Gender & Italian Archaeology Ruth D Whitehouse, 2016-09-16 The original research papers in this volume represent the first attempt to address issues of gender in the archaeology of Italy Ranging from prehistoric to early classic periods the authors address theoretical and methodological issues as well as present a series of cases using both traditional and feminist research methods

The Archaeology of Mediterranean Prehistory Emma Blake, A. Bernard Knapp, 2005-02-11 This book offers a comprehensive introduction to the archaeology of Mediterranean prehistory and an essential reference to the most recent research and fieldwork Only book available to offer general coverage of Mediterranean prehistory Written by 14 of the leading archaeologists in the field Spans the Neolithic through the Iron Age and draws from all the major regions of the Mediterranean s coast and islands Presents the central debates in Mediterranean prehistory trade and interaction rural economies ritual social structure gender monumentality insularity archaeometallurgy and the metals trade stone technologies settlement and maritime traffic as well as contemporary legacies of the region's prehistoric past. Structure of text is pedagogically driven. Engages diverse theoretical approaches so students will see the benefits of multivocality. Earliest Italy Margherita Mussi, 2006-04-11 This book aims to synthesize more than 600 000 years of Italian prehistory beginning with the Lower Paleolithic and ending with the last hunter gatherers of the early Holocene. The author treats such issues as the development of social structure, the rise and fall of specific cultural traditions, climatic change, modifications of the landscape, fauna and flora, and environmental adaptation and exploitation, and includes detailed descriptions of the most important sites. Enclosures in Neolithic Europe G. Varndell, Peter Topping, 2002-01-01 These papers come from a conference on Neolithic Causewayed Enclosures in Europe held in London in 1999. They present a series of snapshots of some of the sites and regions at the forefront of current research on causewayed enclosures in Europe and as such are a complement to the Royal Commission on the Historical Monuments of England (RCHME) project which has systematically recorded all known Neolithic enclosures in England by both analytical topographic survey techniques and aerial transcription. The detailed regional data collected by the RCHME project has allowed a radical reinterpretation of these sites and the recognition that there are regional groups of enclosures. This series of papers serves to broaden the discussion about the structure and form of causewayed monuments beyond lowland England, looking at a wide geographical range of sites across central Europe as well as considering some sites which do not conform to the traditional type but which have been proved by excavation to have a Neolithic context. This collection of papers provides a long awaited and important addition to the debate on these enigmatic prehistoric sites. European Societies in the Bronze Age A. F. Harding, 2000-05-18 The Bronze Age, roughly 2500 to 750 BC, was the last fully prehistoric period in Europe and a crucial element in the formation of the Europe that emerged into history in the later first millennium BC. This book focuses on the material culture remains of the period and through them provides an interpretation of the main trends in human development that occurred during this timespan. It pays particular attention to the discoveries and theoretical advances of the last twenty years that have necessitated a major revision of received opinions about many aspects of the Bronze Age. Arranged thematically, it reviews the evidence for a range of topics in cross-cultural fashion, defining which major characteristics of the period were universal and which culture and area specific. The result is a comprehensive study that will be of value to specialists and students while remaining accessible to the non-specialist. Accordia Research Papers Edward Herring, Ruth D. Whitehouse, John B. Wilkins, 1999-11 Dating Urban Classical Deposits: Approaches and Problems in Using Finds to Date Strata Guido Furlan, 2019-10-31 This book considers the dating of archaeological strata on the basis of the assemblages recovered from them. It reviews the present state of archaeological practice and follows this with a theoretical discussion of the key concepts involved in the issue of dating deposits. Archaeology and History in Sardinia from the Stone Age to the Middle Ages Stephen L. Dyson, Robert J. Rowland, Jr., 2007 With one of the richest archaeological records and most complicated histories in the Mediterranean, Sardinia provides an important laboratory for studying the interaction of indigenous societies and outside forces in a partly isolated geographical context Stephen L Dyson and Robert J Rowland Jr use both material culture and written documents to reconstruct the social and economic processes of an island society that showed both cultural creativity and continuity but responded to invasions from the Phoenicians through the Romans to the Aragonese This first accessible reconstruction of island archaeology provides a balanced picture of the sweep of Sardinian history

