Politics In Africa 2nd Edition:

Global Geopolitical Power and African Political and Economic Institutions John James Quinn, 2015-12-30 Global Geopolitical Power and African Political and Economic Institutions When Elephants Fight describes the emergence and nature of the prevailing African political and economic institutions in two periods In the first most countries adopted political and economic institutions that funneled significant levels of political and economic power to the political elites usually through one or no party military political systems inward oriented development policies and or state led and often state owned industrialization In the second period most countries adopted institutions that diluted the overarching political and economic power of ruling elites through the adoption of de jure multiparty electoral systems more outward oriented trade policies and the privatization of many state owned or controlled sectors though significant political and economic power remains in their hands The choices made in each period were consistent with prevailing ideas on governance and development the self interests of political elites and the perceived availability of support or autonomy vis vis domestic regional and international sources of power at the time This book illustrates how these two region wide shifts in prevailing political and economic institutions and practices of Africa can be linked to two prior global geopolitical realignments the end of WWII with the ensuing American and Soviet led bipolar system and the end of the Cold War with American primacy Each period featured changed or newly empowered international and regional leaders with competing national priorities within new intellectual and geopolitical climates altering the opportunities and constraints for African leaders in instituting or maintaining particular political and economic institutions or practices The economic and political institutions of Africa that emerged did so as a result of a complex mix of contending domestic regional and international forces material and intellectual all which were themselves greatly transformed in the wake of these two global geopolitical realignments

States and Power in Africa Jeffrey Herbst, 2014-12-21 Originally published A2000 With new preface and revised chapter nine by the author Africa's Political Wastelands: The Bastardization of Cameroon Fru Doh, 2008-09-15 Africa's Political Wastelands explores and confirms the fact that because of irresponsible corrupt selfish and unpatriotic kleptocrats parading as leaders the ultimate breakdown of order has become the norm in African nations especially those south of the Sahara The result is the virtual annihilation of once thriving and proud nations along with the citizenry who are transformed into wretches vagrants and in the extreme refugees Doh uses Cameroon as an exemplary microcosm to make this point while still holding imperialist ambitions largely responsible for the status quo in Africa Ultimately in the hope of jumpstarting the process he makes pertinent suggestions on turning the tide on the continent Politicians and Poachers Clark C. Gibson, 1999-08-13 Although wildlife fascinates citizens of industrialized countries little is known about the politics of wildlife policy in Africa In this innovative book Clark Gibson challenges the rhetoric of television documentaries and conservation organizations to explore the politics behind the creation and change of wildlife policy in Africa This book examines what Clark views as a central puzzle in the debate Why do African governments create policies that apparently fail to protect wildlife Moving beyond explanations of bureaucratic inefficiency and corrupt dictatorships Gibson argues that biologically disastrous policies are retained because they meet the distributive goals of politicians and bureaucrats Using evidence from Zambia Kenya and Zimbabwe Gibson shows how institutions encourage politicians and bureaucrats to construct wildlife policies that further their own interests Different configurations of electoral laws legislatures party structures interest groups and traditional authorities in each country shape the choices of policymakers many of which are not consonant with conservation This book will appeal to students of institutions comparative politics natural resource policymaking African politics and wildlife conservationists

Africa's Political Wastelands: The Bastardization of Cameroon Emmanuel Fru Doh, 2008 Africa's Political Wastelands explores and confirms the fact that because of irresponsible corrupt selfish and unpatriotic kleptocrats parading as leaders the ultimate breakdown of order has become the norm in African nations especially those south of the Sahara The result is the virtual annihilation of once thriving and proud nations along with the citizenry who are transformed into wretches vagrants and in the extreme refugees Doh uses Cameroon as an exemplary microcosm to make this point while still holding imperialist ambitions largely responsible for the status quo in Africa Ultimately in the hope of jumpstarting the process he makes pertinent suggestions on turning the tide on the continent

African Institutions Ali A. Mazrui, Francis Wiafe-Amoako, 2015-11-12 Every political system either developed or adopted has an impact on the structure of society and the level of development This book analyzes the evolution and nature of political institutions and their effect on Africa's development The challenges Africa face in developing viable institutions are not limited to the adoption of foreign institutions but are also rooted in domestic norms that define society itself Sometimes these challenges have to do with the incompatibility between foreign and domestic institutions The fundamental issue then is to understand the African societies cultures and other dynamics that have ensured stability in the past and that need to be recognized when adopting contemporary foreign institutions This comprehensive text examines three key issue areas in Africa politics society and economy It demonstrates how the lack of consideration for domestic norms and societal realities explain the weaker institutions and lack of development on the African continent The chapters examine critical issues such as gender ethnicity and constitution development legitimacy and the state the correlation between abundant resources and instability the dilemmas of political dynasties international economic regimes and Africa's economy and more Featuring many case studies including Kenya South Africa Senegal Ghana Nigeria Tanzania Morocco Togo DRC Ethiopia Rwanda the book provides some explanation of underdevelopment in Africa linking the historical and colonial realities that hinder democratic consolidation to contemporary African politics society and economy

