Polykleitos, the Doryphoros, and Tradition Warren G. Moon,1995 Polykleitos the Doryphoros and Tradition displays an impressive range of approaches beginning with commentary on the artistic and philosophical antecedents that influenced Polykleitos own aesthetic as well as the role of contemporary Greek anatomical knowledge in his representation of the human form Many of the essays offer extended analysis and detailed illustration of his surviving sculptures later copies of his work and reflections of his style in sculpture paintings coins and other art in Greece Italy and Asia Minor Several essays offer an extended discussion of Polykleitos original bronze Doryphoros its pose its relation to other spearbearer sculptures and the fine Roman marble copy of it now at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts      Classical Archaeology Susan E. Alcock,Robin Osborne,2012-03-14 The fully revised second edition of this successful volume includes updates on the latest archaeological research in all chapters and two new essays on Greek and Roman art It retains its unique paired essay format as well as key contributions from leading archaeologists and historians of the classical world Second edition is updated and revised throughout showcasing the latest research and fresh theoretical approaches in classical archaeology Includes brand new essays on ancient Greek and Roman art in a modern context Designed to encourage critical thinking about the interpretation of ancient material culture and the role of modern perceptions in shaping the study of art and archaeology Features paired essays one covering the Greek world the other the Roman to stimulate a dialogue not only between the two ancient cultures but between scholars from different historiographic and methodological traditions Includes maps chronologies diagrams photographs and short editorial introductions to each chapter      Personal Styles in Greek Sculpture Όλγα Παλαγιά,J. J. Pollitt,Department of Classics, Yale University Staff,1998 The aim of this 1996 book is to identify and evaluate the distinctive styles of five important ancient Greek sculptors whose work is discussed by ancient writers Its underlying assumption is that the history of Greek sculpture was not simply governed by impersonal evolutionary forces but that like the sculpture of later periods it was shaped by the intuitions predilections and innovations of particular individuals The international group of authors whose essays appear here recognize that the problematical and fragmentary nature of the surviving evidence makes their task a difficult one. Nevertheless, by drawing upon the evidence of recent archaeological finds and by re-evaluating both the ancient literary sources and earlier scholarly literature, they expand our understanding of the role of personal styles in ancient Greek art.

Displaying the Ideals of Antiquity Johannes Siapkas, Lena Sjögren, 2013-08-29 Displaying the Ideals of Antiquity investigates the study and display of ancient sculpture from archaeological, art historical, and museum studies perspectives. Ancient sculptures not only give us knowledge about ancient Greek and Roman pasts but they also mediate ideals that inform modern perceptions of antiquity. This book analyzes how an art historical tradition establishes and preserves an idealized view of antiquity in classical archaeology and in museum exhibitions. The authors investigate how these ideals are kept alive today, an approach that often is neglected in studies on ancient reception. This book offers an international scope and illustrates how academic conceptual foundations influence museum exhibitions. This timely volume discusses contemporary museum exhibitions of ancient sculpture and clarifies how old discourses continue to affect museum exhibitions and conceptualizations of ancient sculptures. The authors analyze close to 100 museums around the world and demonstrate the ways in which ancient sculptures are mediated across Europe and the West.

Ravenna and the Traditions of Late Antique and Early Byzantine Craftsmanship Salvatore Cosentino, 2020-08-10 In the last twenty years, scholarship on late antique and early medieval Ravenna has resulted in a certain number of publications, mainly focused on the fields of architecture, mosaics, and archaeology. On the contrary, much less attention has been paid on labour, both manual and intellectual, as well as the structure of production and objects derived from manufacturing activities, despite the fact that Ravenna is the place which preserves the highest number of historical evidence among all centres of the late Roman Mediterranean. Its cultural heritage is vast and composite, ranging from papyri to inscriptions, from ivories to marbles, as well as luxury objects, pottery, and coins. Starting from concrete typologies of hand-manufactured goods existing in the Ravennate milieu, the book aims at exploring the multifaceted traditions of late antique and early Byzantine handicraft from the fourth to the eighth century AD. Its perspective is to pay attention more on patronage, social taste, acculturation, workers, and the economic industry of production, which supported the demand, circulation, and distribution of artefacts, than on the artistic evaluation of the objects themselves.

