Resolving the Russo-Japanese Territorial Dispute Brad Williams, 2007-06-11 The unresolved territorial dispute between Japan and Russia over the South Kuril Islands Northern Territories remains the largest obstacle to concluding a peace treaty and fully normalising bilateral relations between the two nations This book traces the evolution of transnational relations between subnational public authorities in Hokkaido and Sakhalin examining the interrelationship between these ties and the Russo Japanese territorial dispute The book investigates why the development of Hokkaido Sakhalin relations has failed to create at the subnational level an environment conducive to resolving kankyo seibi the South Kuril Islands Northern Territories dispute Brad Williams suggests that kankyo seibi has not worked primarily because Russia's troubled transition to a liberal democratic market economy has manifested itself in ways that have ultimately increased the South Kuril Islands intrinsic and instrumental value for the Sakhalin public and regional elite This in turn has limited the impact from the twin transnational processes of cultural and economic exchange in alleviating opposition to the transferral of these disputed islands to Japan Drawing upon a wealth of primary and secondary sources from both countries this book utilises levels of analysis and an analytical framework that incorporates national and subnational as well as governmental and non governmental forces to discuss a relatively unexplored aspect of Russo Japanese relations As such Resolving the Russo Japanese Territorial Dispute will appeal to students and scholars of Asian politics international relations and post communist states

Locating the Proper Authorities Daniel William Drezner, 2010-09-22 In an era of democratization and globalization the number of decision makers has multiplied exponentially Parliamentarians bureaucrats international secretariats regional governors and nongovernmental organizations have all gained influence at the expense of heads of state How do these competing layers of authority bargain with each other to govern International relations theorists have traditionally focused on how leaders domestic constraints affect their bargaining position internationally However there has been much less work on the flip side of this question how foreign policy leaders can use international institutions as a means of circumventing or co opting domestic opposition Locating the Proper Authorities offers some preliminary answers drawn from a number of theoretical perspectives by the contributors to this volume Written by some of the most promising theorists in the field of international relations the essays in Locating the Proper Authorities address a broad array of substantive issue areas including humanitarian intervention trade dispute settlement economic development democratic transition and security cooperation This broad case selection has the virtue of incorporating developing countries which are too often ignored in international relations as well as less well known international organizations Each chapter examines the mechanisms and strategies through which policy entrepreneurs use international organizations as a means of bypassing or overcoming opposition to policy change By examining the effects of different institutional design features Locating the Proper Authorities helps us understand the variety of influence mechanisms through which international institutions shape the interaction of policy initiators and ratifiers Daniel W Drezner is Assistant Professor of Political Science University of Chicago

Politics and Economics in the Russian Far East: Russia, the Russian Far East and the Asia-Pacific neighbors Tsuneo Akaha, 1997

Security, Arms Control and Defence Restructuring in East Asia Bjørn Møller, 2019-01-22 First published in 1998 this volume examines East Asia especially Northeast Asia which has been a region of considerable political security of importance for several key reasons It features several great and medium powers China Japan and Russia as well as North and South Korea Even though no arms race is yet discernible among these states with the partial exception of the two Koreas it is conceivable that one might commence If it did the level of militarization could become quite alarming if only because of the tremendous and rapidly growing economic potential of the regional states Even though relations among regional states except the two Koreas are currently peaceful the region features several unresolved issues e g concerning territory and a historical legacy of enmity between several states To prevent such conflicts of interest from erupting into armed conflict is of the utmost importance A stabilizing factor is that the military potentials in the region are still predominantly defensively oriented i e most states lack the requisite power projection or invasion capabilities to inflict serious harm on each other However this might change in the not so distant future Hence the importance of confidence building measures of an institutionalization of regional relations and of a strengthening of commitments to defensive military strategies and postures

Japanese-Russian Relations, 1907-2007 Joseph Ferguson, 2008-04-03 This book provides a comprehensive survey of Japanese Russian relations from the end of the Russo Japanese War until the present Based on extensive original research in both Japanese and Russian sources it traces the development of relations from the tumultuous pre war period through the Second World War Cold War and post Cold War periods Considering the wider international situation domestic influences and ideological factors throughout it shows how the hopeful period of the late 1990s when Japanese Russian relations briefly ceased to be acrimonious and it seemed that normal relations might be established was not unique Joseph P Ferguson argues there have been several previous occasions when rapprochement seemed possible which in the end proved elusive rapprochement frequently becoming the victim of domestic factors which frequently worked against and took precedence over good relations The book concludes with an assessment of the present situation and of how relations are likely to develop in the immediate future The Russian Armed Forces at the Dawn of the Millennium ,2000 This anthology is an outgrowth of a conference titled The Russian Armed Forces at the Dawn of the Millennium held at the Collins Center of the Army War College s Center for Strategic Leadership from 7 through 9 February 2000 The genesis for the conference was the realization by several members of the staff of the Collins Center and Army War College faculty that the U S led NATO operation in Kosovo resulted in a significant shift of Russian views on the United States and NATO The conference also complemented our general objective of examining the changing environment in which the United States including its armed forces finds itself The conference brought together over 50 individuals from academia and the policy and intelligence communities to examine the current state of the Russian military Focusing primarily on the socio political dimension of the military but not ignoring the military technical dimension the presentations delivered during the conference looked at Russia s domestic environment the state of the military perceived threats and Russia s capacity to generate responses to those threats DTIC web site Good Governance in the Era of Global Neoliberalism Jolle Demmers,Alex E. Fernández Jilberto,Barbara Hogenboom,2004-08-02 The contributions cover a wide range of territories Argentina Russia the Ukraine Indonesia and Taiwan The book will be the first to call into question the idea of good governance and exactly what that implies The editors have a good track record and have been widely published in the area Book should be of great appeal to all international and development economists
