society on the eve of World War I as they are of developing countries today Halperin also emphasizes the emergence of a militant literal religion in Europe and its critical role in the class struggles of the nineteenth century Politics and Change in the Middle East Roy Andersen, Robert F. Seibert, Jon G. Wagner, 2009 This edition presents an intensive update of facts figures and events It contains extensive discussion of democracy and contains an abundance of visual aids and maps Political Transformation of Gulf Tribal States Shaul Yanai, 2014-09-01 The reform movements and attempts to establish parliamentary institutions in the Persian Gulf states of Kuwait Bahrain and Dubai between the First World War and the independent era of the 1970s were not inspired by western example or by any tradition of civil representation The move to a parliamentary system not only represented a milestone in the history of the region creating a legacy for future generations but was a unique transition in the Arab world The transformation of these states from loose chiefdoms of minimal coherence and centralization into centralizing and institutionalized monarchies involved the setting up of primary institutions of government the demarcation of borders and establishment of a monarchical order As this new political and social order evolved ideas of national struggle and national rights penetrated Gulf societies Gulf citizens who had spent time in Arab states mostly in Egypt and Iraq took part in the genesis of a public Arab Gulf national discourse enabling the Gulf population to become acquainted with national struggles for independence As a result merchants of notable families newly educated elements and even workers began to oppose the dominance of the rulers Both the rulers and the commercial elites including members of the ruling families tried to formulate a new and different social contract with the rulers seeking to entrench their political power by using new administrative means and financial power Opposition against this current crystallized in 1938 among the ranks of the commercial oligarchy as well as within the ruling families In spite of its failure to create its own political institutions the oligarchy remained the foremost social and economic class But the ruling families could no longer treat national oil revenues as their private income and they began to channel part of these funds to public needs The most important consequence of the 1938 movement was the formation of a new social contract between the two traditional power centers the governing structures were fitted into the political and economic reality brought about by the oil wealth but remained essentially tribal and committed to the power division between the major Gulf families The Israeli-Egyptian Peace Process in the Reporting of Western Journalists Mohammed el-Nawawy, 2002-01-30 Of the enormous number of books published on the Arab Israeli conflict most focus on its history or the political dimensions of the current peace process None however has provided an in depth look at the relationship between those who shape the events and the Western journalists who cover them In this bold new study Mohammed A el Nawawy explores the ways in which government officials try to manipulate the news media how the reporters contend with such interference the professional and newsmaking roles of the journalists and how their demographic and educational backgrounds influence their coverage of this crucial time and place Through interviews with 168 Western correspondents 94 in Israel and 74 in Egypt who together represent more than 88 percent of the whole population of foreign correspondents in the Middle East the author provides an invaluable source of information on the day to day activities of reporters in the region as well as their interactions with government officials Women and Islam in Bangladesh T. Hashmi, 2000-03-10 This work of research by Taj Hashmi puts the issue of women s position in society in historical as well as Islamic perspectives to relate it to the objective conditions in Bangladesh In eight illuminating chapters he narrates how Quranic edicts about women have through the ages been misinterpreted by the power elites and the mullahs to suppress women Even NGOs are not immune from exploiting them Hope according to the author lies in the literacy and economic self reliance of the Bangladeshi women
