Filled with tales of ghosts and ghouls poltergeists and other unexplained encounters this bone chilling compendium of paranormal phenomena is sure to haunt you long after you have turned the final page But beware after sampling these sinister histories you might be too scared to close your eyes no matter how much your body craves sleep Mammoth Books presents Lethal Legends Mark Valentine, Michael Kelly, Simon Kurt Unsworth, Terry Dowling, 2012-07-26

THE WOODS Michael Kelly Michael Kelly reveals The Woods was written for an anthology seeking regional horror and ghost stories I'd just read Hemingway's Hills Like White Elephants Now in no way am I comparing myself to Hemingway but I wanted to write a similarly brief tale with only two main characters and where the horror was off stage As well the setting had to be distinctly Canadian What I thought could be more Canadian than the frozen north and allusions to mythical beasts MAMI WATA Simon Kurt Unsworth Unsworth reveals When I was first asked to contribute to Exotic Gothic 3 which was to feature Gothic influenced stories in non Gothic environments I agreed without really thinking about it and then spent a long time struggling trying to work out how precisely I was going to manage it or quite how to make a start I knew what I wanted to do sort of but not exactly how to do it so one day alarmingly close to the deadline I did a fun thing I freewheeled through Google Using a small document about Zambian myths and cultures I found online I set the story in Zambia for no reason other than an old family friend lives there and it seemed exotic in Gothic terms I used one Zambian word from it as a search term and read what came up took one intriguing Zambian term from the search results and searched for that etc and disappeared into Google's merry depths I ended up with an academic paper about a particular myth a travel blog about a sort of beer made from corn and a weird little my God's better than your God blog by a kid in Africa and somewhere in the middle of that the story appeared THE AXHOLME TOLL Mark Valentine In the following story the book called The MS in a Red Box really exists the author reveals All of the legends about the Isle and about Beckett's assassins are also genuine except so far that of the Toll and their final place of rest or unrest TWO STEPS ALONG THE ROAD Terry Dowling Two Steps Along the Road came out of a conversation with US editor Danel Olson Dowling explains where we discussed me doing a ghost story set in Vietnam for Exotic Gothic 3 and the interesting possibilities it might provide for delivering atmosphere and an interesting perspective on familiar things Before I knew it I was blending two separate elements that were demanding attention the notion of a root form behind all hauntings regardless of what form they took and the unnerving realization that the eyes of a quite attractive teaching colleague would be truly terrifying to behold if they were set just a tad closer together The ideas were intended for very different stories but as so often happens they decided they were meant for each other Library Journal, 1988-07 Includes beginning Sept 15 1954 and on the 15th of each month Sept May a special section School library journal ISSN 0000 0035 called Junior libraries 1954 May 1961 Also issued separately Science Fiction and Fantasy Literature, 1975-1991 R. Institute of Library Research, University of California, Berkeley, 1972 Alien Kind Rania Huntington, 2020-03-23 To discuss the supernatural in China is to talk of foxes and speak of ghosts Ming and Qing China were well populated with foxes shape changing creatures who transgressed the boundaries of species gender and the metaphysical realm In human form foxes were both immoral succubi and good wives good mothers both tricksters and Confucian paragons They were the most alien yet the most common of the strange creatures a human might encounter Rania Huntington investigates a conception of one kind of alien and attempts to establish the boundaries of the human As the most ambiguous alien in the late imperial Chinese imagination the fox reveals which boundaries around the human and the ordinary were most frequently violated and therefore most jealously guarded Each section of this book traces a particular boundary violated by the fox and examines how maneuvers across that boundary change over time the narrative boundaries of genre and texts domesticity and the outside world chaos and order the human and the non human class gender sexual relations and the progression from animal to monster to transcendent As middle creatures foxes were morally ambivalent endowed with superhuman but not quite divine powers like humans they occupied a middle space between the infernal and the celestial

Strange and Paranormal Tales from Malacca Dennis De Witt, 2022-01-01 The ancient port town of Malacca is an old town rich in history Since the beginning of Malacca its community was made up of a colourful potpourri of cultures and beliefs The different communities have their own understanding of the powers of the supernatural As far back as the year 1421 there was a written account from Chinese records of the strange and paranormal witnessed in Malacca These stories continued in Portuguese Dutch and British eras up to modern times There were accounts about hauntings poltergeists cryptozoology giants spirits sorcery witchcraft shapeshifting creatures simulacra magical cures strange phenomena unusual human powers and other bizarre tales Many of these stories have now become obscured and forgotten to us This book contains a collection of 60 strange and paranormal stories reported from past reports news accounts statements and descriptions that were officially recorded in books journals articles and newspapers

IS IT A GHOST OR SWAMP LIGHTS ? Carol Nicholson, 2021-12-09 The subject of an afterlife and ghosts has a universal appeal that transcends time and culture This book sheds light on the topic while simultaneously offering some practical advice for living in this world with its limited number of hours we have left The author s journey through his own personal experiences will help others who are also seeking to understand the supernatural It is hoped that it may be helpful to those who believe they see or hear something beyond our physical reality In addition perhaps more importantly there is no better way than reading about someone else s experience to gain perspective from another angle If you are experiencing paranormal activity in your life please know that it is not always due to evil spirits or malicious intent Some things simply cannot be explained by science alone
