Before the Country

Stephanie McKenzie, 2007-11-25

In the late 1960s and early 1970s Canada witnessed an explosion in the production of literary works by Aboriginal writers a development that some critics have called the Native Renaissance In Before the Country Stephanie McKenzie explores the extent to which this growing body of literature influenced non Native Canadian writers and has been fundamental in shaping our search for a national mythology In the context of Northrop Frye's theories of myth and in light of the attempts of social critics and early anthologists to define Canada and Canadian literature McKenzie discusses the ways in which our decidedly fractured sense of literary nationalism has set indigenous culture apart from the mainstream She examines anew the aesthetics of Native Literature and in a style that is creative as much as it is scholarly McKenzie incorporates the principles of storytelling into the unfolding of her argument This strategy not only enlivens her narrative but also underscores the need for new theoretical strategies in the criticism of Aboriginal literatures Before the Country invites us to engage in one such endeavour

Leaving Shadows Lisa

Grekul, 2005-12-16 On our way home we stopped in Vegreville for one last look at the Pysanka and posing in front of it while my dad pulled out his camera I wanted to cry Are we doomed Click Is this all we are Click How do we drag ourselves out from under the shadow of the giant egg Click Conceived in a fervent desire for fresher sexier images of Ukrainian culture in Canada and concluding with a new reading of enduring cultural stereotypes Leaving Shadows is the first Canadian book length monograph on English Ukrainian writing with substantive analysis of the writing of Myrna Kostash Andrew Suknaski George Ryga Janice Kulyk Keefer Vera Lysenko and Maara Haas

Made in British Columbia Maria Tippet, 2015-09-19

Is there such a thing as British Columbia culture and if so is there anything special about it This is the broad question Dr Maria Tippet answers in this work with an assured yes To prove her point she looks at the careers of eight ground breaking cultural producers in the fields of painting aboriginal art architecture writing theatre and music The eight creative figures profiled in Made in British Columbia are not just distinguished artists who made an enduring mark on Canadian culture during the twentieth century They are unique artists whose work is intimately interwoven with British Columbia's identity Emily Carr portrayed BC's coastal landscape in a manner as unique as her lifestyle Bill Reid's carvings jewellery and sculpture stand as a contemporary interpretation of his reclaimed Haida heritage The name Francis Rattenbury is less known than The Empress Hotel in Victoria one of many prominent BC buildings he designed while Arthur Erickson's modern architectural contributions are recognized worldwide Martin Allerdale Grainger's experience in the BC woods in the early days of hand logging inspired him to write one of the undisputed classics of BC fiction Woodsmen of the West Jean Coulthard struggled for respect as a female composer during the 1920s and 1930s in British Columbia but eventually proved her extraordinary musical talents internationally George Woodcock left Britain in 1949 to forge his career as an influential author editor mentor and tireless promoter of literary scholarship in the province while playwright George Ryga the son of Ukrainian immigrants exposed the anguish and reality of life for Native women in our cities with his 1967 play The Ecstasy of Rita Joe Featuring images of the artists and their works Made in British Columbia presents a history of the treasures found in our galleries concert halls theatres museums libraries and streetscapes and explores the legacy of a cultural tradition as unique as the place that nurtured it

World Encyclopedia of Contemporary Theatre Irving Brown (Consulting Bibliographer), Natasha Rappaport (Bibliographer), Don Rubin (General Editor), Rosabel Wang (Consulting Bibliographer), 2013-10-11 An annotated world theatre bibliography documenting significant theatre materials published world wide since 1945 plus an index to key names throughout the six volumes of the series

The Literary History of Alberta Volume Two George Melnyk, 1998 In this the companion to the landmark volume The Literary History of Alberta Volume One From Writing on Stone to World War Two George Melnyk examines Alberta literature in the second half of the twentieth century At last Melnyk argues Alberta writers have found their voice and their accomplishments have been remarkable The contradictory landscape the stereotypes of the Indian the Mountie and the Cowboy and the language of the Other speaking from the margins these elements all left their impressions on the consciousness of early Alberta But writers in the last few decades have turned this inheritance to their advantage to create compelling stories about this place and its people Today Melnyk discovers Alberta writers can appreciate not only this achievement but also its essential source the symbolic communication of Writing on Stone The Literary History of Alberta Volume Two extends the study of Alberta s cultural history to the present day It is a vital text for anyone interested in Alberta s vibrant literary culture

Playwriting Women Cynthia Zimmerman, 1994-09 The Canadian Dramatist Volume 3 The six playwrights discussed in this volume are Carol Bolt Erica Ritter Sharon Pollack Margaret Hollingsworth Anne Chislett and Judith Thompson

Theatre Matters Jane Plastow, Richard Boon, 1998-12-10 This book focuses on how theatre can make and has made positive political and social interventions

