Southern Appalachian Storytellers Sandra Gerrell Kelley, 2014-01-10 To be from Appalachia to be at home there and to love it passionately informs the narratives of each of the sixteen storytellers featured in this work Their stories are rich in the lore of the past deeply influenced by family especially their grandparents and the ancient mountains they saw every day of their lives as they were growing up

Southern Mountain Music Wayne Erbsen, 2025-01-31 This work represents a lifetime of research by Wayne Erbsen professor of old time and bluegrass music at the University of North Carolina at Asheville who interviewed many legendary figures in Appalachian music Often the first and only scholar to ever collect their stories he provides in this book an indispensable history of bluegrass and old time music in Appalachia for generations to come The book begins with stories featuring many pioneers of old time and bluegrass music Next are chapters on brother duets from the 1930s legendary banjo pickers and fiddle players plus tales of 19th century songwriters whose songs still populate bluegrass music Also covered are wide ranging and whimsical topics such as cowboys in bluegrass music Charlie Cline s powerful snoring a near encounter with Bigfoot and Hoss Cartwright s hat

Melungeon Portraits Tamara L. Stachowicz, 2018-04-04 At a time when concepts of racial and ethnic identity increasingly define how we see ourselves and others the ancestry of Melungeons a Central Appalachian multiracial group believed to be of Native American African and European origins remains controversial Who is Melungeon how do we know and what does that mean In a series of interviews with individuals who claim Melungeon heritage the author finds common threads that point to shared history appearance and values and explores how we decide who we are and what kind of proof we need

Community and Change in the North Carolina Mountains , 2006-05-02 Oral history and memoirs preserve much more than a single event They record information about a time and a particular way of life Buying a loaf of bread for a dime and a 25 pound bag of flour for a dollar walking 9 1 2 miles in 5 hours watching the Cove Creek gym and several school buses go up in flames these are just a few of the tales related in this collection of oral and written histories From boating to finding a first job from riding a pony to school to joining the Navy this book contains dozens of memories gathered from the residents of western Watauga County North Carolina Concentrating primarily on the decades of the 1930s 1940s and 1950s these stories focus on the elements of everyday life in a mountain community They deal with both traditional rural activities such as berry picking soap making trading and bartering and universal experiences such as school days and dating The book includes a special section on the war experiences of Watauga County residents both at home and overseas Contemporary photographs and an index are included Lost Cove, North Carolina Christy A. Smith, 2021-12-01

Located just seconds from the winding Tennessee border the remote mountain settlement of Lost Cove North Carolina was once described as where the moonshiner frolics unmolested Today Lost Cove is a ghost town accessible mainly to hikers hoping to catch a glimpse of the desolate settlement In this first historically comprehensive book on Lost Cove the author paints a portrait of an isolated yet thriving settlement that survived for almost one hundred years From its founding before the Civil War to the town s ultimate decline Lost Cove s history is an in depth account of family life and kinship in isolation The author explores historically relevant interviews and genealogical findings from railroad documents old newspaper articles church records and deeds Also included are oral histories that provide authentic conversational accounts from families in the cove The Brown Mountain Lights Wade Edward Speer, 2017-03-21 Mysterious nighttime lights near Brown Mountain in North Carolina s Pisgah National Forest have intrigued locals and visitors for more than a century The result of a three year investigation this book identifies both manmade and natural light sources including some unexpected ones behind North Carolina s most famous ghost story History science and human nature are each found to play a role in the understanding and interpretation of the lights people see Appalachian Fiddler Albert Hash Malcolm L. Smith, Edwin

Lacy, 2020-04-03 World class luthier and renowned guitarist Wayne Henderson calls Albert Hash a real folk hero A virtuoso fiddler from the Blue Ridge Hash built more than 300 fiddles in his lifetime recorded numerous times with a variety of bands and inspired countless instrument makers and musicians in the mountains of rural Southwest Virginia near the North Carolina border His biography is the story of a resourceful humble man who dedicated his life to his art community and Appalachian musical heritage Southern West Virginia and the Struggle for Modernity Christopher

