Polydoxy Explorations In A Philosophy Of Liberal Religion:

Polydoxy Alvin J. Reines, 1987-05 In Polydoxy Dr Alvin J Reines has developed a wonderfully unique and new point of view in the philosophy of liberal religion Polydoxy explores the reasons for personal religious freedom the limits of this freedom and the rich possibilities it offers to intelligent thoughtful human beings Expanding on the nature of polydoxy the author analyzes the liberal religions drawing a distinction between orthodox liberal religions and polydox liberal religions Dr Reines development of the concept of polydox religion is regarded by many as the most important theoretical advance in contemporary religious thought It has come to exercise a profound influence upon many of the present generation of liberal religionists This influence has produced new forms of religion Polydox Reform Judaism Polydox Christianity and the Polydox fellowship which brings together in one community adherents from all historical religions Reines describes the intriguing anatomy of liberal religions analyzes their institutions and critiques their doctrines He has found that the vocabulary that has been used to express this new religious understanding is still tangled in a thicket of traditional concepts and shows how to make such language both clear and contemporary He offers new definitions of religion and theology Jewish Theology and Process Thought Sandra B. Lubarsky, David Ray Griffin, 2012-02-01 This collection constitutes the first extended discussion of the relationship between Judaism and process thought In the last half century the philosophies of Alfred North Whitehead and Charles Hartshorne have become important sources for contemporary theological reflection Recently a number of Jewish thinkers have examined process thought as a potentially valuable resource for postmodern Jewish theology This book brings together many Jewish thinkers who have pioneered this discussion Jewish thinkers who have found process thought to be a useful framework for contemporary Jewish thought discuss issues that are primarily theological such as God's transcendence and immanence the problem of evil the idea of revelation Also included is a dialogue between Jewish and Christian thinkers on the appropriateness of process thought for their religious traditions Critical reflection on the continuities and discontinuities between Judaism and the process model is also covered Encyclopedia of Anthropology

H. James Birx, 2006 Focuses on physical social and applied anthropology archaeology linguistics and symbolic communication Topics include hominid evolution primate behaviour genetics ancient civilizations cross cultural studies and social theories

The Messiah and the Jews Rabbi Elaine Rose Glickman, 2013-02-01 A comprehensive inspiring and fascinating discovery of what Jews believe about the Messiah and why you might believe in the Messiah too The conviction that the Messiah is coming is a promise of meaning It is a source of consolation It is a wellspring of creativity It is a reconciliation between what is and what should be And it is perhaps our most powerful statement of faith in God in humanity and in ourselves from Chapter 1 The Messiah Is Coming The coming of the Messiah the promise of redemption is among Judaism's gifts to the world But it is a gift about which the world knows so little It has been overshadowed by Christian belief and teaching and as a result its Jewish significance has been all but lost To further complicate matters Jewish messianic teaching is enthralling compelling challenging exhilarating yet up until now woefully inaccessible This book will change that Rabbi Elaine Rose Glickman brings together and to life this three thousand year old tradition as never before Rather than simply reviewing the vast body of Jewish messianic literature she explores an astonishing range of primary and secondary sources explaining in an informative yet inspirational way these teachings significance for Jews of the past and infuses them with new meaning for the modern reader both Jewish and non Jewish Who Is a True Christian? David W. Congdon, 2024-02-22 No true Christian could vote for Donald Trump Real Christians are pro life You can't be a Christian and support gay marriage Assertive statements like these not only reflect growing religious polarization but also express the anxiety over religious identity that pervades modern American Christianity To address this disquiet conservative Christians have sought security and stability whether by retrieving historic Christian doctrines reconceptualizing their faith as a distinct culture or reinforcing a political vision of what it means to be a follower of God in a corrupt world The result is a concerted effort Make Christianity Great Again a religious project predating the corresponding political effort to Make America Great Again Part intellectual history part nuanced argument for change this timely book explores why the question of what defines Christianity has become over the last century so damagingly vexatious and how believers might conceive of it differently in future

CCAR Journal: The Reform Jewish Quarterly, Winter 2024 Edwin Goldberg, 2024-03-15 This issue of the CCAR Journal focuses on the relationship between Judaism and rapid technological change the disconnect between information and meaning and related existential questions facing the Reform Movement General articles book reviews and poetry are also included Open Judaism Barry L. Schwartz, 2023-07 Open Judaism offers a big tent welcome to all Jews and Judaism It is at once an invitation to the spiritually seeking Jew a clarion call for a deeply pluralistic and inclusive Judaism and a dynamic exploration of the remarkable array of thought within Judaism today In honest engaging language Barry L Schwartz a practicing rabbi and writer presents traditional secular humanistic and liberal Jewish views on nine major topics God soul Torah halakhah Jewish identity inclusion Israel ethics and prayer Teachings from many of Judaism's greatest thinkers organically reveal and embellish foundational ideas of Orthodox Reform Conservative Reconstructionist Renewal and Humanistic Judaism The conclusion sets forth core statements of belief in Judaism for believers atheists and agnostics thereby summarizing the full spectrum of thought and enabling readers to make and act on their own choices Moral Issues and Christian Responses Patricia Beattie Jung, L. Shannon Jung, 2012-09-01 Previously published by Cengage Wadsworth this popular anthology for the study of Christian ethics has been a mainstay of undergraduate courses for nearly thirty years Shannon and Patricia Jung provide an introduction to contemporary moral issues from decidedly yet diverse Christian moral perspectives The anthology intentionally seeks a range of voices to produce a kind of point counterpoint discussion of the ethical issue Among the classic issues considered are sexuality and reproductive rights prejudice biomedical ethics the environment immigration terrorism war and globalization New issues include development ethics personal finance