Body, Dress, and Identity in Ancient Greece Mireille M. Lee, 2015-01-12 This is the first general monograph on ancient Greek dress in English to be published in more than a century. By applying modern dress theory to the ancient evidence, this book reconstructs the social meanings attached to the dressed body in ancient Greece. Whereas many scholars have focused on individual aspects of ancient Greek dress from the perspectives of literary, visual, and archaeological sources, this volume synthesizes the diverse evidence and offers fresh insights into this essential aspect of ancient society.

The Oxford History of Western Art Martin Kemp, 2000 The Oxford History of Western Art is the new authority on the development of visual culture in the West over the last 2700 years, from the classical period to the end of the twentieth century O'HWA is an innovative and challenging reappraisal of how the history of art can be presented and understood. None of the currently available general histories of art offers the wealth of perspectives and cross-media references of this book. Through a carefully devised modular structure, readers are given insights not only into how and why works of art were created but also how works in different media relate to each other across time. Here, uniquely, is not the simple linear story of art but a rich series of stories told from varying viewpoints. The founding principle of the book has been to use carefully selected groupings of pictures to give readers a sense of the visual texture of the various periods and episodes covered. The 167 illustration groups, supported by explanatory text and picture captions, create a sequence of visual tours, not merely a procession of individually great works viewed in isolation but juxtapositions of significant images that powerfully convey a sense of the visual environments in which works of art need to be viewed in order to be understood and appreciated. The aim throughout has been to make the shape and nature of these visual presentations a stimulating and rewarding experience, allowing readers to become active participants in the process of interpretation and synthesis. Another key feature of the narrative is the redefinition of traditional period boundaries. Rather than relying on conventional labels such as Medieval, Renaissance, Baroque, etc., five major phases of significant historical change are established that unlock longer and more meaningful continuities: The art of classical antiquity from c. 600 BC to the fall of Rome in AD 410; The establishment of visual culture in Europe from 410 to 1527; the sack of papal Rome; European visual regimes from 1527 to 1770; The era of revolutions, 1770 to 1914; Modernism and after, 1914 to 2000. This new framework shows how the major religious and secular functions of art have been forged, sustained, transformed, revived, and revolutionized over the ages; how the institutions of Church and State have consistently aspired to make art in their own image; and how the rise of art history itself has come to provide the dominant conceptual framework within which artists create, patrons patronize, collectors collect, galleries exhibit, dealers deal, and art historians write. The text has been written by a team of 50 specialist authors working under the direction of Professor Martin Kemp, one of the UK's most distinguished art historians. Whilst bringing their own expertise and vision to their sections, each author was also asked to relate their text to a number of unifying themes and issues, including written evidence, physical contexts, patronage, viewing and reception techniques, gender and racial issues, centres and peripheries, media and condition, the notion of art, and current presentations. Though the coverage of topics focuses on European notions of art and their transplantation and transformation in North America, space is also given to cross-fertilizations with other traditions, including the art of Latin America, the Soviet Union, India, Africa, and Afro-Caribbean, Australia, and Canada. Professor Kemp and his team similarly deal generously with the applied arts and reproductive media, such as photography and prints. The result is a vibrant, vigorous, and revolutionary account of Western art, serving both as an inspirational introduction for the general reader and an authoritative source of reference and guidance for students.

Statues in Roman Society Peter Stewart, 2004-02-06 Statues are among the most familiar remnants of classical art. Yet their prominence in ancient society is often ignored In the Roman world statues were ubiquitous Whether they were displayed as public honours or memorials collected as works of art dedicated to deities venerated as gods or violated as symbols of a defeated political regime they were recognized individually and collectively as objects of enormous significance By analysing ancient texts and images Statues in Roman Society unravels the web of associations which surrounded Roman statues Addressing all categories of statuary together for the first time it illuminates them in ancient terms explaining expectations of what statues were or ought to be and describing the Romans uneasy relationship with the other population in their midst The Oxford Handbook of Greek and Roman Art and Architecture Clemente Marconi,2015 An innovative and up to date synopsis of the field of Greek and Roman Art and Architecture filling a genuine need in the literature

