The Letters of Martin Buber, Martin Buber, 2013-09-04. Edited by Professor Nahum N. Glatzer and Paul Mendes-Flohr. No matter how brilliant it may be, the human intellect that wishes to keep to a plane above the events of the day is not really alive, wrote Martin Buber in 1932. The correspondence of Martin Buber reveals a personality passionately involved in all the cultural and political events of his day. Drawn from the three-volume German edition of his correspondence, this collection includes letters both to and from the leading personalities of his day: Albert Einstein and Albert Schweitzer, Hermann Hesse, Franz Kafka, and Stefan Zweig. Theodor Herzl, Chaim Weizmann, David Ben-Gurion, S. Y. Agnon, Gershom Scholem, and Franz Rosenzweig. These exchanges capture the dynamics of seven decades of lived history reflected through the eyes of a man who was the conscience of his generation. One of the leading spiritual thinkers of the twentieth century, Buber is best known for his work of religious existentialism, I and Thou. A prime mover in the German Jewish renaissance of the 1920s, he taught comparative religion and Jewish ethics at the University of Frankfurt. Fleeing the Nazis in 1938, Buber made his home in Jerusalem, where he taught social philosophy at the Hebrew University. As resident sage of Jerusalem, he developed an international reputation and following and carried on a vigorous correspondence on social, political, and religious issues until the end of his life. Included in this collection are Buber's exchanges with many Americans in the latter part of his life: Will Herberg, Walter Kaufmann, Maurice Friedman, Malcolm Diamond, and other individuals who sought his advice and guidance. In the voices of these letters, a full-blooded portrait emerges of a towering intellect ever striving to live up to philosophy of social engagement.

Martin Buber's Life and Work, Maurice S. Friedman, 1981. Excerpt from Martin Buber: The Life of Dialogue. This book is the product of a dialogue: a dialogue first with the works of Martin Buber and later with Martin Buber himself. The influence of Buber's thought has steadily spread throughout the last fifty years until today Buber is recognized throughout the world as occupying a position in the foremost ranks of contemporary philosophers, theologians, and scholars. What has made such men as Hermann Hesse and Reinhold Niebuhr speak of Martin Buber as one of the few wise men living on the earth today, however, is not only his eminence as a thinker but also his concern with the lived, concrete, everyday reality which he takes up into his imagining and bears as his responsibility. Buber's eightieth birthday on February 8, 1958, was celebrated all over the world. For Martin Buber is one of the truly universal men of our time. More than any other person in the modern world, said the Protestant theologian H. Richard Niebuhr at one such celebration, more even than Kierkegaard, Martin Buber has been for me and for many of my companions the prophet of the soul and the witness to that Buber one of the twentieth century's most distinguished and creative thinkers famously argued that the fundamental fact of human existence is person with person and that practicing genuine dialogue is necessary for anyone who wishes to become authentically human. This book seeks to unleash and reassemble the core elements for practicing dialogue: turning and addressing and then listening and responding. Despite what many say, the innermost growth of the self does not come in relation to one's self. Rather, attaining one's authentic human existence, one's innate self-realization emerges again and again through genuine dialogue through participatory consciousness. We become authentically human in and through our relationships with others. Here's the point: instead of having dialogues, human beings mutually become dialogue with others. Individual human beings in dialogue with one another become memorable mutualities found nowhere else, opening out into the world.
