Ecclesiology Derek Brown, 2024-02-06 In American Christian Programmed Quaker Ecclesiology Derek Brown argues that American Christian Programmed Quakerism has inherited a practical and pragmatic ecclesiology at the expense of an ontological understanding of the church Inspired by the work of Gerben Heitink Brown proposes a normative deductive ontological ecclesiology based on the biblical concept of koinonia which would act as a foundational model for future confessional empirical and practical efforts To help form the proposed ecclesiology Brown explores the ecclesiological views of George Fox and Robert Barclay the adoption of the pastoral system and the emergence of the Evangelical Friends Church The ecclesiological writings of Miroslav Volf Wolfhart Pannenberg Hans K ng Jennifer Buck and C Wess Daniels are also surveyed Faith Gerrit Immink, 2005 Addressing faith as it is lived rather than as a system of doctrine F Gerrit Immink emphasizes that having faith means more than assenting to certain opinions about God it involves a dynamic relationship or dialogue with God As he investigates the practice of faith Immink holds together the poles of divine activity and human experience external Word and indwelling Spirit At its heart this book is about God How can faithful people speak about God and understand God s presence Well versed in both philosophical analysis and the theological tradition the author argues for an understanding of God as a speaking acting person genuinely experienced in faith In so doing he issues a compelling plea to reevaluate the theoretical foundations of practical theology Applying his work particularly to the theories of preaching and pastoral care Immink brings to bear insights garnered from years as an academic theologian as the dean of a theological seminary and as a minister Scholars ministers and seminary students alike will benefit from his careful reflections on the Christian life of faith The Practice of Prophecy Li Ming Dennis Lum, 2018-03-26 The charisma of prophecy is found throughout the history of the global Pentecostal movement Within the movement prophecy is seen as the communication of an inspired spontaneous revelation bringing edification to the faith community Despite its prevalence academic research has mostly focused on the biblical theological aspect neglecting the actual contemporary practice This book addresses this gap with a study on the practice of prophecy within the Assemblies of God of Singapore The book investigates the nature purpose and significance of the phenomenon It also identifies theological variables that are correlated with its practice and explicates these relationships The investigation employs the empirical theological method of Johannes van der Ven utilizing both a qualitative and a quantitative study The results provide a rich description of the actual reception delivery and judging of prophecy Significant findings include relationships between prophecy and courage love personality types prayer types and evangelism

The Church and the Crisis of Community Theresa F. Latini, 2011 Contemporary society is in crisis its structures broken and fragmented and its people overstimulated overstressed and thirsty for true communion with the sacred and with one another Yet although more than eighty five percent of congregations in the United States conduct small group ministry too many of these groups begin with no clear sense of purpose structure or spiritual focus and end by veering away from Christian tradition and unknowingly settling for shallow versions of popular Christianity In The Church and the Crisis of Community Theresa Latini lays out both a theoretical groundwork and a practical guideline for successful small group ministry Examining the latest sociological research and the real life practices of small groups in six congregations she shows how well developed groups those with mission statements leadership training and solid organizational structure can be a truly effective tool in the church's work of transforming broken and shallow forms of community into life giving life sustaining relationships with God and others