Progressive Heritage James Doyle, 2006-01-01 Most critics and literary historians have ignored Marxist inspired creative literature in Canada or dismissed it as an ephemeral phenomenon of the 1930s Research reveals however that from the 1920s onward Canadian creative writers influenced by Marxist ideas have produced a quantitatively substantial and artistically significant body of poetry drama fiction and non fiction This book traces historically and evaluates critically this tradition with particular emphasis on writers who were associated with or sympathetic to the Communist Party of Canada After two chapters surveying the work of anti capitalist writers of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the book concentrates on the development of Marxist inspired writing from the 1920s to the end of the twentieth century Besides devoting attention to both social and theoretical backgrounds this study provides critical commentary on work by prominent writers who spent part of their literary careers as Communist Party members including Dorothy Livesay Patrick Anderson Milton Acorn and George Ryga as well as less well known but more fervent Communists such as Margaret Fairley Dyson

Carter Joe Wallace Stanley Ryerson and Jean Jules Richard Although primarily concerned with the older generation of Marxists who flourished between the 1920s and the 1970s the book also includes a chapter on the post 1970s New Left

Where There's Smoke... William B. Davis, 2011 One of the most iconic villains in the history of television the enigmatic Cigarette Smoking Man fascinated legions of fans of the 1990s hit TV series The X Files Best known as Cancerman he was voted Television's Favourite Villain by the readers of TV Guide The man behind the villain William B Davis is a Canadian actor and director whose revelations in this memoir will entertain and intrigue the millions of X Files aficionados worldwide But there is more to Davis's story than just The X Files Davis's extensive acting experience began when he was a child in Ontario in the 1950s and grew to encompass radio theatre film and television At the University of Toronto where he graduated with a degree in philosophy he turned his hand to directing a move that took him to theatre school in Britain and a directing career There he reconnected with his undergraduate colleague Donald Sutherland and worked at the National Theatre with such notables as Sir Laurence Olivier Dame Maggie Smith and Albert Finney Those who love the theatre will delight in his recollections of the Straw Hat Players in Ontario or the trials and tribulations of an artistic director of repertory theatre in Dundee Scotland or his valiant attempt to create a theatre in Quebec devoted to the Canadian repertoire Those who love history will relive with Davis those golden years of Canadian radio drama and theatre not to mention enjoying an inside look at the National Theatre School of Canada where he directed the English Acting Program in the 60s Those who love a bit of scandalous gossip will not be disappointed Written in an easy conversational style this memoir truly is The Musings of the Cigarette Smoking Man as William B Davis reflects on his loves his losses his hopes his fears and his accomplishments in this unique and engaging autobiography

Establishing Our Boundaries Anton Wagner, 2010-01-01 An impressive collection of essays by 21 of English Canada's leading theatre critics provides a cultural history of Canada and Canadians intense relationship to theatre from 1829 to 1998 and across the whole country

Indigenous Women's Theatre in Canada Sarah MacKenzie, 2020-11-15T00:00:00Z Despite a recent increase in the productivity and popularity of Indigenous playwrights in Canada most critical and academic attention has been devoted to the work of male dramatists leaving female writers on the margins In Indigenous Women's Theatre in Canada Sarah MacKenzie addresses this critical gap by focusing on plays by Indigenous women written and produced in the socio cultural milieu of twentieth and twenty first century Canada Closely analyzing dramatic texts by Monique Mojica Marie Clements and Yvette Nolan MacKenzie explores representations of gendered colonialist violence in order to determine the varying ways in which these representations are employed subversively and informatively by Indigenous women These plays provide an avenue for individual and potential cultural healing by deconstructing some of the harmful ideological work performed by colonial misrepresentations of Indigeneity and demonstrate the strength and persistence of Indigenous women offering a space in which decolonial futurisms can be envisioned In this unique work MacKenzie suggests that colonialist misrepresentations of Indigenous women have served to perpetuate demeaning stereotypes justifying devaluation of and violence against Indigenous women Most significantly however she argues that resistant representations in Indigenous women s dramatic writing and production work in direct opposition to such representational and manifest violence Native American Performance and Representation S. E. Wilmer,2011-11-01 Native performance is a multifaceted and changing art form as well as a swiftly growing field of research Native American Performance and Representation provides a wider and more comprehensive study of Native performance not only its past but also its present and future Contributors use multiple perspectives to look at the varying nature of Native performance strategies They consider the combination and balance of the traditional and modern techniques of performers in a multicultural world This collection presents diverse viewpoints from both scholars and performers in this field both Natives and non Natives Important and well respected researchers and performers such as Bruce McConachie Jorge Huerta and Daystar Rosalie Jones offer much needed insight into this quickly expanding field of study This volume examines Native performance using a variety of lenses such as feminism literary and film theory and postcolonial discourse Through the many unique voices of the contributors major themes are explored such as indigenous self representations in performance representations by nonindigenous people cultural authenticity in performance and representation and cross fertilization between cultures Authors introduce important though sometimes controversial issues as they consider the effects of miscegenation on traditional customs racial discrimination Native women s position in a multicultural society and the relationship between authenticity and hybridity in Native performance An important addition to the new and growing field of Native performance Wilmer s book cuts across disciplines and areas of study in a way no other book in the field does It will appeal not only to those interested in Native American studies but also to those concerned with women s and gender studies literary and film studies and cultural studies Profiles of Canada Kenneth G. Pryke,Walter C. Soderlund,2003 This third edition of Profiles of Canada combines depth breadth sophistication and readability to offer the student a comprehensive introduction to Canadian society The editors have brought together contributions from a wide range of disciplines to create a fascinating overview of the various facets of Canadian life and culture The text includes aspects of the Canadian experience not usually found in introductory texts The inclusion of a short story by Alistair MacLeod for example is an innovative departure from the academic writing of the other chapters and provides the student of Canadian society with a sample of the finest in contemporary Canadian writing Editors Dr Kenneth Pryke and Dr Walter Soderlund have carried out a successful update of the earlier editions of this well respected text Aspects of Canada explored in this new edition include regionalism the North demography ethnicity culture and sport

