Politics Of Survivorship:

The Politics of Survivorship Rosaria Champagne, 1998-06 The topic of incest began to emerge in the early 1990s producing a spate of television specials and providing the material for a surging industry of talk shows as well as an anti feminist campaign against incest survivors and their therapists The validity reality and readability of recovered memories of incest has become a highly contested and difficult subject This heightened interest has benefited incest survivors according to Rosaria Champagne by allowing them to speak up and make political their experiences Victims formerly entwined in their own abuse by remaining silent have learned to voice their protest and to challenge the societal order that allows incest to occur In The Politics of Survivorship Champagne explores a range of cultural representations of incest from the writings of Mary Wollstonecraft Shelley to mother daughter incest in contemporary true crime novels to Oprah Winfrey's television special Scared Silent in order to examine expressions of survivorship In the process Champagne attempts to level the disparity and the hierarchy of value among theory literature popular culture and social movements Champagne makes a powerful argument that community and academic feminists should embrace survivorship as a potential site of feminist political intervention into patriarchy and heterosexism She concludes with a critical look at the way in which the False Memory Syndrome Foundation has conducted an anti feminist campaign against incest survivors and their therapists

Israel's Holocaust and the Politics of Nationhood Idith Zertal, 2005-09 A compelling analysis considers the ways Israel has used the memory of the Holocaust to define its existence and politics

Politics of Species Raymond Corbey, 2013 The assumption that humans are cognitively and morally superior to other animals is fundamental to social democracies and legal systems worldwide It legitimises treating members of other animal species as inferior to humans The last few decades have seen a growing awareness of this issue as evidence continues to show that individuals of many other species have rich mental emotional and social lives Bringing together leading experts from a range of disciplines this volume identifies the key barriers to a definition of moral respect that includes nonhuman animals It sets out to increase concern empathy and inclusiveness by developing strategies that can be used to protect other animals from exploitation in the wild and from suffering in captivity The chapters link scientific data with normative and philosophical reflections offering unique insight into controversial issues around the ethical political and legal status of other species

Survivor Lessons Matthew J. Smith, Andrew F. Wood, 2015-09-18 This collection of scholarly essays examines reality television The first show Survivor inspired a national craze when it aired in the summer of 2000 Ever since successors and copycats have been on each of the four largest networks The basics stay the same put a group of people into situations bound to cause conflict and watch them squirm Rather than criticize the series voyeuristic appeal this work evaluates what goes on within the text of such shows and how they reflect or affect our larger culture Contributors include researchers from communications sociology political science and psychology The contributions cover such topics as reality television's relationships with cultural identity publicity rights historical perspectives trust decision making strategies political rationality office politics and primitivism Each chapter includes a bibliography Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here The Archaeology of Power and Politics in Eurasia Charles W. Hartley, G. Bike Yazicioğlu, Adam T. Smith, 2012-11-19 For thousands of years the geography of Eurasia has facilitated travel conquest and colonization by various groups from the Huns in ancient times to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics in the past century This book brings together archaeological investigations of Eurasian regimes and revolutions ranging from the Bronze Age to the modern day from Eastern Europe and the Caucasus in the west to the Mongolian steppe and the Korean Peninsula in the east The authors examine a wide ranging series of archaeological studies in order to better understand the role of politics in the history and prehistory of the region This book re evaluates the significance of power authority and ideology in the emergence and transformation of ancient and modern societies in this vast continent Memory Politics After Mass Violence Timothy Williams, 2025-06-20 Drawing on detailed accounts of post war Cambodia Rwanda and Indonesia this book provides an original exploration of how memory is utilised politically in societies that have experienced mass violence The Politics of Serial Television Fiction Sebastian Naumann, 2025-03-18 Fictional TV politics played a pivotal role in the popular imaginaries of the 2010s across cultures Examining this curious phenomenon Sebastian Naumann provides a wide ranging analysis of the rapidly evolving landscape of contemporary polit series Proposing a novel structural model of serial television he offers an innovative methodological framework for comparative textual analysis that integrates sociocultural economic sociotechnical narratological and aesthetic perspectives This study furthermore explores how the changing affordances of nonlinear television impact serial storytelling and identifies key narrative trends and recurring themes in contemporary TV polit fiction The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art, 1910 The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science, Art, and Finance, 1908 The Destroyed World and the Guilty Self Matthew H Bowker, David P Levine, 2019-05-29 David Levine and Matthew Bowker explore cultural and political trends organized around the conviction that the world we live in is a dangerous place to be that it is dominated by hate and destruction and that in it our primary task is to survive by carrying on a life long struggle against hostile forces Their method involves the analysis of public fantasies to reveal their hidden meanings The central fantasy explored is the fantasy of a destroyed world which appears most commonly in the form of post apocalyptic and dystopian narratives Their special concern in the book is with defenses against the painful consequences of the dominance of this fantasy in the inner world especially defenses involving the use of guilt to assure that something can be done to repair the destroyed world Topics explored include the formation of internal fortresses and their projection into the world outside forms of guilt including bystander guilt and survivor guilt the loss of and search for home and manic forms of reparation Tribal Warfare Christopher J. Wright, 2006-01-01 Tribal Warfare thoroughly investigates a central element of the hit reality television show Survivor that the existing literature on reality television has overlooked class politics

Christopher J Wright combines textual analysis and survey research to demonstrate that Survivor operates and resonates as a political allegory Using the work of Fredric Jameson this book reveals how Survivor frames its characters as haves and have nots For those new to Jameson Wright breaks down the theorist's complex notion of the political unconscious into easily understandable language Furthermore using the results of a survey of Survivor viewers Tribal Warfare demonstrates that viewers divide along gender racial age and most significantly class related lines in their consumption of and reaction to the program The first book to explore the premise of Survivor as society this unique work serves as both an engaging analysis of a popular television program and a highly readable primer for those new to critical theory Economics.