The Politics of Housing in (Post-)Colonial Africa Kirsten Rüther, Martina Barker-Ciganikova, Daniela Waldburger, Carl-Philipp Bodenstein, 2020-06-08 Housing matters no matter when or where This volume of collected essays on housing in colonial and postcolonial Africa seeks to elaborate the how and the why Housing is much more than a living everyday practice It unfolds in its disparate dimensions of time space and agency Context dependent it acquires diverse often ambivalent meanings Housing can be a promise an unfulfilled dream a tool of self and class assertion a negotiation process or a means to achieve other ends Our focus lies in analyzing housing in its multifacetedness be it a lens to offer insights into complex processes that shape societies be it a tool of empire to exercise control over private relations of inhabitants or be it a means to create good obedient and productive citizens Contributions to this volume range from the field of history to architecture and urban planning African Studies linguistics and literature The individual case studies home in on specific aspects and dimensions of housing and seek to bring them into dialogue with each other By doing so the volume aims to add to the vibrant academic debate on studying urban practices and their significance for current social change

Africa's Geography Benjamin Ofori-Amoah, 2019-04-30 Africa's Geography presents a comprehensive exploration of the world's second largest and most culturally diverse continent Author Benjamin Ofori Amoah challenges common misconceptions and misrepresentations of Africa from a geographical perspective harnessing the power of modern geographic mapping technology to explore this unique continent This text provides thorough coverage of the historical cultural economic and political forces that continue to shape Africa applying geographic context to relevant past and contemporary issues Coverage of economic development climate and biogeography transportation and communication manufacturing and commerce and mining and agriculture provides foundational knowledge of this vast and complex continent Ideally suited for multiple areas of classroom study this text offers an effective and flexible pedagogical framework Coverage of the entirety of Africa enables students to develop a cohesive portrait of the continent as a whole and identify the dynamism of its nations cultures and economies Engaging and accessible narrative strengthens comprehension while examples of historical and contemporary events increase student interest Innovative and unique Africa's Geography is an essential resource for cross disciplinary investigation of this fascinating part of the world

African Realism? Errol A. Henderson, 2015-03-19 African Realism explains Africa's international conflicts of the post colonial era through international relations theory It looks at the relationship between Africa's domestic and international conflicts as well as the impact of factors such as domestic legitimacy trade and regional economic institutions on African wars Further it examines the relevance of traditional realist assumptions e.g. balance of power the security dilemma to African international wars and how these factors are modified by the exigencies of Africa's domestic institutions such as neopatrimonialism and inverted legitimacy This study also addresses the inconsistencies and inaccuracies of international relations theory as it engages African international relations and especially its military history

African International Relations Mark W. DeLancey, 2019-03-13 African International Relations is a thoroughly revised and updated bibliography that contains annotated entries for international books and journal articles in the field of African international relations

A Political Economy of the Middle East Melani Cammett, 2018-03-22

A Political Economy of the Middle East is the most comprehensive analysis of developments in the political economy of the region over the past several decades examining the interaction of economic development processes state systems and policies and social actors in the Middle East

The fourth edition with new authors Melani Cammett and Ishac Diwan has been thoroughly revised with two new introductory chapters that provide an updated framework with which to understand and study the many changes in demography education labor markets urbanization water and agriculture and international labor migration in the recent years

The new edition also includes a new chapter that charts the political economy of the Gulf states and in particular the phenomenal growth of oil economies a new chapter on the rise of crony capitalism and increased coverage of the changes in civil society and social movements in the region including an exploration of the causes dynamics consequences and aftermath of the Arab uprisings

Jinadu, 2021-12-24

First published in 1986 Fanon In Search of the African Revolution is different from other books on Fanon in that it approaches him as both a political philosopher and political sociologist of the African experience

It suggests that Fanon's political writings be viewed in terms of his concern with how relations are structured in colonial and post colonial Africa and the implications of those structural arrangements for political conflict in Africa

Fanon's attempt to explain the pathologies and contradictions of African politics in terms of class and the historical processes that influence and constrain class political behavior is provocative and insightful

But the moral dimension that informs Fanon's theoretical perspectives is no less important if only because it attests to his strong advocacy of the need for revolutionary change as a condition for the restructuring of African political systems