Hollywood's Native Americans Angela Aleiss,2022-04-06 This book highlights the contributions and careers of Native Americans who have carved impressive careers in Hollywood from the silent film era of the early 1900s to the present becoming advocates for their heritage This book explores how the heritage and behind the scenes activities of Native

American actors and filmmakers helped shape their own movie images Native artists have impacted movies for more than a century but until recently their presence had passed largely unrecognized From the silent era to contemporary movies this book features leading Native American actors whose voices have reached a broad audience and are part of the larger conversation about the exploitation of underrepresented people in Hollywood Each chapter highlights Native actors in lead or supporting roles as well as filmmakers whose movies were financed and distributed by Hollywood studios The text further explores how a pan Indian heritage that applies to all tribes in terms of spirituality historical trauma and a version of ceremony and storytelling have shaped these performers movie identities It will appeal to a wide range of readers including fans of Westerns history buffs of American popular cinema and students and scholars of Native American studies A note from the author Since the publication of this book the CBC news magazine The Fifth Estate released an investigative documentary on October 27 2023 alleging that Buffy Sainte Marie had been fraudulently posing as a Native Canadian throughout her career

Art and Politics Sarah Jennings, 2019-10-17 The year 2019 marks the fiftieth anniversary of the National Arts Centre In this new and revised edition of Art and Politics Sarah Jennings covers the highs and lows of Canada's most important national performing arts institution over the course of five decades bringing the story up to the present Art and Politics is a riveting tale of Canada's finest musicians actors and dancers and efforts to put their art at the forefront of both the national and the international scene Through over 150 interviews with artists top officials senior politicians and others who affected the fate of the National Arts Centre the book recounts the organization's early years the impact of government monies first lavished and then withdrawn which resulted in its near collapse in the late 1990s and how over the past two decades its CEO Peter Herrndorf a gifted leader has brought it back from the brink The most recent transformations revealed by this new edition include the architectural makeover of the organization's brutalist style building in Ottawa responses to the changing cultural milieu in Canada and the launch of a national Indigenous Theatre Department in the fall of 2019 Told through the voices of those who created the organization Art and Politics affirms that the National Arts Centre embodies its motto Canada is our stage

Long Beach Wild Adrienne Mason, 2012-04-10 Each year more than a million people visit the spectacular sweep of sand that stretches along Vancouver Island's west coast between Tofino and Ucluelet to watch waves crash ashore on a series of beaches essentially one long beach separated by small rocky headlands a shoreline steps away from howling wolves and towering red cedars In Long Beach Wild A Celebration of People and Place on Canada's Rugged Western Shore local resident Adrienne Mason uses her intimate knowledge of the area and a selection of historic and contemporary photos to explore the region's rich natural and cultural history Mason shows how Long Beach was shaped by many forces including volcanoes glaciers and torrents of water She describes how the deposits of gravel and silt that this tumult left behind allowed offshore kelp beds and sea otters to thrive and supported the growth of countless other organisms from lichens and ferns to waterfowl and deer She also describes how First Nations people found inspiration and sustenance in the area for thousands of years hunting whales on the open ocean using harpoons with mussel shell blades and great lengths of cedar bark rope As well as describing the traditions of the area s First Nations Mason Small Press Record of Books in Print ,1990 Working on Screen Malek Khouri,Darrell Varga,2006-01-01 Working on Screen thus expands the scholarly debates on the concept of national cinema and builds on the rich formative efforts of Canadian cultural criticism that held dear the need for cultural autonomy
