

AFRICA DEMOCRACY INDEX

Virtually no one in Africa lives under full democracy, aside from Mauritius. In fact, only 12% of countries in Africa are operating as some type of democracy.

Nigeria's recent elections were challenged after claims that the turnout numbers were massively mismatched with the number of people that registered and showed up to vote.

Politics Government In African States:

Politics and Government in African States Peter Duignan, Robert H. Jackson, 2022-08-01 Originally published in 1986 Politics and Government in African States 1960 1985 deals with the politics of sub Saharan African states since independence Each chapter considers the formal structure of government at the time of independence and traces the subsequent changes Each chapter also describes the development of the state machinery the civil service the parastatals defence and police forces party structure the political opposition and trade unions The economics of African states are dealt with insofar as they affect politics and government African State Governance A. Carl LeVan, Joseph Olayinka Fashagba, Edward R. McMahon, 2016-02-05 Africa is changing and it is easy to overlook how decentralization democratization and new forms of illiberalism have transformed federalism political parties and local politics Chapters on Kenya Nigeria Ethiopia and South Africa help fill an important gap in comparative institutional research about state and local politics in Africa An Introduction to African Politics Alex Thomson, 2005-02-28 An Introduction to African Politics is the ideal textbook for those new to the study of this vast and fascinating continent It makes sense of the diverse political systems that are a feature of Africa by using familiar concepts chapter by chapter to examine the continent as a whole The result is a textbook that identifies the essential features of African politics allowing students to grasp the recurring political patterns that have dominated this part of the world since independence Features and benefits of the book include thematically organised with individual chapters exploring issues such as colonialism ethnicity nationalism social class ideology legitimacy sovereignty and democracy identifies the key recurrent theme of competitive relationships between the African state its civil society and external interests contains useful boxed case studies of key countries at the end of each chapter including Kenya Tanzania Nigeria Botswana Ivory Coast Uganda Somalia Ghana Zaire and Algeria each chapter concludes with key terms and definitions as well as questions advice on further reading and useful notes and references clearly and accessibly written by an experienced teacher of the subject Comparative Political and Economic Perspectives on the MENA Region Erdoğan, M. Mustafa, Christiansen, Bryan, 2015-12-22 The region that includes the Middle East and Northern Africa MENA faces a diverse set of cultural political and economic issues Exploring the countries that are considered to be a part of the MENA region as well as comparing this region to the rest of the developing and developed world provides essential insight into the current state of the region as well and its future outlook Comparative Political and Economic Perspectives on the MENA Region takes a critical approach to analyzing the socio economic development of the MENA Region and the role of politics and various social issues in this development Highlighting research based perspectives from global leaders on topics such as decentralization international affairs the Arab Spring foreign direct investment and education in the Middle East and Northern Africa this publication is designed for library reference section inclusion and meets the research needs of government officials professionals specializing in international business economists researchers and graduate level students in the areas of economics international politics African and Middle Eastern studies and regional development African Politics Joelien Pretorius,2008 In 1991 Samuel Huntington published The Third Wave Democratisation in the Late Twentieth Century The book informed much of the scholarly work on democratisation in Africa Although comprehensive in classifying the causes and limitations of transitions to democracy The Third Wave was also limited in its definition of democracy and expectations of a new democracy This volume engages with the topics of democracy and democratisation in contemporary African politics at the local national and continental level It acknowledges a conceptual debt to Huntington when discussing elections party systems leadership and the development of continental norms of liberal democracy but also highlights new conversations eg about participatory spaces that go beyond the Third Wave Buffer States In World Politics John Chay,2019-03-13 Buffer states countries geographically and or politically situated between two or more regional or global powers function to maintain peace between the larger powers Contributors to this book the first devoted to the buffer state concept analyze the geographical and political factors necessary for the establishment and maintenance of a buffer state and examine its role in helping to maintain world peace The problems and prospects of buffer states and buffer zones and the multiple roles played by the buffer in international politics are also explored Using information from a number of countries including Lebanon Afghanistan Korea and Uruguay the contributors argue that the function of the buffer state has not diminished with the advance of modern technology but that the prospects for a long life for any particular buffer state are tenuous Nevertheless they conclude that although the international benefits from any one buffer state tend to be short term the continued existence of the system will be an important element in preventing armed conflict in many parts of the world ideologies in a world of change Heraclitus of Ephesus an ancient philosopher and one of the important thinkers in human history said that change is the basic law of nature and the condition of all things All things are in a state of flux You cannot step twice into the same river for just as water in a river is ceaselessly changing so are all things in a state of flux In relation to Africa's historical experience Alik Shahadah observes that Africa is a continent where cultures have smashed through deserts crossed trade routes traveled through immigration borders disregarding her notions of geography and race and names foods cultures religions genetics have jumped between Asia and Africa etc with blatant disregard for our social constructions The Association for the Promotion of African Studies in her 2018 international conference provided a context for African scholars to study African ideologies in a world of change especially as it concerns politics and development in Africa from a variety of points of view This piece which is a collection of academic papers from seventeen scholars focuses on the processes of change and disorganization of the various traditional social and cultural patterns and organizations and then on the possible recrystallization of some traditional elements within the more modern and differentiated societies

