Christ, Power and Mammon Scott Thomas Prather, 2013-09-12 This book examines the role of the New Testament concept of the principalities and powers in the thought of Karl Barth and John Howard Yoder showing how this biblical concept of power is central to the fundamental theological convictions of each thinker Prather offers a scholarly account of the underexplored theological and ethical import of a major biblical theme and the book addresses questions and concerns from a wide range of academic and lay theological interest He brings Barth and Yoder into dialogue here and examines the three crucial areas the confessional distinction of church and world the demonization of political power and the intrinsic relation between the political and economic powers While other theologians have rightly identified a christocentric connection between the thought of Barth and Yoder no attempt has been made to bring them together through the sustained analysis of a single doctrinal or ethical issue this book does just that

Compassion in Healthcare Joshua Hordern, 2020-10-30 Compassion in Healthcare gives an account of the nature and content of compassion and its role in healthcare While compassion appears to be a straightforward aspect of life and practice Hordern s analysis shows that it is plagued by both conceptual and practical ills and stands in need of some quite specific kinds of therapy Starting from a diagnosis of what precisely is wrong with compassion its debilitating political entanglements the vagueness of its meaning and the risk of burnout it threatens three therapies are prescribed for these ills an understanding of patients and healthcare workers as those who pass through the life course encountering each other as wayfarers and pilgrims a grasp of the nature of compassion in healthcare and an embedding of healthcare within the realities of civic life Applying these therapeutic strategies uncovers how compassionate relationships acquire their content in healthcare practice The form that compassion takes is shown to depend on how doctrines of time tragedy salvation responsibility fault and theodicy make a difference to the quality of people s lives and relationships Drawing on the author s real world collaborations the way in which compassion matters to practice and policy is worked out in the detail of healthcare professionalism marketization and technology Covering everything from conception to old age and from machine learning to religious diversity Compassion in Healthcare draws on philosophy theology and everyday experience to expand our understanding of what compassion means for healthcare practice against the background of the life of the church with special attention to John 15 and Romans 12 De Graaff concludes by showing how a theological account is vital for discerning the distinct politics of the church including opportunities for Christian engagement in secular politics

Resumé Dirk J. Smit, 2024-08-15 The spirit of the Reformation is often expressed in the well known slogan that Reformed churches are always being reformed according to God's Word ecclesia reformata semper reformanda secundum verbum Dei Over the last century the spirit of this slogan motivated someone like Dietrich Bonhoeffer to argue that the visible form and life of the church should reflect the truth and message of the church. Already in his doctoral dissertation called Sanctorum Communio the communion of the saints the young Bonhoeffer combined theological claims and traditions with social theory and analysis in this spirit in an innovative way to study the nature and integrity and witness of the church. At the time this was a radical claim with major consequences and challenges for Protestant churches. Their life which meant their order structure actions statements convictions public presence and role was to be measured by their gospel which meant their message proclamation convictions claims. They could no longer proclaim one truth yet live a different life. It was this spirit which led to the well known Theological Declaration of Barmen in 1934 and to the formation of the Confessing Church in Nazi Germany. Many called this a moment of truth a status confessionis. It was this same spirit which later inspired the struggle in South Africa for the integrity and faithfulness of the church and for the credibility of its message proclamation and witness. The contributions in this volume 52 papers essays sermons studies were all produced in this spirit. Most of them have not been published before. They were all occasional pieces written over several decades in different contexts and for different purposes and audiences yet they all breathe this self critical spirit of the Reformation considering whether the real church the concrete every day actual living church that people know and experience and perhaps belong to truly strives to embody the gospel itself the message which it claims and proclaims. They all inquire under different circumstances and in diverse ways about different social forms of the real church from worship to congregation from denomination to ecumenical church from individual believers to movements and organisations whether and how they embody the truth of the church or not. Together these contributions tell a story the story of this spirit in South African circles over several decades but also in the ecumenical church in our globalizing world. They offer one small glimpse into different concrete moments in the story of this spirit in the life of this tradition and community of faith. Hopefully some of these accounts may resonate with others who also shared the same spirit and still share it today in new and ongoing ways.

Quadrio, Carrol Besseling, 2009-11-16 Politics and Religion in the New Century contains a collection of philosophical reflections on the intersection of religion and the political in contemporary social political and intellectual life. Who Am I?

Bernd Wannenwetsch, 2009-07-21 A unique look at Bonhoeffer's poetry written during his prison years facilitating a fascinating conversation between biography and theology. Christ, Church, and World Theodore J. Hopkins, 2021-10-11 As the North American church struggles to navigate the emerging post Christian context Theodore J Hopkins argues that the church is identified by three fundamental relationships Christ church world. By attending to the Christological center of Dietrich Bonhoeffer's theology Hopkins establishes a framework for the church's mission in the world that flows from Christ's relationship to the church and his relationship to the world. This Christological framework also illuminates the changing relationship between the church and the world in Bonhoeffer's works such that Discipleship seems to demarcate the church from the world while Ethics seems to unite church and world in one Christ reality Following Bonhoeffer Hopkins contends that the church is both distinct from the world and in solidarity with it in the dynamic of the crucified Lord Jesus who took the form of a servant and is present in Word Sacrament and community as the Risen One Hopkins envisions the church within the story of Jesus so that preaching and teaching the Gospel identifies the church and calls it to faithfulness in Christ's own mission The church is formed to see itself and the world in Jesus and enabled to follow Christ's mission of witness and service in the world
