Roman Imperialism Paul J. Burton, 2019-05-13 Rome engaged in military and diplomatic expansionistic state behavior which we now describe as imperialism since well before the appearance of ancient sources describing this activity Over the course of at least 800 years the Romans established and maintained a Mediterranean wide empire from Spain to Syria and sometimes farther east and from the North Sea to North Africa How and why they did this is a perennial source of scholarly controversy Earlier debates over whether Rome was an aggressive or defensive imperial state have progressed to theoretically informed discussions of the extent to which system level or discursive pressures shaped the Roman Empire Roman imperialism studies now encompass such ancillary subfields as Roman frontier studies and Romanization

The Hellenistic World and the Coming of Rome Erich S. Gruen,1986-09-25 In this revisionist study of Roman imperialism in the Greek world Gruen considers the Hellenistic context within which Roman expansion took place The evidence discloses a preponderance of Greek rather than Roman ideas a noteworthy readiness on the part of Roman policymakers to adjust to Hellenistic practices rather than to impose a system of their own

Roman Imperialism Andrew Erskine,2010-05-28 The transformation of Rome from a small central Italian city state into the sole Mediterranean superpower has long proved fascinating and controversial At its height the Roman Empire extended from Britain in the North to Libya in the South and from Spain in the West to Syria in the East It has impressed not only by its extent but also by its longevity Andrew Erskine examines the course and nature of Roman expansion focusing on explanations ancient and modern the impact of Roman rule on the subject and the effect of empire on the imperial power All these topics have created a tremendous amount of discussion among scholars not least because the study of Roman imperialism has always been informed by contemporary perceptions of international power relations The book is divided into two halves Part I treats some of the main issues in modern debates about Roman imperialism while Part II offers a selection of the most important source material allowing readers to enter these debates themselves Roman Imperialism Tenney Frank,1914 Rome, Polybius, and the East

War Valerie M. Warrior,1996 A study into accounts of Rome s foreign policy surrounding an offensive against Philip V and Greece It re opens events leading up to the war and military diplomatic developments and interprets events in the narrative describing Rome s first major engagement with the Eastern Mediterranean The Practice of Rhetoric Debra

Hawhee,Vessela Valiavitcharska,2022-10-18 Rhetoric broadly conceived as the art of making things matter is both a practice and theory about that practice In recent decades scholars of rhetoric have turned to approaches that braid together poetics performance and philosophy into a practical art By practical art they mean methods tested in practice by trial and error with a goal of offering something useful and teachable This volume presents just such an account of rhetoric The account here does not turn away from theory but rather presumes and incorporates theoretical approaches offering a collection of principles assembled in the heat and trials of public practice The approaches ventured in this volume are inspired by the capacious conception of rhetoric put forth by historian of rhetoric Jeffrey Walker who is perhaps best known for stressing rhetoric s educational mission and its contributions to civic life The Practice of Rhetoric is organized into three sections designed to spotlight in turn the importance of poetics performance and philosophy in rhetorical practice The volume begins with poetics stressing the world making properties of that word in contexts ranging from mouse infested medieval fields to the threat of toxin ridden streams in the mid twentieth century Susan C Jarratt for instance probes the art of ekphrasis or vivid description and its capacity for rendering alternative futures Michele Kennerly explores a little studied linguistic predecessor to prose logos psilos or naked speech exposing the early rumblings of a separation between poetic and rhetorical texts even as it historicizes the idea of clothed or ornamented speech In an essay on the almost magical properties of writing Debra Hawhee considers the curious practice of people writing letters to animals in order to banish or punish them thereby casting the epistolary arts in a new light Part 2 moves to performance Vessela Valiavitcharska examines the intertwining of poetic rhythm and performance in Byzantine rhetorical education and how such practices underlie the very foundations of oratory Dale Martin Smith draws on the ancient stylistic theory of Dionysius of Halicarnassus along with the activist work of contemporary poets Amiri Baraka and Harmony Holiday to show how performance and persuasion unify rhetoric and poetics Most treatments of philosophy and rhetoric begin within a philosophical framework and remain there focusing on old tools like stasis and disputation Essays in part 3 break out of that mold by focusing on the utility and teachability of rhetorical principles in education Jeanne Fahnestock and Marie Secor update stasis a classical framework that encourages aspiring rhetors to ask after the nature of things their facts and their qualities as a way of locating an argument s position Mark Garrett Longaker probes the medieval practice of disputation in order to marshal a new argument about why exactly John Locke detested rhetoric and the longstanding opposition between science and rhetoric as modes of proof that has lasting implications for the way argument works today Ranging across centuries and contexts the essays collected here demonstrate the continued need to attend carefully to the co operation of descriptive language and normative reality conceptual vocabulary and material practice public speech and moral self shaping The volume promises to rekindle long standing conversations about the public world making practice of rhetoric thereby enlivening anew its civic mission