African Political Parties M. A. Mohamed Salih, 2003-02-20 This book interrogates the political health of African political parties and evaluates the theory and practice of party functions ideology and structure Through fresh analysis using a variety of case studies the authors question the democratic credentials of African political parties and propose new methods for achieving inclusive broad based representation Themes include the evolution and institutionalisation of African political parties the unique historical political and social circumstances that shaped their structures and functions In the governance trajectory the authors question the relationship between African political parties and government political parties and representation political parties and electoral systems and political parties and parliament Case studies include Ethiopia Ghana Kenya Botswana Namibia South Africa Tanzania Zambia Zimbabwe and many others African Agency in International Politics William Brown, Sophie Harman, 2013-03-20 This book analyses the rapidly increasing role of African states leaders and other political actors in international politics in the 21st Century In contrast to the conventional approach of studying how external actors impacted on Africa's international relations this book seeks to open up a new approach focusing on the impact of African political actors on international politics It does this by analysing African agency the degree to which African political actors have room to manoeuvre within the international system and exert influence internationally and the uses they make of that room for manoeuvre Bringing together leading scholars from Africa and Europe to explore the role and conception of African Agency this book addresses a wide range of issues from relations with western and non western donors Africa's role in the UN and World Trade Organisation negotiations over climate change trade agreements with the European Union regional diplomatic strategies the character and extent of African state agency and agency within corporate social responsibility initiatives African Agency in International Politics will be of interest to scholars and students of Africa's international relations African politics development geography diplomacy trade the environment political science and security studies The Political Impact of African Military Leaders Sabella Ogbobode Abidde, Felix Kumah-Abiwu, 2023-06-28 This edited volume examines the cases of four African military leaders who had enormous impact on the continent and beyond These military officers and later heads of state Jerry Rawlings of Ghana Moammar Gaddafi of Libya Thomas Sankara of Burkina Faso and Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt were provocative and polarizing figures beloved domestically but mostly viewed with suspicion and hostility by foreign governments This volume studies these leaders as a group engaging in a critical but systematic examination of their personalities leadership styles official performance legacies and their continuing impact on the future and political destiny of the continent Providing a survey of controversial but important African political figures this volume will be of use to scholars and students in the social sciences especially those interested in African history African studies military science Black studies political science leadership studies and the politics of developing nations The African State in Transition Zaki Ergas, 1987-10-20 In the first twenty five years of African independence the behaviour of the African state elites has not been with a few notable exceptions conducive to self sustained development What are the reasons for this sorry state of affairs What can be done to reverse that unfortunate trend These are the two overarching questions with which this book attempts to grapple African Economies and the Politics of Permanent Crisis, 1979-1999 Nicolas Van de Walle, 2001-09-24 This 2001 book explains why African countries have remained mired in a disastrous economic crisis since the late 1970s It shows that dynamics internal to African state structures largely explain this failure to overcome economic difficulties rather than external pressures on these same structures as is often argued Far from being prevented from undertaking reforms by societal interest and pressure groups clientelism within the state elite ideological factors and low state capacity have resulted in some limited reform but much prevarication and manipulation of the reform process by governments which do not really believe that reform will be effective which often oppose reforms because they would undercut the patronage and rent seeking practices which undergird political authority and which lack the administrative and technical capacity to implement much reform Over time state decay has increased
