The Poor Christ of Bomba Mongo Beti, 2024-02-01 Award winning author Mongo Beti presents The Poor Christ of Bomba a cutting satirical critique on the role of Catholic missionaries and French colonialism in 1930s Cameroon A revolutionary novel in its time In the small village of Bomba a French missionary priest is instructed to build a parish for its residents Father Drumont has one important task to save the village from heresy by preparing its girls for Christian marriage A servant in Father Drumont s house a young boy named Denis is reliant on the priest s generosity after the death of his mother In the eyes of the Catholic church Denis is the perfect example of the African heathen saved by Christianity but the reality of what happens behind closed doors is much more sinister One of the foremost African writers of the independence generation

Africa and Its Significant Others , 2016-08-09 When did the intimate dialogue between Africa Europe and the Americas begin Looking back it seems as if these three continents have always been each other s significant others Europe created its own modern identity by using Africa as a mirror but Africans traveled to Europe and America long before the European age of discovery and African cultures can be said to lie at the root of European culture. This intertwining has become ever more visible. Nowadays Africa emerges as a highly visible presence in the Americas and African American styles capture Europe's youth, many of whom are of North African descent. This entanglement however remains both productive and destructive. The continental economies are intertwined in ways disastrous for Africa and African knowledge is all too often exported and translated for US and European scholarly aims which increases the intercontinental knowledge gap. This volume proposes a fresh look at the vigorous and painful but inescapable relationships between these significant others. It does so as a gesture of gratitude and respect to one of the pioneering figures in this field, Dutch Africanist and literary scholar Mineke Schipper, who is taking her leave from her chair in Intercultural Literary Studies at the University of Leiden. Where have the past four decades of African studies brought us? What is the present day state of this intercontinental dialogue? Sixteen of Mineke's colleagues and friends in Europe, Africa and the Americas look back and assess the relations and debates between Africa, Europe, America. Ann Adams, Ernst van Alphen, Mieke Bal, Liesbeth Bekers, Wilfried van Damme, Ariel Dorfman, Peter Geschiere, Kathleen Gyssels, Isabel Hoving, Frans Willem Korsten, Babacar M. Baye, Harry Olufunwa, Ankie Peypers, Steven Shankman, Miriam Tlali and Chantal Zabus write about the place of Africa in today's African Diaspora, about what sisterhood between African and European women really means, about the drawbacks of an overly strong focus on culture in debates about Africa, about Europe's reluctance to see Africa as other than its mirror or its playing field, about the images of Africans in seventeenth century Dutch writing, about genital excision, the flaunting of the African female body and the new self-writing about new ways to look at classic African novels and about the invigorating, disturbing political art of intercultural reading.

Shaken Wisdom Gloria Nne Onyeoziri, 2011. Introduction: African ironies. From rhetoric to semantics. Interpreting irony. Pragmatics and Ahmadou Kourouma's post colonial state. Chinua Achebe's Arrow of God and the pragmatics of proverbial irony. Calixthe Beyala: new conceptions of the ironic voice. Conclusion: when the handshake has become another thing.

Scripting Shame in African Literature Stephen L. Bishop, 2021-03-01. Shame is one of the most frequent underlying emotions expressed throughout sub-Saharan African literature yet studies of such literature almost universally ignore the topic in favour of a focus on the struggle for independence and the postcolonial situation encompassing a search for individual, national and ethnic identities and questions of corruption, changing gender roles and conflicts between so-called tradition and modernity. Shame however is not antithetical to these investigations and in fact the persistent trope of shame undergirds many of them. This book locates these expressions of shame in sub-Saharan African literature and shows how its diverse literary representations underscore shame's function as a fulcrum in the mutual constitution of subject and community on the continent. Though shame research is dominated by Western definitions and theories, this study emphasizes the centrality of African conceptions of shame in ways that notions of Western subjectivity dismiss or cannot capture.

Postcolonial Identities and West African Literature Anwesha Das,2022-11-29 Anchored in postcolonial theory this book highlights the concept of postcolonial soliloquies as an original idea in analyzing West African literature It uses the political theory of dialogue to broaden the reader s understanding of history culture identity and indigenous memories The book shows how the novels of T Obinkaram Echewa plunge into the known territory of colonial history with new boundaries

The Oxford History of the Novel in English Simon Gikandi,2016-09-05 Why did the novel take such a long time to emerge in the colonial world And what cultural work did it come to perform in societies where subjects were not free and modes of social organization diverged from the European cultural centers where the novel gained its form and audience Answering these questions and more Volume 11 The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean since 1950 explores the institutions of cultural production that exerted influence in late colonialism from missionary schools and metropolitan publishers to universities and small presses How these structures provoke and respond to the literary trends and social peculiarities of Africa and the Caribbean impacts not only the writing and reading of novels in those regions but also has a transformative effect on the novel as a global phenomenon Together the volume s 32 contributing experts tell a story about the close relationship between the novel and the project of decolonization and explore the multiple ways in which novels enable readers to imagine communities beyond their own and thus made this form of literature a compelling catalyst for cultural transformation The authors show that even as the novel grows in Africa and the Caribbean as a mark of the elites mastery of European form it becomes the essential instrument for critiquing colonialism and for articulating the new horizons of cultural nationalism Within this historical context the volume examines works by authors such as Chinua Achebe Nadine Gordimer George Lamming Jamaica Kincaid V S Naipaul Zoe Wicomb J M Coetzee and many others

Other Others Steven Shankman,2011-01-02 In literary and cultural studies today the term the Other appears to have largely lost its moorings in the primacy of the intersubjective encounter focusing rather on the social construction of the Other For Emmanuel Levinas in contrast the Other is precisely that which eludes construction and categorization In a study that ranges from literature of ancient China Greece and Israel to modern Egypt Italy West Africa and America Steven Shankman tests Levinas s ideas by reading literary works from outside the Judeo Christian orbit for figurations equivalent to Levinas s notion of the Other He also places ethics at the center of intercultural or in his words transcultural comparative literature In contemporary literary and cultural studies it is often assumed that culture has the last word However as Levinas insists and as Shankman argues throughout this book it is ethics that is the presupposition of all Culture that is situated before Culture     Deep hiStories,2021-11-22 Deep hiStories represents the first substantial publication on gender and colonialism in Southern Africa in recent years and suggests methodological ways forward for a post apartheid and postcolonial generation of scholars The volume s theorizing which is based on Southern African regional material is certain to impact on international debates on gender debates which have shifted from earlier feminisms towards theorizations which include sexual difference subjectivities colonial and postcolonial discourses and the politics of representation Deep hiStories goes beyond the dichotomies which have largely characterized the discussion of women and gender in Africa and explores alternative models of interpretation such as genealogies of voice These genealogies transcend the conventional binaries of visibility and invisibility speaking and silence Works covering South Africa from the eighteenth to the twentieth century and Zimbabwe Namibia and Cameroon in the twentieth include Colonial readings of Foucault Ideologies of domesticity Torture and testimony of slave women Women as missionary targets Gender and the public sphere Race science and spectacle Male nursing on mines Infanticide insanity and social control Fertility and the postcolonial state Literary reconstructions of the past Gender blending and code switching De colonizing the queer The collection includes diverse research on the body in Southern Africa for the first time It brings new subtleties to the ongoing debates on culture civility and sexuality dealing centrally with constructions of race and whiteness in history and literature It is an important resource for teachers and students of gender and colonial studies     The Historiography of Genocide Anton Weiss-Wendt,Robert Krieken,Alfred A.