The Oxford Handbook of the European Bronze Age Harry Fokkens,Anthony Harding,2013-06-27 The Oxford Handbook of the European Bronze Age is a wide ranging survey of a crucial period in prehistory during which many social economic and technological changes took place Written by expert specialists in the field the book provides coverage both of the themes that characterize the period and of the specific developments that took place in the various countries of Europe After an introduction and a discussion of chronology successive chapters deal with settlement studies burial analysis hoards and hoarding monumentality rock art cosmology gender and trade as well as a series of articles on specific technologies and crafts such as transport metals glass salt textiles and weighing The second half of the book covers each country in turn From Ireland to Russia Scandinavia to Sicily every area is considered and up to date information on important recent finds is discussed in detail The book is the first to consider the whole of the European Bronze Age in both geographical and thematic terms and will be the standard book on the subject for the foreseeable future

Europe in the Neolithic A. W. R. Whittle,1996-05-23 Dr Whittle reviews the latest archaeological evidence on Neolithic Europe from 7000 to 2500 BC Describing important areas sites and problems he addresses the major themes that have engaged the attention of scholars the transition from a forager lifestyle the rate and dynamics of change and the nature of Neolithic society He challenges conventional views arguing that Neolithic society was rooted in the values and practices of its forager predecessors right across the continent The processes of settling down and adopting farming were piecemeal and slow Only gradually did new attitudes emerge to time and the past to the sacred realms of ancestors and the dead to nature and to the concept of community Unique in its broad and up to date coverage of long term processes of change on a continental scale this completely rewritten and revised version of Whittle s Neolithic Europe a survey reflects radical changes in the evidence and in interpretative approaches over the past decade

Archaeologies of Complexity Robert Chapman,2003 Robert Chapman addresses the nature of contemporary archaeology and the study of social change and debates the transition from perceived simple egalitarian societies to our complex modern world

Interconnections in the Central Mediterranean Anthony Bonanno,Pietro Militello,2008

The Oxford Handbook of Prehistoric Figurines Timothy Insoll,2017 The Oxford Handbook of Prehistoric Figurines is the first text to offer a comparative survey of figurines from across the globe bringing together myriad contemporary research approaches to provide invaluable insights into their function context meaning and use as well as past thinking on the human body gender and identity

Time and Stone: The Emergence and Development of Megaliths and Megalithic Societies in Europe Bettina Schulz Paulsson,2017-09-15

This analysis is concerned with the dating of megaliths in Europe and is based on 2410 available radiocarbon results and the application of a Bayesian statistical framework. It is so far the largest existing attempt to establish a supra regional synthesis on the emergence and development of megaliths in Europe. Europe's First Farmers T. Douglas Price, 2000-09-14 Essays by leading specialists on a central issue of European history: the transition to farming. Making Places In The Prehistoric World Joanna Brück, Melissa Goodman, 2023-04-28 First published in 1999. This groundbreaking volume addresses issues central to the study of prehistoric settlement, including group memory, the transmission of ideology, and the impact of mobility and seasonality on the construction of social identity. Building on these themes, the contributors point to new ways of understanding the relationship between settlement and landscape by replacing Capitalist models of spatial relations with more intimate histories of place. Archaeology on the Apulian – Lucanian Border Alastair Small, Carola Small, 2022-05-26 The broad valley of the Bradano river and its tributary the Basentello separates the Apennine mountains in Lucania from the limestone plateau of the Murge in Apulia in southeast Italy. This book aims to explain how the pattern of settlement and land use changed in the valley over the whole period from the Neolithic to the late medieval.
