Politics Of Pictures The Creation Of The Public In The Age Of Popular Media:

The Politics of Pictures John Hartley, 1992 On the political uses of media audiences The Politics of Pictures John Hartley, 2017-09-25 The Politics of Pictures is a history of looking from Aristotle to TV audiences from the invention of photography to the meaning of picnics from Leviathan to synchronised swimming Dr Johnson to the sexualization of war John Hartley's wide ranging and sometimes bizarre journey of discovery looks for the public in the realm of media where citizens are now literally represented on screen and page The book investigates popular media reality by showing how pictures and texts are powerful political forces in their own right using a variety of primary texts to explore the way publics have been created and exploring the political uses of media audiences The unconventional approach is designed to show how popular reality looks to itself and how its peculiar forms and connections actually challenge some venerable political and philosophical truths The Politics of Pictures John Hartley, 2017 First Published in 1993 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Provided by publisher Cultural Studies 11.3 Lawrence Grossberg, Della Pollock, 2012-11-12 This intriguing issue represents the truly international and interdisciplinary nature of contemporary work in cultural studies Cultural Studies has reflected the discipline in becoming ever more global in scope and perspective The Tabloid Culture Reader Biressi, Anita, Nunn, Heather, 2007-12-01 The Tabloid Culture Reader provides an accessible and useful introduction to the field Letters to the Editor Allison Cavanagh, John Steel, 2019-11-07 This book provides an account of current work on letters to the editor from a range of different national cultural conceptual and methodological perspectives Letters to the editor provide a window on the reflexive relationship between editorial and readership identities in historical and international contexts They are a forum through which the personal and the political intersect a space wherein the implications of contemporaneous events are worked out by citizens and public figures alike and in which the meaning and significance of unfolding media narratives and events are interpreted and contested They can also be used to understand the multiple and overlapping ways that particular issues recur over sometimes widely distinct periods This collection brings together scholars who have helped open up letters to the editor as a resource for scholarship and whose work in this book continues to provide new insights into the relationship between journalism and its publics Information Subject Mark Poster, Stanley Aronowitz, 2013-10-23 First Published in 2001 In this collection of essays and interviews Mark Poster examines theoretical approaches and develops his own position on our information based society He contends that new communications media disrupt and transfigure the way identities are constituted in cultural exchanges He looks in detail at several aspects of what might be called internet culture including virtuality and democracy Poster advocates an awareness of the Internet and other new forms of communication calling for a mobilization to ensure accessibility to all and to configure technology into vehicles of open cultural creation For example nothing is pure about the Internet politically he points out and it remains an open question as to who will transform the potentiality of new communications media into determinate cultural configurations This book explores the rupture and potentiality between the electronic self and the face to face self inherent in new forms of technology and media
