The Politics of Constructionism Irving Velody, Robin Williams, 1998-06-10 This broad ranging and clearly structured book critically overviews the many themes of social constructionism and its relevance to contemporary social and political issues It brings together leading international contributors from across the social sciences drawing on insights from psychology sociology politics philosophy cultural gender and science studies Major questions and topics explored in its critique and application of constructionist ideas include the theory and practice of scientific method the development of social and political policy the use of social science statistical methods self identity and the politics of collective identities and technological advances in reproductive medicine Social Constructionist Identity Politics and Literary Studies S. Gupta, 2007-01-10 This study presents a critique of social constructionist identity politics which is distinguished from specific identity based political positions from within and with social constructionist commitments Gupta examines the institutionalization of social constructionist identity politics in literary studies considering the notions of canonicity

Constructivism and Comparative Politics Daniel M. Green, 2002-02-27 This work presents an approach to the study of comparative politics that builds on the assumption that political actors and institutions operate within constructed communities of meaning which in turn interface with other such communities Constructivism and Comparative

Politics Richard T Green, 2016-09-16 This work presents an approach to the study of comparative politics that builds on the assumption that political actors and institutions operate within constructed communities of meaning which in turn interface with other such communities Water Politics and Political Culture Onur Oktem, 2015-10-19 This book presents an analysis of the main traits of the Turkish political culture and articulates some of the most important deeply embedded social qualifications of political life in Turkey It reveals that when water management is historically and socially shaped by heavily technical knowledge systems of engineering it becomes a particularly useful tool for various political interests The book analyses how Turkish freshwater management is socially constructed as both an engineering discourse and a paternalistic bureaucratic transaction Such a construction stands in stark contrast to the water management discourse of the European Water Framework Directive WFD the European Union s common water policy Of all the issues faced in Turkish water management none are as important and problematic as the issue of complying with European Union EU accession criteria Not only is water socially economically and environmentally important its water management is a useful prism through which the EU accession process can be viewed as a whole It showcases the complementarities and divergences between Turkish and EU bureaucratic constructs and value systems Tourism Recreation Research , 2006 The Oxford Handbook of Symbolic Interactionism Wayne H. Brekhus, Thomas DeGloma, William Ryan Force, 2023-12-22 The Oxford Handbook of Symbolic Interactionism features a diverse array of cutting edge scholarship in symbolic interactionism SI The scholars featured in this volume present new and evolving outlooks on foundational SI themes including the self and identity the interactive construction of meaning classical pragmatism interactionist research methods performance culture and subcultures cognition emotion organizations and institutions and social constructionism Interpretation and Method Dvora Yanow, Peregrine Schwartz-Shea, 2015-03-04 Exceptionally clear and well written chapters provide engaging discussions of the methods of accessing generating and analyzing social science data using methods ranging from reflexive historical analysis to critical ethnography Reflecting on their own research experiences the contributors offer an inside applied perspective on how research topics evidence and methods intertwine to produce knowledge in the social sciences

