Politics and Elections in Nineteenth-Century Liverpool Neil Collins, 2017-07-05 This monograph provides a detailed account of one of England's most important cities at a crucial period in the development of popular democracy. It traces the sectarian conflicts, ethnic tensions and social adjustments of Liverpool as they affected and indeed still affect the city's politics. It addresses the historical anomaly of Liverpool's loyalty to the Conservative party, anomalous because the Liberals had a firm grip on power in every other great northern city of the period. Politics and Elections in Nineteenth Century Liverpool Neil COLLINS, 1975 Trade and Traders in Mid-Victorian Liverpool Graeme J. Milne, 2000-01-01 This book charts the development of Liverpool's trade, shipping and business culture in the third quarter of the nineteenth century. It assesses the causes and consequences of major changes in the port's economy. Breaking Into the Monopoly Yukihiisa Kumagai, 2012-11-08 In Breaking into the Monopoly Yukihiisa Kumagai examines how the commercial pressure groups of Glasgow, Liverpool and Manchester organised campaigns to end the British East India Company's monopoly from 1812, 1813 and 1829, 1833. The Liberal Unionist Party Ian Cawood, 2012-08-14 The Liberal Unionist party was one of the shortest lived political parties in British history. It was formed in 1886 by a faction of the Liberal party led by Lord Hartington which opposed Irish home rule. In 1895 it entered into a coalition government with the Conservative party and in 1912, now under the leadership of Joseph Chamberlain, it amalgamated with the Conservatives. Ian Cawood here uses previously unpublished archival material to provide the first complete study of the Liberal Unionist party. He argues that the party was a genuinely successful political movement with widespread activist and popular support which resulted in the development of an authentic Liberal Unionist culture across Britain in the mid 1890s. The issues which this book explores are central to an understanding of the development of the twentieth century Conservative party, the emergence of a national political culture and the problems, both organisational and ideological, of a sustained period of coalition in the British parliamentary system. The Foreign Political Press in Nineteenth-Century London Constance Bantman, Ana Cláudia Suriani da Silva, 2017-12-14 In a period of turmoil when European and international politics were in constant reshaping, immigrants and political exiles living in London set up periodicals which contributed actively to national and international political debates. Reflecting an interdisciplinary and international discussion, this book offers a rare long term specialist perspective into the cosmopolitan and multilingual world of the foreign political press in London, with an emphasis on periodicals published in European languages. It furthers current research into political exile, the role of print culture and personal networks as intercultural agents and the dynamics of transnational political and cultural exchange in global capitals. Individual chapters deal with Brazilian, French, German, Indian, Italian, Portuguese, Spanish, Spanish American and Russian periodicals. Overarching themes include a historical survey of foreign political groups present in London throughout the long 19th century and the causes and movements they championed, analyses of the press in local and transnational contexts and a focus on its actors and on the material conditions in which this press was created and disseminated The Foreign Political Press in Nineteenth Century London is a useful volume for students and academics with an interest in 19th century politics or the history of the press

Transactions of the Historic Society of Lancashire and Cheshire for the Year ... Historic Society of Lancashire and Cheshire, 1997 List of members in each volume      Museum Architecture Suzanne MacLeod, 2013-04-12 Recent decades have witnessed an explosion of museum building around the world and the subsequent publication of multiple texts dedicated to the subject Museum Architecture A new biography focuses on the stories we tell of museum buildings in order to explore the nature of museum architecture and the problems of architectural history when applied to the museum and gallery Starting from a discussion of the key issues in contemporary museum design the book explores the role of architectural history in the prioritisation of specific stories of museum building and museum architects and the exclusion of other actors from the history of museum making These omissions have contemporary relevance and impact directly on the ways in which the physical structures of museums are shaped Theoretically the book places a particular emphasis on the work of Pierre Bourdieu and Henri Lefebvre in order to establish an understanding of buildings as social relations the outcome of complex human interactions and relationships The book utilises a micro history an in depth case study of the National Gallery of the North the Walker Art Gallery in Liverpool to expose the myriad ways in which museum architecture is made Coupled with this detailed exploration is an emphasis on contemporary museum design which utilises the understanding of the social realities of museum making to explore ideas for a socially sustainable museum architecture fit for the twenty first century

