Environmental History in the Making Estelita Vaz, Cristina Joanaz de Melo, Lúcia M. Costa Pinto, 2016-10-13 This book is the product of the 2nd World Conference on Environmental History held in Guimarães Portugal in 2014 It gathers works by authors from the five continents addressing concerns raised by past events so as to provide information to help manage the present and the future It reveals how our cultural background and examples of past territorial intervention can help to combat political and cultural limitations through the common language of environmental benefits without disguising harmful past human interventions Considering that political ideologies such as socialism and capitalism as well as religion fail to offer global paradigms for common ground an environmentally positive discourse instead of an ecological determinism might serve as an umbrella common language to overcome blocking factors real or invented and avoid repeating ecological loss Therefore agency environmental speech and historical research are urgently needed in order to sustain environmental paradigms and overcome political cultural and economic interests in the public arena This book intertwines reflections on our bonds with landscapes processes of natural and scientific transfer across the globe the changing of ecosystems the way in which scientific knowledge has historically both accelerated destruction and allowed a better distribution of vital resources or as it in today's world can offer alternatives that avoid harming those same vital natural resources water soil and air In addition it shows the relevance of cultural factors both in the taming of nature in favor of human comfort and in the role of the environment matters in the forging of cultural identities which cannot be detached from technical intervention in the world In short the book firstly studies the past approaching it as a data set of how the environment has shaped culture secondly seeks to understand the present and thirdly assesses future perspectives what to keep what to change and what to dream anew considering that conventional solutions have not sufficed to protect life on our planet

Occupying Subjectivity Chris Rossdale, 2017-10-02 This book explores a variety of forms of radical political subjectivity It takes its cue from the 2011 uprisings in the Middle East and North Africa the Occupy Movement and the European Anti Austerity Movement alongside the wider opposition to authoritarian and neoliberal forms of governance from which they sprang in order to ask an urgent series of questions about the subject of radical politics Who or what is it that engages in resistance Who or what should they be And how are we to negotiate the many complexities of that second question The contributions drawing on a wide range of theoretical traditions offer a rich series of provocations towards new ways of conceptualising evaluating and imagining radical political praxis They engage different kinds of subjects including protestors dancers self burners academics settlers and humans in order to think through the ways in which contemporary subjects are constituted within and work to unsettle dominant relations of power Together the chapters open up spaces to think about how political and intellectual commitment to social change can be enlivened through attention to the subject of radical politics This book was published as a special issue of Globalizations Interspecies Politics Rafi Youatt,2020-02-25 Politics with the environment Handbook of Critical Environmental Politics Pellizzoni, Luigi,Leonardi, Emanuele,Asara, Viviana,2022-10-20 This timely Handbook offers a comprehensive outlook on global environmental politics providing readers with an up to date view of a field of ever increasing academic and public significance Its critical perspective interrogates what is taken for granted in current institutions and social and power relations highlighting the issues preventing meaningful change in the relationship between human societies and their biophysical underpinnings This title contains one or more Open Access chapters The Politics of Protection Jef Huysmans,Andrew Dobson,Raia Prokhovnik,2006-05-17 This new book shows how from the end of the Cold War the security agenda has been transformed and redefined academically and politically It focuses on the theme of protection It moves away from the dominant question of whom or what is threatening to the crucial questions of who is to be protected and in the case of conflicting claims who has the capacity to define whose needs prevail It also poses the question of political agency in relation to some of the most significant questions raised in relation to the governance of insecurity and protection in the contemporary world The authors identify and explore issues that challenge or raise a number of questions about the traditional notion that states are to protect their citizens through retaining a monopoly over the legitimate use of violence