Dorsey, 2011-07-29 This work addresses how southern West Virginia s complex and often chaotic history still impacts key aspects of modern day life for Mountaineers At its center are fundamental elements of late 19th and early 20th century Appalachian existence such as the predominance of subsistence farming the coming of the Industrial Revolution the rise of company towns growing coal company influence and the resultant expansion of political corruption It examines how the region s Appalachian culture and identity have adapted to and been affected by these factors as well as how stereotypical perceptions held by those outside the region have created both opportunities and barriers to modernization for southern

West Virginians Dwight Diller Lewis M. Stern, 2016-05-03 Dwight Hamilton Diller is a musician from West Virginia devoted to traditional Appalachian fiddle and banjo music and a seminary trained minister steeped in local Christian traditions For the past 40 years he has worked to preserve archaic fiddle and banjo tunes teaching his percussive primitively rhythmic style to small groups in marathon banjo workshops This book tells of Diller s life and music his personal challenges and his decades of teaching an elusive musical form D.D. Dougherty, Lillie Dougherty and the Early Years of Appalachian State Doris Perry Stam, 2024-09-23 The 125 year history of Appalachian State University rests on the ambitious yet selfless dream of empowering impoverished mountain families through education Dauphin Disco Dougherty his wife Lillie Shull Dougherty and his bachelor brother Blanford Barnard Dougherty founded a small semi private high school in 1899 at great personal cost and would only be able to sustain its growth to a state teacher s college through their fortitude of character and commitment Drawing extensively on primary sources some of which have appeared in no previous book this history presents the first 30 years of the university s life and background With over 100 historic images and dozens of first hand accounts and interviews the text uncovers forgotten foundations and fascinating personal details of the school s founders bringing the first 30 years of App State to life A Hospital for Ashe County Janet C. Pittard, 2019-04-18 When Ashe County Memorial Hospital opened in November 1941 it was the realization of a dream for the poor sparsely populated county in the mountains of northwestern North Carolina Building a hospital is a major undertaking for any community at any time Accomplishing this in the waning days of the Great Depression and on the brink of World War II while scant local resources were taxed by catastrophic floods and severe snows was a remarkable feat of community organization This is the story of the generations of supporters doctors nurses emergency personnel and others whose lives are interwoven with regional health care and the planning building and operation of the new Ashe Memorial Hospital This legacy brought to life through 114 photographs and personal interviews with 97 individuals traces the development of health care in a remote Appalachian community from the days of folk remedies and midwives to horseback doctors and early infirmaries to the technological advances and outreach efforts of today s Ashe Memorial Hospital Junaluska Susan E. Keefe, from the Junaluska Heritage Association, 2020-06-26 Junaluska is one of the oldest African American communities in western North Carolina and one of the few surviving today After Emancipation many former slaves in Watauga County became sharecroppers were allowed to clear land and to keep a portion or bought property outright all in the segregated neighborhood on the hill overlooking the town of Boone North Carolina Land and home ownership have been crucial to the survival of this community whose residents are closely interconnected as extended families and neighbors Missionized by white Krimmer Mennonites in the early twentieth century their church is one of a handful of African American Mennonite Brethren churches in the United States and it provides one of the few avenues for leadership in the local black community Susan Keefe has worked closely with members of the community in editing this book which is based on three decades of participatory research These life history narratives adapted from interviews with residents born between 1885 and 1993 offer a people s history of the black experience in the southern mountains Their stories provide a unique glimpse into the lives of African Americans in Appalachia during the 20th century and a community determined to survive through the next capture the reader's attention by what they don't say The Rhetoric of Appalachian Identity Todd Snyder, 2014-07-08

In this work the various ways that social economic and cultural factors influence the identities and educational aspirations of rural working class Appalachian learners are explored. The objectives are to highlight the cultural obstacles that impact the intellectual development of such students and to address how these cultural roadblocks make transitioning into college difficult. Throughout the book the author draws upon his personal experiences as a first generation college student from a small coalmining town in rural West Virginia. Both scholarly and personal the book blends critical theory, ethnographic research, and personal narrative to demonstrate how family work histories and community expectations both shape and limit the academic goals of potential Appalachian college students.