Reclaiming the Streets Roy Coleman, 2012-12-06 This book makes a key contribution to theoretical debates around social control providing a study of social control in Liverpool city centre exploring the development of and meaning attributed to social control practices by those at the centre of the implementation and management of these practices      Carceral Mobilities Jennifer Turner, Kimberley Peters, 2016-12-01 Mobilities research is now centre stage in the social sciences with wide ranging work that considers the politics underscoring the movements of people and objects critically examining a world that is ever on the move At first glance the words carceral and mobilities seem to sit uneasily together This book challenges the assumption that carceral life is characterised by a lack of movement Carceral Mobilities brings together contributions that speak to contemporary debates across carceral studies and mobilities research offering fresh insights to both areas by identifying and unpicking the manifold mobilities that shape and are shaped by carceral regimes It features four sections that move the reader through the varying typologies of motion underscoring carceral life tension circulation distribution and transition Each mobilities led section seeks to explore the politics encapsulated in specific regimes of carceral movement With contributions from leading scholars and a range of international examples this book provides an authoritative voice on carceral mobilities from a variety of perspectives including criminology sociology history cultural theory human geography and urban planning This book offers a first port of call for those examining spaces of detention asylum imprisonment and containment who are increasingly interested in questions of movement in relation to the management control and confinement of populations

Britain's Greatest Prime Minister Martin Hutchinson, 2021-01-01 Britain's Greatest Prime Minister Lord Liverpool unpicks two centuries of Whig history to redeem Lord Liverpool 1770-1828 from arch mediocrity and establish him as the greatest political leader the country has ever seen. In the past biographers of Lord Liverpool have not sufficiently acknowledged the importance of his foremost skill: economic policy, including fiscal, monetary and banking system questions. Here Hutchinson's decades of experience in the finance sector provide a more specialised perspective on Liverpool's economic legacy than most historians are able to offer. From his adept handling of unparalleled economic and social difficulties to his strategic defeat of Napoleon and unprecedented approach to the subsequent peace process, Liverpool is shown to have set Britain's course for prosperity and effective government for the following century. In addition to granting him his rightful place among British Prime Ministers on both domestic and foreign policy grounds, Hutchinson advances how a proper regard for Liverpool's career might have changed the structure and policies of today's government for the better.

Networks of Influence and Power Robert Lee, 2023-12-01 During the nineteenth century Liverpool became the heart of an international maritime network. As the second city of Empire, its merchants and shipowners operated within a transnational commercial and financial system while its trading connections stimulated the development of new markets and their integration within an increasingly global economy. This ground-breaking volume brings together ten original contributions that reflect upon the development of the city's business community from the early nineteenth century to the outbreak of the First World War, with an emphasis on the period from 1851 to 1912. It offers the first detailed analysis of Liverpool's merchant community within a conceptual and historiographical framework which focuses on the economic, social and cultural role of business elites in the nineteenth century. It explores the extent to which business success was predicated on the maintenance of networks of trust, analyses the importance of business culture in structuring commercial operations and discusses the role of ethics, trust and reputation within the changing framework of the business environment. Particular attention is paid to the role of women and the important contribution of the family to commercial success and the maintenance of social networks. Changes in business practice and social networks are also examined within a spatial context in order to assess the impact of the development of a distinct commercial centre and the clustering of commercial activity on interaction, reputation and trust, while particular attention is paid to the effect of suburbanization on existing associational networks, the social cohesiveness of business culture and the cultural identity of the merchant community as a whole.

Dominion Peter Ackroyd, 2018-10-09 Ackroyd, as always, is well worth the read. Kirkus starred review. Dominion, the fifth volume of Peter Ackroyd's masterful History of England, begins in 1815 as national glory following the Battle of Waterloo gives way to a post-war depression and ends with the death of Queen Victoria in January 1901. Spanning the end of the Regency, Ackroyd takes readers from the accession of the profligate George IV whose government was steered by Lord

Liverpool whose face was set against reform to the Sailor King William IV whose reign saw the modernization of the political system and the abolition of slavery But it was the accession of Queen Victoria at only eighteen years old that sparked an era of enormous innovation Technological progress from steam railways to the first telegram swept the nation and the finest inventions were showcased at the first Great Exhibition in 1851 The emergence of the middle classes changed the shape of society and scientific advances changed the old pieties of the Church of England and spread secular ideas among the population Though intense industrialization brought booming times for the factory owners the working classes were still subjected to poor housing long work hours and dire poverty Yet by the end of Victoria's reign the British Empire dominated much of the globe and Britannia really did seem to rule the waves

