Black Folklore and the Politics of Racial Representation Shirley Moody-Turner, 2013-10-17 An examination of how nineteenth century African American folklore studies became a site of national debate Politics, Literature and Tertium Datur Ivana Perica, 2025-08-21 Offers an alternate framing of the literary and political afterlives of revolution between 1928 1968 in Eastern and Western Europe Politics Literature and Tertium Datur combines the transfer of ideas between historical turning points with a comparative reading of political literatures in the European East and West to address the disparity between the abundance of scholarly accounts of 1968 and the simultaneous forgetting of developments in the interwar period that peaked around 1928 It deepens scholarly awareness of the transnational spaces of interwar literature and explores their afterlives in the post World War II period The book troubles and corrects Western European theories of 1968 by tracing the post war afterlives of shared interwar experiences that point towards a socialist third way or Georg Lukács tertium datur and thus out of the conventionally understood East West binary It testifies to the existence of a literature that throughout the last century self consciously oscillated between the exigencies of organized politics and the aesthetic task of helping to shape the humanity of tomorrow Examining case studies of works by Bertolt Brecht Ivan Olbracht and August Cesarec among others Politics Literature and Tertium Datur excavates a series of problems optics and styles characteristic of the forgotten episodes of 20th century literary history It shows that the proverbial Iron Curtain was not impenetrable and that the walls and borders erected in the post war period could not completely suppress the reverberations and revival of projects that flourished in the political literary metropolises of the interwar period

Irene Rima Makaryk,1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years. Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume. Their work is organized into three parts. In Part I, forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose. The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address. Part II focuses on individual theorists. It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars, not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I. This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context. Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory. It identifies significant complex terms, places them in context, and explains their origins and use. Accessibility is a key feature of the work. By avoiding jargon, providing mini bibliographies, and cross referencing throughout, Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians, and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture.

Topicality and Representation Hammood Khalid Obaid, 2013-12-12. This book focuses on the importance of topical reading in understanding Islamic figures and themes and applies this approach to two landmark Elizabethan plays: George Peele's Battle of Alcazar and William Percy's Mahomet and his Heaven. The former is the first English play to present a Moor as a major character, while the latter is the first English play to be based on Quranic material and feature the Prophet of Islam as a major character. In both plays, the book argues, topical concerns played a major role in the formation of Islamic characters and themes, rendering the term representation highly debatable. The book also briefly covers other Elizabethan plays that contained Islamic elements, such as Shakespeare's Titus Andronicus and The Merchant of Venice, and Marlowe's Tamburlaine and Doctor Faustus. Topical issues covered in the work include British-Muslim relations, the Spanish Armada, Elizabethan patriotism in literature, Catholic-Protestant tensions in the late 16th century, the gynaeocracy debate, and Elizabethan alchemy and magic.