Ornament and Figure in Graeco-Roman Art Nikolaus Dietrich,Michael Squire,2018-03-19 How does decoration work What are the relations between figurative and ornamental modes And how do such modern western distinctions relate to other critical traditions While these questions have been much debated among art historians our book offers an ancient visual cultural perspective On the one hand we argue Greek and Roman materials have proved instrumental in shaping modern assumptions On the other hand those ideologies are fundamentally removed from ancient ideas an ancient perspective can therefore shed light on larger aesthetic debates about what images are or indeed what they should be This anthology of specially commissioned essays explores a variety of case studies both literary and art historical alike it discusses materials from across the ancient Mediterranean and from Geometric art all the way through to late antiquity the book also tackles questions of figure and ornament in relation to different media including painting free standing statues relief sculpture mosaics and architecture A particular feature of the volume lies in bringing together different national academic traditions building a bridge between formalist approaches and broader cultural historical perspectives A Companion to Ancient Aesthetics Pierre Destrée, Penelope Murray,2015-04-28 The first of its kind A Companion to Ancient Aesthetics presents a synoptic view of the arts which crosses traditional boundaries and explores the aesthetic experience of the ancients across a range of media oral aural visual and literary Investigates the many ways in which the arts were experienced and conceptualized in the ancient world Explores the aesthetic experience of the ancients across a range of media treating literary oral aural and visual arts together in a single volume Presents an integrated perspective on the major themes of ancient aesthetics which challenges traditional demarcations Raises questions about the similarities and differences between ancient and modern ways of thinking about the place of art in society Handbook of Greek Sculpture Olga Palagia,2019-07-22 The Handbook of Greek Sculpture aims to provide a detailed examination of current research and directions in the field Bringing together an international cast of contributors from Greece Italy France Great Britain Germany and the United States the volume incorporates new areas of research such as the sculptures of Messene and Macedonia sculpture in Roman Greece and the contribution of Greek sculptors in Rome as well as important aspects of Greek sculpture like techniques and patronage The written sources literary and epigraphical are explored in dedicated chapters as are function and iconography and the reception of Greek sculpture in modern Europe Inspired by recent exhibitions on Lysippos and Praxiteles the book also revisits the style and the personal contributions of the great masters

Artwashing the Past David W.J. Gill,2024-10-01 Artwashing the Past Context Matters contributes to the wider discussion about the appropriate due diligence process that should be conducted prior to the acquisition of cultural objects The chapters were written as museums in Europe and North America were facing a series of claims on recently acquired objects in their collections in the light of the photographic dossiers that had been seized from dealers in Switzerland and Greece They engage with some of the recent debates over cultural property that include the Ka Ka Nefer mummy mask currently in the St Louis Art Museum and the Leutwitz Apollo acquired by the Cleveland Museum of Art Two of the essays reflect on the recent and controversial metal detecting finds in England the so called Crosby Garrett helmet and the Lenborough Hoard

Classics in Progress T. P. Wiseman,Timothy Peter Wiseman,2006-01-26 The study of Greco Roman civilisation is as exciting and innovative today as it has ever been This intriguing collection of essays by contemporary classicists reveals new discoveries new interpretations and new ways of exploring the experiences of the ancient world Through one and a half millennia of literature politics philosophy law religion and art the classical world formed the origin of western culture and thought This book emphasises the many ways in which it continues to engage with contemporary life Offering a wide variety of authorial style the chapters range in subject matter from contemporary poets exploitation of Greek and Latin authors via newly discovered literary texts and art works to modern arguments about ancient democracy and slavery and close readings of the great poets and philosophers of antiquity This engaging book reflects the current rejuvenation of classical studies and will fascinate anyone with an interest in western history

Regional Schools in Hellenistic Sculpture Olga Palagia,2017-02-28 Essays describing recent research and new discoveries of Hellenistic sculpture based on papers presented at an international conference at the American School of Classical Studies at Athens in 1996

A New History of the Humanities Rens Bod,2013 Offers the first overarching history of the humanities from Antiquity to the present

Polygnotos and Vase Painting in Classical Athens Susan B. Matheson,1995 Matheson provides the first comprehensive chronology for Polygnotos s own works and then analyzes the distinctive evolving Polygnotan style first isolated by Sir John Beazley comparing this style to that of contemporary Athenian workshops and demonstrating its seminal influence on the later vase painting of southern Italy