Law and Society in England 1750-1950 William Cornish, Stephen Banks, Charles Mitchell, Paul Mitchell, Rebecca Probert, 2019-10-31 Law and Society in England 1750-1950 is an indispensable text for those wishing to study English legal history and to understand the foundations of the modern British state In this new updated edition the authors explore the complex relationship between legal and social change They consider the ways in which those in power themselves imagined and initiated reform and the ways in which they were obliged to respond to demands for change from outside the legal and political classes What emerges is a lively and critical account of the evolution of modern rights and expectations and an engaging study of the formation of contemporary social administrative and legal institutions and ideas and the road that was travelled to create them The book is divided into eight chapters Institutions and Ideas Land Commerce and Industry Labour Relations The Family Poverty and Education Accidents and Crime This extensively referenced analysis of modern social and legal history will be invaluable to students and teachers of English law political science and social history

The Nineteenth Century, 1879 Transformative Beauty Amy Woodson-Boulton, 2012-03-21 Why did British industrial cities build art museums By exploring the histories of the municipal art museums in Birmingham Liverpool and Manchester Transformative Beauty examines the underlying logic of the Victorian art museum movement These museums attempted to create a space free from the moral and physical ugliness of industrial capitalism Deeply engaged with the social criticism of John Ruskin reformers created a new prominent urban institution a domesticated public space that not only aimed to provide refuge from the corrosive effects of industrial society but also provided a remarkably unified secular alternative to traditional religion Woodson Boulton raises provocative questions about the meaning and use of art in relation to artistic practice urban development social justice education and class In today's context of global austerity and shrinking government support of public cultural institutions this book is a timely consideration of arts policy and purposes in modern society

We shall not be moved Brian Marren, 2016-05-01 The city of Liverpool had frequently been prone to industrial unrest for most of its recent history but it was the dawn of Thatcher and the sanctioning of neoliberal economic strategies which made Liverpool a nucleus of resistance against the encroaching tide of right wing politics and sweeping de industrialisation This critique explores six case studies which will illustrate how elements of a highly politicised local working class fought against the rapid rise in forced redundancies and industrial closures. Some of their responses included strikes, factory occupations, the organisation and politicisation of the unemployed, consent to radical left wing municipal politics as well as tacit endorsement of a period of violent civil unrest. This critique concludes that in the range, intensity and use of innovative tactics deployed during these conflicts, Liverpool was distinctive. Biographical Dictionary of British Prime Ministers Robert Eccleshall, Graham Walker, 2002-06-01. The Biographical Dictionary of British Prime Ministers is a wide ranging comprehensive guide to the political lives of Britain's prime ministers from Sir Robert Walpole to Tony Blair. Written by some of the leading authorities on British politics, this authoritative dictionary provides essential information about each premiership, including facts and analytical debate. Each entry has been written to the same formula and contains brief biographical information outlining career history and significant dates and events, a brief summary of the significance and peculiarities of a particular prime minister, followed by a more descriptive and interpretative account of his or her political life and impact on British politics, references and further reading. The Biographical Dictionary of British Prime Ministers addresses many of the key themes to understanding the role and impact of particular prime ministers, such as the political context, party management and reform, intra party intellectual debate and, where relevant, the evolution of the office of prime minister. Lancashire and the New Liberalism P. F. Clarke, 2007-03-26. Why was there a Liberal Government in Britain from 1905 until the First World War? And why was the Liberal party replaced by the Labour party so shortly afterwards? These are the kinds of problems which Dr Clarke examines in his study of the Liberal revival in Lancashire. The vote in north west England was largely responsible for bringing the Liberal Government into power and for maintaining its position, but it also produced almost half the new Labour MPs in 1906. Thus any satisfactory interpretation of electoral history in the early twentieth century must account for what happened in Lancashire. This book calls into question many of the conventional assumptions about British politics in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. Historical Sir James Allanson Picton, James Allanson Picton, 1907.
