Polynesian Peasants and Proletarians Ben R. Finney, 1973-01-01      Tahiti Ben R. Finney, 2017-07-12 The Polynesian island of Tahiti is in the imagination an island paradise an idyllic world inhabited by noble savages carefree and uncomplicated Tahiti separates myth from reality Finney describes and analyzes the forces of change that have confronted Tahiti and its inhabitants in the modern world As the author notes in the introduction Neither isolation in the South Pacific nor the romantic aura invested in them by philosophers and escapists of the West has saved Tahitians from intense involvement in the twin processes of industrialization and urbanization This study of Tahitian life concentrates upon two different communities One is a peasant community moving from subsistence farming to an increased reliance upon the production of cash crops The other is a proletarian community whose members were at the time abandoning farming and fishing in favor of wage labor Finney compares the two contemporaneous communities enabling him to define different but interrelated variables of the economic and social change These are responsible for Tahiti's evolution from a subsistence oriented peasant life to a life based increasingly on cash crops and wage labor What happens to family life work patterns land use and other traditional modes of social organization when a small underdeveloped society is confronted with economic forces largely beyond its control In dealing with this question as it applies to Tahiti Finney makes an important contribution to our understanding of how modernization affects a society once thought to be outside the boundaries of the modern world A major study in English of the socio economic forces at work in Tahiti this book provides the reader with both an understanding of the changing nature of Tahitian life and the reactions of Tahitians to such changes      Polynesian

Out in Theory Ellen Lewin,William Leap,2002-07-29 A companion volume to Lewin and Leap s Out in the field this study presents lesbian and gay anthropology as a distinct specialization and addresses the theoretical issues that define the emerging field The essays detail the scholarly personal and political factors that affected the emergence of lesbian and gay anthropology they define the lesbian and gay anthropology s scope and subject matter and consider how feminist anthropology helped define the field and how transgendered experience queer theory race and class studies are promoting a new direction of inquiry

New Mana Matt Tomlinson,Ty P. K?wika Tengan,2016-04-13 Mana a term denoting spiritual power is found in many Pacific Islands languages In recent decades the term has been taken up in New Age movements and online fantasy gaming In this book 16 contributors examine mana through ethnographic linguistic and historical lenses to understand its transformations in past and present The authors consider a range of contexts including Indigenous sovereignty movements Christian missions and Bible translations the commodification of cultural heritage and the dynamics of diaspora Their investigations move across diverse island groups Papua New Guinea Solomon Islands Vanuatu Fiji Tonga Samoa Hawai i and French Polynesia and into Australia North America and even cyberspace A key insight that the volume develops is that mana can be analysed most productively by paying close attention to its ethical and aesthetic dimensions Since the late nineteenth century mana has been an object of intense scholarly interest Writers in many fields including anthropology linguistics history religion philosophy and missiology have long debated how the term should best be understood The authors in this volume review mana s complex intellectual history but also describe the remarkable transformations going on in the present day as scholars activists church leaders artists and entrepreneurs take up mana in new ways

Fishman, 2011-10-10 The Contributions to the Sociology of Language series features publications dealing with sociolinguistic theory methods findings and applications It addresses the study of language in society in its broadest sense as a truly international and interdisciplinary field in which various approaches theoretical and empirical supplement and complement each other The series invites the attention of scholars interested in language in society from a broad range of disciplines anthropology education history linguistics political science and sociology To discuss your book idea or submit a proposal please contact Natalie Fecher     France and the South Pacific since 1940 Robert Aldrich, 1993-09-01 For some Tahiti New Caledonia and Wallis and Futuna are idyllic tropical islands with a French flavour while for others they represent continuing French colonialism thwarted independence movements and nuclear testing This book looks at the realities of the French territories in Oceania and the former Franco British condominium of the New Hebrides now Vanuatu as well as changing French policy in the region This study is based on published sources as well as archival material and interviews and is a sequel to the highly praised The French Presence in the South Pacific 1842 1940     Tahiti Nui Colin W. Newbury, 2019-03-31 Tahiti Nui is an account of the survival of a Polynesian society in the face of successive settlements of missionaries traders and administrators Beginning with the first explorers and Captain Cook's scientific observations at Point Venus Dr Newbury has separated the various strands interwoven in the fabric of Tahitian society tracing their development and showing how they interacted at successive stages Missionaries and foreign traders administrators and Polynesians planters and immigrant Chinese have all contributed to the distinctive flavor of French Polynesia with Tahiti and Tahitians becoming increasingly dominant not just as the focus of the French administration in Papeete but in the social networks and trading patterns that have evolved     Vunamami Richard F. Salisbury, 2024-06-28 Vunamami attempts to isolate the dynamic that produces economic development by analyzing the interplay of forces over a ninety year period in a village in the Tolai area of New Guinea Theories that stress the importance of external forces in producing economic development or contrast traditional conservatism with innovative modernization view history through the eyes of outsiders and misconstrue the nature of traditional society This outside view sees change as a result of external pressures the local view regards outsiders only as triggers for processes of internal development political initiatives and the adaptation of technical innovations to local conditions spurred by political entrepreneurs and technological innovators in the community Richard F Salisbury argues that without internal changes technical innovations are uneconomical and destined to fail Vunamami is optimistic about the potentialities of internal social change for producing economic development without foreign aid This title is part of UC Press

s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1970