Integrating and Articulating Environments: A Challenge for Northern and Southern Europe F. Adaman, F. Goksen, J. Grolin, M. O'Brien, O. Seippel, E.U. Zenginobuz, 2015-03-14 A critical comparative exploration of the framing of environmental problems in Northern and Southern Europe The book addresses theoretical and empirical questions about environmental attitudes and behaviours politics and protest cultures and contexts Chaos of Disciplines Andrew Abbott, 2010-07-15 In this vital new study Andrew Abbott presents a fresh and daring analysis of the evolution and development of the social sciences Chaos of Disciplines reconsiders how knowledge actually changes and advances Challenging the accepted belief that social sciences are in a perpetual state of progress Abbott contends that disciplines instead cycle around an inevitable pattern of core principles New schools of thought then are less a reaction to an established order than they are a reinvention of fundamental concepts Chaos of Disciplines uses fractals to explain the patterns of disciplines and then applies them to key debates that surround the social sciences Abbott argues that knowledge in different disciplines is organized by common oppositions that function at any level of theoretical or methodological scale Opposing perspectives of thought and method then in fields ranging from history sociology and literature are to the contrary radically similar much like fractals they are each mutual reflections of their own distinctions Transgender Politics Jan Wickman, 2001 The Politics of Problem Definition David A. Rochefort, Roger W. Cobb, 1994 At the nexus of politics and policy development lies persistent conflict over where problems come from what they signify and based on the answers to those questions what kinds of solutions should be sought Policy researchers call this process problem definition Written for both scholars and students this book explains how and why social issues come to be defined in different ways how these definitions are expressed in the world of politics and what consequences these definitions have for government action and agenda setting dynamics The authors demonstrate in two theoretical chapters and seven provocative case studies how problem definition affects policymaking for high profile social issues like AIDS drugs and sexual harassment as well as for problems like traffic congestion plant closings agricultural tax benefits and air transportation By examining the way social problems are framed for political discussion the authors illuminate the unique impact of beliefs values ideas and language on the public policymaking process and its outcomes In so doing they establish a common vocabulary for the study of problem definition review and critique the insights of existing work on the topic and identify directions for future research New

Statesman, 1998 Compromised Goods Ruth Lessl Shively, 1997 Nietzsche or Aristotle Moral subjectivism or moral objectivism Faced with these stark alternatives more and more American political theorists and philosophers find themselves in the middle asserting that moral truth is neither objective fact nor subjective fiction but a social construction However understandable such a compromise is precisely that a compromising position Ruth Lessl Shively contends A powerful critique of this middle position her book makes a compelling argument for moral realism as the only workable answer to the real dilemmas of political theory and moral life The Racial Politics of Reproduction Elena Rebéca Gutiérrez, 1999

Cultural Politics of Everyday Life John Shotter, 1993 Argues that knowledge emerges from and is relevant to the everyday civil life of ordinary people rather than being couched in the writings of philosophers sociologists or other theorists Paper edition unseen 21 95 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR CSA Political Science and Government, 2004 Disability & the Politics of Education Susan Lynn Gabel, Scot Danforth, 2008 Disability and the Politics of Education An International Reader is a rich resource that deals comprehensively with the many aspects of the complex topic of disability studies in education For nearly two decades global attention has been given to education as a human right through global initiatives such as Education for All EFA and the Salamanca Statement Yet according to UNESCO reaching the goals of EFA remains one of the most daunting challenges facing the global community Today millions of the world's disabled children cannot obtain a basic childhood education particularly in countries with limited resources Even in the wealthiest countries many disabled children and youth are educationally segregated from the nondisabled particularly if they are labeled with significant cognitive impairment International agencies such as the United Nations and the World Bank have generated funds for educational development but unfortunately these funds are administered with the assumption that west is best thereby urging developing countries to mimic educational policies in the United States and the United Kingdom in order to prove their aid worthiness This McDonaldization of education reproduces the labeling resource allocation and social dynamics long criticized in disability studies The authors in this volume explore these subjects and other complexities of disability and the politics of education In doing so they demonstrate the importance and usefulness of international perspectives and comparative approaches The Cumulative Book Index, 1999 Social Constructionism in Housing Research Keith Jacobs, Jim Kemeny, Tony Manzi, 2004 By stressing the importance of subjectivity and interpretation social constructionism offers a different conception of reality from the traditional approach to housing policy analysis This book provides an up to date review of the social constructionist perspective and considers its philosophical basis It discusses how social problems are constructed and in turn how this informs policy making It is divided into two parts The first section is theoretical and discusses the variety of conceptual approaches utilised within the constructionist paradigm The second part provides a number of empirically based case studies from the UK and Australia to illustrate the different methodologies that form the social constructionist corpus The book also evaluates both the criticisms that have been made against the social constructionist perspective and the strengths and weaknesses of constructionist methods It therefore contributes to the development of a future research agenda for social constructionist research in housing and urban policy
