Many young idealists after a few failures burn out and return to status quo lives Not so with the seven radicals in this book who met in an interracial house church and intentional community on Chicago s West Side during the civil rights era Here you will make the acquaintance of a Church of the Brethren pastoral couple who tried to bring communal life to the black ghetto a fashionable socialite who trashed her curlers and joined the simple life an elite Stanford graduate who cast his lot with a bus full of black teens on an epic ride to Washington DC to hear MLK s I Have a Dream speech two ethnic Mennonite women who became community leaders and elders during a male dominated era and a painfully shy geek awakened to the traumas of racism by five days in the Albany Georgia jail Now in their seventies eighties and nineties these veterans of community witness to the possibility of radical life conversions engagement with the hard slow work of racial reconciliation that learns from mistakes and does not quit This book concludes with the invitation to the joyful path of becoming who God made us to be saints Literary Digest: a Repository of Contemporaneous Thought and Research as Presented in the Periodical Literature of the World Edward Jewitt Wheeler,Isaac Kaufman Funk,William Seaver Woods,1902 The History of a Modern Millennial Movement Jane Shaw,Philip Lockley,2017-05-30 A feverish expectation of the end of the world seems an unlikely accompaniment to middle class respectability But it was precisely her interest in millennial thinking that led Jane Shaw to a group of genteel terraced townhouses in the English county town of Bedford Inside their unassuming grey brick exteriors Shaw found something extraordinary For here within the Ark lived two members of the Panacea Society last survivors of the remaining Southcottian prophetic communities in Britain And these individuals were the heirs to a rich archive charting not just their own apocalyptic sect but also the histories of the many groups and their leaders who from the early nineteenth century onwards had followed the beliefs of the self styled prophetess and prospective mother of the Messiah Shiloh Joanna Southcott who died in 1814 Placing its subjects in a global context this is the first book to explore the religious thinking of all the Southcottians It reveals a transnational movement with striking and innovative ideas not just about prophecy and the coming apocalypse but also about politics gender class and authority The volume will sell to scholars and students of religion and cultural studies as well as social history The Tatler and the Guardian Sir Richard Steele,1880
